

PRESIDENT'S YACHT

Mayflower Sinks Lumber Schooner in Collision

Crew of Schooner Saved and Taken on the Mayflower—The President Much Concerned Over the Accident But Glad No Lives Were Lost

NEWPORT, R. I., July 22.—The president's yacht Mayflower collided with a lumber laden schooner this morning and badly crippled her. The Mayflower sustained but slight damage. The crew of the schooner were quickly taken on board the Mayflower's boat and several of them had time to bring along a few of their personal effects. The schooner despite her cargo of spruce sank as the last man was leaving her. Those in charge of the launch made sure that they had rescued everyone on board and then pulled back to the Mayflower.

The schooner proved to be the Menawa owned by C. G. Pendleton of Isleboro, Me., bound from Machias to New York with lumber.

She was 200 tons burden net and lull in Greenport, N. Y., in 1864. An examination of the forward part of the Mayflower showed that the bowsprit had been carried away and that one of the anchors was missing. The yacht, however, sustained no other damage and as soon as the boat with her occupants had been hoisted on board she proceeded to Newport. The collision and rescue delayed the Mayflower about half an hour.

The crew of the Menawa were made comfortable on board of the Mayflower and seemed somewhat ill at ease on finding themselves unbidden but welcome guests on board the president's yacht. They were summoned aft as soon as the president had dressed and were personally presented to the chief magistrate in the sumptuous cabin of the yacht. The president expressed great concern regarding the accident, his regret of the loss of their vessel and his gratitude at the rescue without loss of life.

The crew of the Menawa will be sent to their homes in Maine at the expense of the government.

BLACK HAND CHIEF

Was Shot to Death in His Wine Shop

NEW YORK, July 22.—A wealthy Italian wine merchant, known under several names, and as to whose business has arisen a question, as to whether he was a leader of the Black Hand, or a peaceful importer of Italian wines at No. 28 Monroe street, was shot to death yesterday afternoon, under circumstances which point either to a fellow suitor, or to a disgruntled Black Hand follower, as the author of the deed.

Francisco Crimi Renaldi is given as the correct name of the dead man by an intimate friend who declared that Renaldi has been a leader of various secret societies both in America and in Sicily.

No one has yet been found by the police who will admit having seen the shooting, which took place in the wine shop conducted by the victim, but three suspects have been taken into custody, and are held at the Madison street station as material witnesses.

Two stories have been told to the police about the killing. Both are being investigated.

One is to the effect that Renaldi's daughter, Jennie, a pretty sixteen year old girl, was courted by Alfredo Ventinglino, who was driven out of the house a few days ago by the father, who promptly sent his daughter to visit an uncle in Boston, to break up the affair.

The other story relates that the dead man, being a leader of the Black Hand, was continually embroiled in altercations with jealous younger leaders, one of whom had an open fight with him on Monday last.

The dead man's widow told of the dismissed suitor, and furnished the police with a description of him.

Because of the fear in which the Black Hand is held, no one could be found to substantiate the other story to the police, but among themselves the neighbors of the dead man told of his past activities both in this country and in his native land, where he had been variously known as Francis Crimi, Francis Crimi, Crimi Renaldi and Francis Crimi Renaldi, and where he had served thirteen years in prison on account of his secret society activities.

STOLE BUILDING

Thieves Were Bold and Successful

Police Are Looking for Men Who Removed Building and Screen Bins Belonging to Street Department—Charlie Morse Joins in the Hunt

Once upon a time ex-policeman Commissioner Frank Dow was quoted as saying that a policeman couldn't see a load of hay and his alleged statement was given some support last night when thieves, or alleged thieves, stole a building and bolted screen bins from the corner of Moody and Riverside streets. It was a two-horse job but the ones engaged got away with it all right.

It was the building that covered the stone crusher, engine and other paraphernalia belonging to the street department and part of which had been removed to the city barn, yesterday, under direction of Supt. Morse.

Mr. Morse was careful to strip the engine of brass and other connections because he knew there were thieves who made a specialty of brass and other fixtures. It did not occur to him that the building or the screening bins were in danger and when he went there this morning and found that they were gone his surprise and chagrin can better be imagined than described.

The building he did not care so much about as it was a cheap rough structure of ordinary spruce boards, but the screening bins were made to order and were valued by Mr. Morse at $100. The bins were securely bolted together and the men who did the trick had of necessity to use strong tools in tearing them apart.

That the building and bins could have been removed without police detection or interference seemed almost too ridiculous to believe and Charlie is wondering what kind of a story the "movers" told the cops. He says that the lumber in the building and the bins would make at least five two-horse loads and "surely," he says, "the police must have seen the men at work."

Immediately upon discovering what had taken place, Mr. Morse notified the police and uniformed and ununiformed sleuths on foot and by team are looking for the men who walked away in the night with the building and bins. Mr. Morse said today that he would join in the hunt himself.

ASSAULT CASE

Young Man Was Accused by Officer Palmer

Trial in Police Court Today—Witnesses for Defence Testified That Officer Palmer Clubbed the Prisoner While the Latter Was Handcuffed

The case of John F. Sullivan, charged with drunkenness and assaulting Patrolman George B. Palmer, was heard in police court this morning before Judge Pickman and it proved to be one of the most interesting cases heard in the local court room for a long time.

The case grew out of trouble which occurred in Tilden street on the morning of the Fourth of July when Palmer placed Sullivan under arrest alleging that he was drunk. According to the officer Sullivan resisted arrest and it was necessary to club him, the result being that Sullivan's head was opened in two different places.

Several police officers testified to Sullivan's condition, all claiming that he was intoxicated at the time he reached the police station.

John McMahon, who is over six feet in his stocking feet, and who aspires to become a member of the police force, testified for the government but counsel for defense gave his testimony an awful racking.

Patrolman George B. Palmer, was the first witness called and he testified in part as follows: "On the morning of July 4th, about 3.40 o'clock while passing through Tilden street I saw Sullivan and two companions asleep on a doorstep. I awoke his friends, but they were unable to arouse him. I asked them if they would wake him up and they tried to do so but without success. I then pulled him up off the side of the head, I don't know whether he was awake at the time he struck at me, neither do I know whether or not he knew who I was at the time he struck me. After striking me he aimed several other blows at me and said he could lick two like me."

there were no marks or bruises on his person to show where the blows had been struck.

Witness said Sullivan was drunk and when asked what the indications of drunkenness were said that his breath smelled of liquor, his conversation was that of a drunken man, and he fought like an intoxicated man, and the expression of his eyes indicated drunkenness.

WAGON OFFICER. Patrolman Swannick testified that he was on the patrol wagon on the morning in question and went to Tilden street for Sullivan.

Witness said the young man was very drunk and abusive, and tried to kick Officer Palmer. He asked Sullivan what he had been drinking to get into such a condition and Sullivan said he had not drunk anything for three or four months, but he broke out the day before. When asked why he had tried to assault Officer Palmer, Sullivan said he was so drunk that he did not know what he was doing.

On cross-examination Patrolman Swannick said that Sullivan was staggering and did not think that even two blows on the head from a club would cause him to stagger.

KEEPEE MCINTEE. Keeper McIntee was at the booking desk on the morning in question and said that Sullivan was very drunk and boisterous and acted so all the time.

Witness said that Sullivan gave a name and address before being asked to do so, and that the name and address given were wrong.

One of the circumstances that caused the keeper to believe he was drunk was that the man was shouting at the top of his voice. Witness was unable to say whether or not Sullivan was shouting for a doctor.

CAPT. KEW. Capt. William M. Kew testified that he saw Sullivan about 6.30 o'clock on the morning of the 4th. He saw the injury on Sullivan's head but the latter made no request for a physician. Witness then called Dr. Smith. The captain saw two wounds on the head that were open and bleeding and he saw the doctor wash the blood off and then he ought to have a stitch take him the wounds, but he said he would not have it done.

KEEPEE MCQUADE. Keeper McQuade testified that he went on duty at 6 o'clock on the 4th of July. About eight o'clock Dr. Smith called and as a result of what the doctor said I took him to Sullivan's cell and said he ought to have his head attended to. Sullivan said: "This is good enough for me. I will not have anything done to my head." Sullivan allowed Dr. Smith to examine his head. Sullivan refused to submit to treatment. Sullivan was insolent, but did not request that his own physician be called.

Mr. Mahoney called Sullivan out at 9.20 o'clock. After being called Sullivan had a handkerchief covered with blood on the top of his head, and his shirt and coat were on his arm. I told him to take the handkerchief off his head and put his shirt and coat on or I would not allow him to be bailed. He then complied with my request.

MR. FOWLER TESTIFIED. A Mr. Fowler testified to seeing Patrolman Palmer holding Sullivan down. He heard the officer ask some of the bystanders to go to the box and telephone for a wagon, but no one would go. He then saw me and asked me to telephone to the station and I did so.

JOHN McMAHON. John W. McMahon saw Sullivan at two o'clock and again at 5.45 o'clock and said that the latter was drunk. I heard Sullivan say to a fellow from Providence who was with him, "When are we going to have a drink?" and they then went around the corner and had a drink.

"Didn't you come into my office the next day?" asked Lawyer Hogan.

"Didn't I have a talk with you?"

"A little, not much."

"Didn't you say this man wasn't drunk?"

"I told you he was not drunk—I said he was not drunk at 8 o'clock."

"Didn't you tell me that this man was as sober as you were?"

"No sir."

"Sullivan went home with your sister that morning did he not?"

"Yes sir."

"And you allowed your sister to go home with a drunken man?"

"Well, I'm not her brother."

"Since you were in my office you had a talk with Patrolman Palmer?"

"Yes, sir."

"You are a candidate for the police force, are you not?"

"Yes, sir."

"You are on the civil service list?"

"Yes, sir."

"That's all."

The government rested its case at this point.

THE DEFENSE. Michael A. McDonough, who keeps a tobacco store at 104 Tilden street, was the first witness for the defense and he testified in part as follows: "I saw Sullivan before his arrest. He was in front of my store and I was speaking with him for three or four minutes. He was sober and there was not the slightest indication of drunkenness."

"I then went into my store and a few moments later I heard cries of 'Don't choke him. Don't choke him.' I went out of the store and saw Sullivan on the broad of his back on the sidewalk and the officer was on top of him with one knee on his stomach and one on his chest, and he was choking him. Sullivan was gasping for breath, his tongue was out, his eyes were sticking out and his face was black."

"I stepped out on to the sidewalk and asked Officer Palmer as a favor not to choke the boy. The officer said to me, 'Hold his hand until I put the handcuffs on him.' I held Sullivan's left hand and assisted the officer in securing both hands."

"Then Officer Palmer turned to the crowd and said: 'Any man present, who will interfere on my way or another, I will pull a gun on him.' and with that the crowd scattered."

"Then the officer pulled his club and hit Sullivan over the head. He hit him three times and missed the fourth. Both of Sullivan's hands were securely handcuffed."

"I shouted, 'Don't murder the boy in front of my place.'"

STANDARD OIL CASE

Decision of Judge Landis is Reversed and New Trial Ordered

CHICAGO, July 22.—The United States court of appeals was expected this morning to render a decision either affirming, modifying or overruling the $29,430,000 fine inflicted on the Standard Oil company by Judge Landis of the United States district court.

The decision on the appeal to be announced today comes sooner than was expected. Taking up the case out of its turn, the court has prepared a voluminous opinion consisting of nearly 5000 words.

GIRL BEHEADED

FRIEBURG, Saxony, July 22.—Grete Bler, the 18 year old daughter of the mayor of this town, was beheaded some time during last night for the murder of her fiancé.

The executioner, as usual, was an anonymous person who was sent down from Dresden on the announcement that the king of Saxony had refused to pardon Grete Bler for her crime.

This young girl's carefully planned murder of her lover attracted international attention. At the trial it was brought out and she admitted with the utmost simplicity that she visited her fiance's house one evening, gave him cyanide of potassium in a drink she mixed for him and then to make sure of his death she shot him in the mouth with his own revolver. She then dropped the weapon at the dead man's side, placed a forged will in her own favor on his desk together with a note of good-bye, also forged, saying that he feared to lose her love through the revelation of a dishonorable liaison.

THE LIE PASSED

Excitement at City Hall Last Night

The lie was passed at city hall last night after the meeting of the board of aldermen, and but for the presence of a policeman who was summoned by Acting City Messenger Delmage there is a bare possibility that blows would have been exchanged.

The parties to the affair were Alderman Gray, Councilman McKidder and Inspector Smith of the lands and buildings department, and the cause of the trouble was the hold-up of the $300 for repairs on school houses and public buildings.

The first words were between Messrs. Smith and Gray and the latter told Smith that he was not responsible for holding the order up and some reference was made to McKidder.

It was at this juncture that the lie was passed and Mr. Delmage fearing a passage at arms called for the new city hall "cop." Mr. Page, whose presence on the scene had the intended subsidizing effect. No casualties.

WATER FAMINE CALL TO LABOR

Threatens the City of Quebec

QUEBEC, July 22.—Never in the days of sieges, even in earliest days, when Indians surrounded the infant settlement, did Quebec experience the famine of the last 24 hours, for the water mains burst and the city, with its thousands of visitors, was without water.

Champagne, beer, whiskey, unlimited, but scarcely a drop of plain water was to be had. Cakes popping everywhere, but not a plain wafer running. Fifty cents for a bottle of some kind of fancy water to wash one's face and hands, and baths beyond price.

It was an all too realistic version to the pioneer days of no bath-tubs. Things were rapidly approaching the crisis for the celebration when last evening water began trickling through the pipes. It was given a hearty welcome than the Prince of Wales will get today. Pageants and parades were almost abandoned for soap and towels, and the whole town fell to washing.

THE PRESIDENT

To Look Over Judge Taft's Speech

CANDIDATE REFUSES AN ELEPHANT

Offered to Him as a Mascot

HOT SPRINGS, Va., July 22.—President Roosevelt is to review in advance the speech Judge Taft will deliver in Cincinnati next Tuesday.

"I have decided to make this speech what may be my most important utterance of the campaign. I have the highest regard for the president's judgment regarding the subjects to be dealt with, and a keen appreciation of his wonderful ability for forceful expressions. I want his judgment and his criticism, and this cannot be satisfactorily obtained at long range, so I have decided to go to Oyster Bay."

This statement made yesterday by Mr. Taft indicates his view regarding the announcement of his intended trip which, he says, is to be taken on his own and not on the president's initiative. He will leave here with Mr. Carpenter, his secretary, tonight. On reaching Jersey City, Thursday afternoon, he will enter an automobile which will take him through New York city to Sagamore Hill without delay. Mr. Taft has been invited to spend the night as the guest of the president, but if he finds it possible to get his speech in the hands of the printer in New York before Friday, he will return to that city and occupy quarters reserved for him at the Manhattan hotel. In any event, he will leave New York for Cincinnati Friday afternoon. This he says will give him two days there before the notification ceremony is upon him. Should Mr. Taft decide to go with his husband Tuesday, she will go to Cincinnati direct from here, thus avoiding the fatigue of the journey to New York. The plan for President Roosevelt's participation in the final review of the speech, which is regarded as having a number of significant features from a political view point, was finally decided upon at four o'clock yesterday morning, that before the time of the exchange of the last telegrams between the candidates and the president, it was made clear that throughout the preparation of the speech, which is undergoing final revision at the hands of Mr. Taft, frequent and extended consultation has been had with the president. The mails, the telegraph and the telephone have been used for this purpose.

In emphasizing the political importance of the speech, Mr. Taft said yesterday that the first intention to have the utterance only a simple and formal acknowledgment of the notification had been finally abandoned, in view of the growing importance and number of subjects which seemed to crowd themselves forward for consideration. The speech will doubtless contain approximately twelve thousand words. No direct reference of subjects discussed and the nature of their treatment will be made in advance with the consent of Mr. Taft.

Representative Joseph T. Gurnea, of West

Virginia, dropped in to pay a neighborly call on Mr. Taft.

While here, Mr. Gurnea spoke his mind against a national campaign publicity law, which would tend, he believed, to discredit the personal integrity of campaign managers, and lower, rather than raise, the standard of morality in that quarter. He is chairman of the house committee on the election of president, which has to do with such legislation.

Judge Taft made his best golf score of the season yesterday, and played through several heavy showers, his partner being Sen. Jonathan Bourne, of Oregon, and with him the score of 91, while Frank B. Kellogg and J. H. Hoyt, of Cleveland, went down to defeat, 99 to 100.

Mr. Taft received the following telegram yesterday from Chairman Hitchcock of the national committee, and declined an elephant, offered by W. W. Powers, of Rhode Island.

"Pikes Peak Summit, Colorado, July 21. 'Hon. William H. Taft, Hot Springs, Va.: 'Republican leaders from every state west of the Missouri river join with me in sending you greetings from top of Pikes Peak. We are now an top and expect to be on top when the returns come in next November. (Signed) 'Frank H. Hitchcock.'"

"Riverdale, R. L., July 21. 'Hon. William H. Taft, Hot Springs, Va.: 'Would you accept free one of the Arctophila elephants as republican party emblem and mascot in fall campaign at Cumberland Md. Please wire reply at my expense, Providence, R. I., care Crescent Park. (Signed) 'W. W. Powers.'"

The answer to this was: "I am very much obliged to you for your generous offer, but I am afraid your elephant, were I to accept it, would be an elephant indeed. I am very much better able to take care of him than I hope that wherever he is he will constitute a mascot both for you and for me. (Signed) 'W. H. Taft.'"

SHOT INTRUDER

Woman Says Be Tried to Assault Her

WATERTOWN, July 22.—An 18-year-old woman, known to the Watertown as one of the prettiest belles of the Arctophila colony, was taken into custody last night after a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon upon a man who, she asserted, had entered her home and attempted to assault her.

The young woman is Mrs. Kaganosh, a woman who was married five years ago, when she was 13 years old, to Daniel Kaganosh, a Cambridge burglar, and who was arrested on a charge of attempted assault on her husband and their 4-year-old child at 32 Crawford street, East Watertown.

The man whom she shot and seriously wounded is Kerin Jallian, 25 years old, who resides at the home of Charles Olan at 22 Crawford street, two houses from the Kaganosh home. Up to last week he had been employed in the factory of the Hood rubber company. He gave up his employment it is said because of the infatuation for the pretty wife of his neighbor.

According to the story told by Mrs. Kaganosh, as well as by a number of neighbors, Jallian had sought entrance to her home several times in the last few days when her husband had left for Cambridge to attend to his employment. Each time, she says, she implored him to leave the dwelling.

LARGE DECREASE

IN NUMBER OF IMMIGRANTS ARRIVING IN JUNE

WASHINGTON, July 22.—There has been a decrease of 25 per cent in the number of immigrants who arrived in this country in June as against June of 1907. In that month last year 154,724 immigrants landed here from all countries while in June, 1908, only 11,947 arrived, according to the monthly report issued today. For nearly nine months the number of immigrants arriving here has been decreasing. The decrease began in October last and immigration officials attribute it to the financial and commercial depression, knowledge of which was communicated by agents here to friends and relatives in their former homes. The largest decrease shown is from Italy. In June, 1907, 41,944 persons arrived from that country, but only 2015 Italians came last month.

The Russian empire and Finland contributed for June last 6292 aliens as against 22,112 a year ago. France shows the smallest number of immigrants from populous European countries, sending 471 as against 514 a year ago.

Chinese immigration, according to the report, is decidedly small. From that country 120 persons were admitted as against 81 for June, 1907. From Japan came 660 persons as against 2224 in June a year ago.

There were 543 persons deported, and of these 132 were kept out because they were suffering from trachoma, a disease of the eyes, and 222 because they were likely to become public charges.

JOHN MITCHELL.

Gompers Urges All Workers to Support Bryan

WASHINGTON, July 22.—"We now call upon the workers of our common country to stand faithfully by our friends, oppose and defeat our enemies, whether they be candidates for president, for congress, or other offices, whether executive, legislative or judicial."

In these words Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, sums up an editorial in the Federationist, the official organ of union labor, attacking the republican candidates and platform and declaring in favor of Mr. Bryan.

A history of the fights over labor planks at Chicago and Denver is given. Mr. Gompers declares in the editorial that the injunction plank in the republican platform is a pronouncement, and not an anti-injunction declaration.

"Labor asked the republican convention for bread, and it gave a stone," says Mr. Gompers. Later on the editorial says:

"We desire to repeat here that we believe that the whole mass of the workers of the country will respond in hearty sympathy with the democratic party in the coming campaign as a result of its action in the labor planks of the platform. They will be of practical benefit to the workers."

"We have no hesitation in urging the workers and our friends throughout the country to support the party in this campaign which has shown its sympathy with our wrongs and its desire to remedy them and to see that the rights of the people are restored."

"We say this not necessarily because it is the democratic party which has done this. We would urge the workers to support any party which had incorporated our demands into its platform and promised to work for their fulfillment."

Mr. Gompers denied that he has promised to deliver the labor vote to Mr. Bryan. But he says, editorially:

"The republican party definitely lines up with the corporate interests of the country and desires the people to help themselves. On the other hand, the democratic party indorses labor's demands and pledges itself to carry them into effect if it is put in power."

"We earnestly ask the workers and their friends to make the choice which is in accordance with their best interests. We ask them to remember their moral obligations to cast their votes for those who will protect and defend their rights. If they fail to do so they will have to reckon with even a worse condition of affairs than now obtains."

"While we do not wish in any way to interfere with each man's right to choose his own political affiliations, yet we say frankly that the worker who, in this campaign, supports the party or the candidate who has contemptuously and boastfully announced hostility to labor's interests—well, he will have to reckon with his own conscience and with his fellow-workers."

"We now urge upon the workers to take up the campaign with the utmost enthusiasm and energy. Scan every candidate's record; study his party platform. Be not deceived by vague, unoffical, plausible assurances of friendship. Let partisan affiliations be cast aside in the great struggle to preserve our rights and our freedom."

JOHN MITCHELL

SAYS DEMOCRATIC PLANK IS IN LABOR'S OWN TERMS

INDIANAPOLIS, July 22.—John Mitchell, ex-president of the United Mine Workers, was in the city yesterday. He came down from his home at Spring Valley, Ill., on private business and returned to Chicago last night. He and W. D. Ryan, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers, were at the hotel English for dinner and were in conference yesterday afternoon.

"What do you think, Mr. Mitchell, of the republican and the democratic platforms adopted at Chicago and Denver?" he was asked.

"From the standpoint of labor, the democratic platform is decidedly the better. Those declarations on the injunction and the anti-trust laws in the American Federation of Labor executive board and were incorporated into the platform word for word. In addition to that, the Denver platform is clear on the eight-hour day and other demands of organized labor."

"Do you think the Denver platform, together with Mr. Taft's status with the American Federation of Labor because of his judicial rulings, will have much effect on the labor vote in the campaign?"

"I have no doubt that the satisfactory declarations of the platform and the American Federation of Labor's attitude will affect the laboring class very largely, and that it will mean a great many votes for the democratic nominees," was his emphatic reply.

Mr. Mitchell refused to make any direct comment on the attitude of labor toward Mr. Taft.

Mr. Mitchell said he knew nothing about his citation for contempt by the supreme court of the District of Columbia further than the reference to it he had seen in the papers yesterday morning.

BIG LOAN ORDER

ALDERMEN VOTED IT LAST NIGHT

Dr. Jones' Name Still on the Table

Orator Sykes' Order for Hearing Defeated

Mayor Farnham did not send the name of his secretary to the board of aldermen last night, but the rumor that Mr. Cheney will receive the mayor's appointment to the position of milk inspector will not down. Edwards Cheney heads the mayor's short list, a rather dangerous position as many can tell.

The aldermen got together in due time, or thereabouts, last evening and, in concurrence with the common council, voted to borrow $25,000 for the paving of Middlesex street from Tower's corner to Garnet street.

WIGGINVILLE CONTROVERSY.

There was an order from Richard Sykes for a hearing on the question of changing the name of Wigginvill. Mr. Sykes is very anxious to have the name remain unaltered, and a hearing would give Wigginvill's orator a chance to show his prowess as a speaker and parliamentarian. City Messenger Pattee says that if Mr. Sykes is ever given the opportunity to warm up on an important question at city hall he will have his janitors around with baskets picking up the dropped h's. As to the Wigginvill matter, however, the mountain-lion voice of the man from Wigginvill may not be heard. It was the sense of the meeting last night that the city council hasn't anything to do with changing Wigginvill's name.

When the matter was approached, Aldermen Brennan and Gray said to cut it out and get down to something that the board had to do with and the joint order for a hearing before both branches of the city council went to the city clerk's graveyard without a single vote to mourn its loss.

REPAIR LOAN TABLED.

A joint loan order for $7500 for the repair of schools and other public buildings was laid on the table on motion of Alderman Comerford and, contrary to the suggestion of Alderman O'Leary, who favored favorable action in order that the repairs might be made during the vacation season.

Petitions of the Lowell Electric Light Corporation for pole locations in Lawrence and Varney streets, and of the New England Telephone company for pole locations in Ludlum and Windsor streets were read and hearings on them ordered for next Tuesday.

The appointment of Joseph U. Wells by the mayor, as a weigher of coal, was confirmed, as were the mayor's appointments of William F. Stevens as a weigher of hay and a surveyor of lumber, and John R. Viera, Joe Ramos and Joseph Avila as weighers of coal and other articles.

The hearing relative to the petition of the New England Telephone company for pole locations in Lakeview avenue brought forth neither petitioners nor remonstrators.

A joint resolution to lay a sidewalk on a portion of the northerly side of Eighth avenue was adopted.

A joint order to transfer $25 from the fund for the Fourth of July observance to the fund for municipal band concerts was adopted.

A joint order transferring the care of the Fayette street school grounds from the buildings department to the park department was adopted.

On motion of Alderman Gray it was voted that when adjournment takes place it be to next Tuesday night.

The joint order to borrow $25,000 to pave Middlesex street was adopted in concurrence.

On motion of Alderman Gray the order for $3500 for improvements on Monument square was taken from the table and adopted in concurrence.

A resolution calling upon the county commissioners that changes be made in the Billerica street bridge in Wigginvill was adopted.

The joint resolution to change the name of Wigginvill to Concord Heights was read and Mr. Gray moved that the resolution lay on the table. Voted.

Mr. Gray moved that the mayor's nomination of Dr. W. M. Jones for the board of health be taken from the table. The motion was defeated. Adjourned.

The mayor's appointment of Charles P. Alway as assistant fire engineer was confirmed.

CHASING ROBBER

Armed Men Have Him Surrounded

LIMA, O., July 22.—Word reached here at midnight from Lafayette, seven miles west of Ada, where an attempt was made to rob the First National bank, to the effect that a posse of 40 armed men is chasing one of the supposed robbers and have him surrounded in a field of growing corn. Owing to the darkness, it was decided to maintain a cordon of guards around the field until morning. So far no trace of the other two men implicated in the attempted robbery has been reported.

PRIVATE SESSION

Of Monetary Commission to Continue

NARRAGANSETT PIER, R. I., July 22.—Although no definite announcement has been made to that effect, it is believed that the national monetary commission has completed the preliminary stages of preparation for their consideration of plans for currency legislation and that at today's sessions the active discussion of the subject will be begun. Informal talks among the members have served to give each a general idea of the work to be accomplished and with the first progress toward a discussion of the needs of existing legislation and desirable remedies it is believed that the entire financial system of the country can be overhauled and suggestions made for the drafting of legislation calculated to solve all possible financial crises in the future. That the active work of the commission is really at hand is evidenced by the announcement of the coming of the secretary of the treasury, George B. Cortelyou and Assistant Secretary L. A. Condit, the latter in charge of the finance branch of the treasury department, to confer with the members of the commission on questions pertaining to current matters in the treasury administration and also to give suggestions on the work in hand.

The private sessions of the commission will be continued while it is in session but it is probable that during the latter part of the meeting a statement may be prepared for publication in the press indicating what progress has been made.

ALUMNI MEETING

St. Patrick's Boys Arranging for Banquet

The alumni held its adjourned meeting last evening and transacted considerable important business. A large gathering of members was present when Pres. Jas. A. O'Brien called to order and in the absence of Secretary Gookin, John Crowley was elected pro tem. The chapter list was closed and the membership roll now includes graduates from practically every class since the foundation of the academy in 1882. Much enthusiasm was shown when it was announced that the secretary had received the enrollment and membership fee from a student now residing in Denver, Colo. The older students are thoroughly interested and are doing good work in interesting their classmates.

It was voted to hold the banquet to be tendered to the graduating class of 1908, in the Waverly house on Thursday evening, August 6. Applications from the members for banquet tickets should be made to the financial secretary before August 5. The banquet committee was given full power and promise a good evening's pleasure for every one who attends. Considerable minor business was disposed of and then the members talked informally of their plans for fall and winter and adjourned till the next regular meeting in October.

LOWELL'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER.

Why is it that no merchant can build up a large and successful business nowadays without advertising in the newspapers? Because people look to the newspapers for the announcements of the merchants. The dealer who does not make announcements to the people through the daily papers is soon forgotten by the buying public and quickly left behind in the race for business.

Talk to the people through the columns of The Sun and they will bear you in mind when they need anything in your line.

The Sun having the largest circulation in Lowell is therefore the cheapest and most effective advertising medium in the city. It is unquestionably

TO ISSUE POLICIES "HELD UP" A SALOON

Lloyds to Give Insurance Against the "Black Hand"

NEW YORK, July 22.—Insurance policies against "Black Hand" outrages are the latest offering of Lloyds of London. It was stated yesterday that leaseholders of Astor tenement house properties had availed themselves of this opportunity of protecting themselves from the Italian bandits so much in evidence on the East Side. The average rate of "Black Hand" insurance is announced as 5 per cent.

Coming close on the announcement that the London concern had written policies protecting American firms from loss in the event of Bryan's election, the "Black Hand" policy has attracted more than passing interest to the diversified risks taken by Lloyds. There have been policies just as curious as the "Black Hand" one, which may be obtained from the historic association which shipowners and merchants organized more than 200 years ago.

There is not infrequently the insurance against rain or the lack of rain. A fortnight ago the managers of a horse race insured themselves against rain and consequent loss of gate receipts. Still more recently a real estate auctioneer, who had spent $15,000 in advertising the sale of a big estate in Westchester county, secured a rain policy for that amount from Lloyds.

When the Shah of Persia was in England a few years ago he purchased $100,000 worth of insurance from a London Jeweler, and offered his note, payable in a year, for the whole amount. The Jeweler didn't feel like rejecting the note, though he didn't feel very secure about it, and as an added precaution he took out a policy of $100,000 from Lloyds against the death of the Shah. Every body, of course, is familiar with the insurance on the life of the King taken by the public as a speculation.

"Why can't the race track laws be evaded," one broker was asked, "by getting insurance against this or that horse falling to win?"

"Lloyds would draw the line at that," he replied. "Most all valuable show and race horses, and many of the valuable polo ponies are insured, but only against damage in transit or in the stable. The last famous case of horse insurance in this country was that of Highball, the odds-on favorite, that broke his leg when coming down the home stretch many lengths ahead of every other horse in the race."

So far as integrity and responsibility is concerned, Lloyds may be considered as ranking with the Bank of England, and yet it is little more than a club. It is, in fact, a society of many subscribers, each one of whom contributes $250 upon his election, and from this aggregate sum the losses of Lloyds are paid. All other insurance in the name of Lloyds is done by the individual members on their own responsibility.

An underwriter who is a member of the society has his own circle of intimate friends and business associates in the organization, and such groups and individuals subscribe for this, that or the other risk and divide the losses or the profits among themselves.

POLICIES AGAINST RAINSTORMS.
A man wants to be insured say for $500 against a rainstorm on a certain day. His underwriter in Lloyds undertakes the matter, and pledges himself and four of his friends for $100 apiece. That, in its simplest form, is the way of the so-called "wager insurance." In two centuries or more there has never been a conspicuous failure on the part of Lloyds to pay.

It all began in a coffee house. Edward Lloyd's coffee house in London, where the merchants and ship-owners gathered every day to discuss their argosies over the cakes and ale. Marine insurance was then more than a century old. In fact, there was a Florentine ordinance covering the matter in 1533, but the coffee-house group decided to do their own insuring thereafter, among themselves, and decided at the same time to honor their host of the tavern by taking his name for their society.

That was in 1602. At least one of the first, and probably the very first Lloyd's policy written was dated on June 23, of that year, when Peter Joy and his friends agreed to insure the ship Maria and her cargo of £700 on her voyage from Stockholm to London. They put in a clause to the effect that their insurance was just as good and reliable as any ever written in Lombard street or elsewhere in the world.

Eighty years before the cruise of the Maria, the "good ship Tiger" was insured in such a way that she might touch not only at Christian ports, but the places along the Barbary coast. There were 22 signers of that policy of 1682, and their subscriptions ranged from 10 to 100 pounds.

CATHOLIC NOTES

Preparation for Centennial of Archdiocese

The observance of the centennial of the archdiocese of Boston in the fall promises to be an elaborate event. At the festival to be held in Mechanics building all the local Catholic charitable institutions will be represented by tables. The outdoor feature of the observance promises to relapse any similar demonstration ever held in Boston. It is the plan of Archbishop O'Connell that all the Catholic organizations participate in the demonstration, and he is especially desirous that the Holy Name societies attend in large numbers.

The parishioners of the Star of the Sea church, in East Boston, of which the Rev. William H. McDonough, formerly of Lowell, is pastor, are to hold a reunion tomorrow evening. The proceeds of the event are to go towards raising a fund for the building of a new church. The present church is too small to accommodate the rapidly growing congregation and Fr. McDonough hopes to start the erection of the new edifice very soon.

The Holy Name society of St. Peter's church has in hand a plan for raising a fund for the development of the society along various lines. An important meeting of the society takes place one week from Thursday evening.

Lowell men prominent in Catholic total abstinence circles are planning to attend the annual convention of the C. T. A. E. of America in New Haven, Conn., in August.

THREE DESPERADOES SHOOT UP A SALOON IN REAL FRONTIER STYLE.

Robbers Killed One Man and Wounded Others in Boston

BOSTON, July 22.—Three desperadoes, armed with heavy calibre revolvers, dashed into a crowded Jamaica Plain barroom ten minutes before closing time last night, and yelling "Hands Up," began "shooting up" the place. When they had grabbed the money till, emptied it, finished shooting and made their escape, one man was dead on the floor, another lay dying and a third was seriously wounded.

Dashing out the door, the three men were met by Officer S. C. Butler, who drew his revolver and began firing at the men, one of whom was injured, but all eventually escaped.

The dead man is Frank J. Drake, aged 32 years, of 25 Byron street. Patrick R. Doran, aged 10 years, of 5 Atherton street, is lying at the City hospital, with a bullet wound in the abdomen, and Thomas Winterdon, one of the proprietors of the saloon, is suffering from bullet wounds in the back of the head and arm.

The saloon, which was the scene of the shooting, is run by Winterdon and McManus, and is situated at the corner of Washington and Boylston streets in Jamaica Plain, in a thickly settled part of the city.

The saloon was crowded with patrons just previous to the closing hour of 11 o'clock, thirty or forty men being in the place.

Suddenly three men made their appearance in the doorway. Simultaneously they yelled: "Hands Up," and began shooting rapidly, aiming apparently at the bartenders. Some ten or fifteen shots were fired.

With a leap one of the men jumped over the bar and grabbed the cash register, pulling it to the floor. It was opened quickly and the contents seized, the man being covered meantime by the fire from the guns of his companions and the three backed to the door.

Patrolman Butler had heard the shots, and, pulling in a hurry call on his alarm box, ran to the saloon. He arrived in time to see the three men backing out and shooting at those in the saloon.

The patrolman opened fire at once on the men and hit the first one to come out. Then some one cried, "Don't shoot those who are not to blame," and the patrolman stopped firing. The men then leaped out and made their escape down Weld avenue. One of the men concerned in the robbery, it is believed, gave the cry to stop the firing by the officer and thus effect the escape.

A good description of the three men has been gained and special officers are now searching every part of the city in an effort to round them up.

THE DREW CASE

Hyde Park Man Was Hazel's Friend

WATERVILLE, Me., July 22.—Somewhat indefinite information regarding another gentleman friend of Hazel Drew, the victim of the Teal pond murder mystery, of Troy, N. Y., was given by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jones of this city last night. Mrs. Jones stated to the Associated Press reporter last night that she remembered that while Miss Drew was visiting her in Providence, R. I., last April, she gave her several postals to mail. Miss Drew was about to go to Boston and told Mrs. Jones that she wished the postals to be mailed from Providence. One of the postals, declares Mrs. Jones, was addressed to a young man in Hyde Park, Mass., whose name she cannot remember. The postal was signed simply with Miss Drew's initials.

Mrs. Jones, upon being questioned on the subject, said last night that she remembered about the young man and that he worked at the time for the B. F. Sturtevant company of Hyde Park. She had never seen him and could not remember his name.

Mrs. Jones stated for the first time last night that the Wednesday after the news of Miss Drew's death became known she received a letter from Miss Minnie Taylor, aunt of the girl, in Troy, asking her, Mrs. Jones says, to destroy any letters she might have of Hazel Drew's. Mrs. Jones says she did not follow the advice.

POST CARDS FROM HOGART.

TROY, N. Y., July 22.—It has been learned that post cards from Dedham, Mass., found in the girl's belongings, signed "W. C. H.," came from William C. Hogart, who had passed his vacations for the last six years at the home of a relative in East Poestenkill. This is where Hazel Drew was born and she was accustomed for several years to spend a part of the summer either there or at Taborton, not far away, and the two are supposed to have met during these periods and formed an acquaintance which resulted in a correspondence.

The collision was caused by the misunderstanding of the switch signals. Many of the passengers on both cars, which were crowded, saved themselves by jumping.

IN POLICE BOARD

Big Grist of Business Transacted Last Night

Chairman Stearns Not in Favor of Increasing the Number of Junk Collectors—Charges Against a Pool Room—Coffee House Wants An Orchestra

The recent conflagration in Chelsea, which had its inception in a junk shop, and came near destroying the entire city, has caused the Lowell police board to take every precaution in granting junk dealers' licenses in this city, lest the city of Lowell might have a like experience.

At the meeting of the police board, held last night, Chairman Stearns, speaking for the board, spoke of the appalling scenes and bare walls of destroyed buildings in Chelsea after the fire and after mentioning the fact that the fire started in a junk shop, intimated that the board intended to be very rigid in the enforcement of the law relative to junk dealers and that licenses or renewal of licenses would be granted only in locations where there was little or no risk of fire breaking out which would endanger property, especially tenement property.

Reference to the danger of places occupied by junk dealers came out at what might be called a hearing on the granting of a license to Samuel Blank at 445 Broadway.

About three years ago Israel Lightman and Samuel Blank entered into co-partnership and secured a license for carrying on a junk business at 445 Broadway. A month or so ago Israel and Samuel agreed to dissolve partnership. Blank was to get the stock in trade, the good will of the firm and occupy the premises in Broadway, also to settle all the outstanding bills and collect the accounts due the firm, while on the other hand Lightman was to take to Howard street and have the license transferred to his name. This left Blank without a license, but he felt that it would be but a matter of time to secure the license.

Both assumed too much, however, when they thought they could transact all the business without consulting with the board of police and of late they have learned the folly of their course.

At a recent meeting of the board Lightman applied for a transfer and Blank for a new license and during the hearing before the police board it looked at one time as though the former partners would get to blows, but the sight of "Billy" Grady and his brass buttons blocking the doorway, to say nothing of the stately appearance of Supt. Moffatt behind the counter, caused the equal to blow over.

The matter was postponed and at the next meeting the partners appeared and seemed to be the best of friends, believing that discretion was the better part of valor. Everything went along smoothly and it was understood that the board would grant the transfer to Lightman and issue a license to Blank.

The next act on the program was a remonstrance against the granting of a license to Blank at 445 Broadway, and this meant another obstacle. Lightman, who had previously applied for a transfer to 52 Howard street, changed his mind and now wants a transfer to 53 Howard street.

Last night at the meeting Lawyer Silverblatt, who appeared for Lightman, stated that the new location, while in the neighborhood of the street, was sanctioned by an insurance agent. Jacob Goldberg, former newspaperman, appeared in behalf of Blank and he had progressed but a very short way in his speech when he aroused the ire of Chairman Stearns of the police board, and the latter did not make any bones about informing Mr. Blank's champion that he was going about the matter in the wrong way.

Mr. Stearns stated that the board could not grant a license to Mr. Blank at the Broadway location as it was too hazardous.

CHAIRMAN STEARNS AROUSED.

Mr. Goldberg said that the firm had conducted a business at the Broadway stand for three years and he thought it looked particularly strange—but he got no farther for Mr. Stearns interrupted him and said: "Now, don't start on that tack, for you will immediately arouse the ire of the chairman of this board at least. We haven't got the slightest personal feeling against Mr. Blank. But after the board had looked into the situation the appalling scenes and bare walls of poor Chelsea loomed up before us, and you must remember that that fire started in a junk shop."

After some more talk it was voted to table the matter pending the appearance of the remonstrance, but at the conclusion of the meeting Mr. Goldberg informed the clerk that Mr. Blank would not make any further fight for a license to do business in Broadway, but would find a new location and make application.

POOL ROOM LICENSE.

A hearing was then given on petition of Supt. Moffatt, that the pool room license of James Petros in Adams street be revoked. Supt. Moffatt said he would like to see Mr. Petros show cause why his license should not be revoked. He went on to tell that on the third of July a liquor business was being transacted in the pool room and he and two others had been asked for police protection. Supt. Moffatt said he would like to see Mr. Petros show cause why his license should not be revoked. He went on to tell that on the third of July a liquor business was being transacted in the pool room and he and two others had been asked for police protection.

MINOR LICENSES.

Minor licenses were acted on as follows: Hawker and peddler—Abraham Freedman, 127 Howard street, Samuel Sals, 185 Appleton street, Joseph Tracey, 52 Hall street.

Common victualler—George W. Chapin, 391 Lawrence street, Chas. Sapiano, 373 Marshall street, George Sals, 185 Appleton street.

Employment office—James L. Evans, 450 Market street.

FRANK K. STEARNS.

think it would be right to pass on this matter until he has been convicted or found not guilty by the upper court. If we come here and show why the license should not be revoked we only say here our case."

Patrolman O'Sullivan informed the board of purchasing liquor at Mr. Petros' store on three different occasions.

THE MATTER HELD UP.

The board decided to take the matter under advisement.

The Petros matter was not considered at the executive session of the board because of the absence of Commissioner Hanson who went to his home earlier in the evening because of a slight attack of indigestion.

NO COFFEE CONCERTS.

Harris Elapopoulos petitioned for a license to conduct entertainments at Stephen Itangos & Co.'s coffee house in Market street. Asked as to the nature of the entertainments the petitioner, through an interpreter, said it was his intention to have an orchestra consisting of five pieces, all stringed instruments, to play in order to attract trade. Supt. Moffatt said he had no objection to the granting of the license but that another coffee house proprietor had secured permission to give concerts and that the sidewalk in front of the place was so blocked with people that it was necessary for pedestrians to take to the middle of the road in passing through the street. He said that the police officer on the beat had plenty to do without conducting his entire time to clearing the sidewalk.

The matter was laid on the table.

Then the proprietor of the coffee house who has had a permit to hold concerts on Saturday nights was called before the board and given a talking to for having the street blocked with people, but he said he was willing to engage a police officer in order to keep the people off the sidewalk.

Supt. Moffatt said if the concerts were conducted in a proper manner he would sanction the granting of the license as he thought it would be better for the residents of that locality to spend their evenings in the coffee houses than to frequent barrooms, get intoxicated and then get into fights.

BIG FIREMEN'S MUSTER.

James H. Walker, president of the Gen. Butler Veteran Firemen's association, appeared and notified the board that the annual muster and quilt of the New England Veteran Firemen's association is to be held in this city on the 20th of August and asked for police protection. He said that there would be about 100,000 out of town people present. He also desired to suggest to the board that when it came to the issuance of licenses to fakirs and others who would frequent the muster that preference be given to Lowell people.

Supt. Moffatt said it would take the entire police force to take care of 100,000 people and thought that at the least the expense for policing would be about $150.

The board informed Mr. Walker that the matter would be taken under consideration and a report submitted to him.

HARRY MADDOX

Charged With Assaulting Mrs. Josiah Lowe
HE WAS ARRESTED IN LYNN
Was Employed as a Farm Hand

LYNN, July 22.—Harry Maddox was arrested at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon on the Lynn marshes, on the charge of assaulting Mrs. Josiah Lowe, aged 70, of Essex, Monday morning, at her home.

Officer Thomas M. Murphy of the Lynn force made the arrest and late last night Maddox was removed from the Lynn jail to Gloucester.

Lynn officers say that Maddox admitted the assault.

He disclosed his whereabouts for the past 10 days and told of the hardships he had endured while trying to find work. He denied that he had ever committed any crime in his native country, England.

The Lynn police were notified by the Essex officers late yesterday that Maddox was wanted, and within a few hours they arrested him.

Maddox was formerly employed as a farm hand by Mr. Lowe. On July 10 he was paid off and discharged. He returned on Sunday night to the farm and slept in the barn during the night.

The police claim that the man who brutally beat Mrs. Lowe had been tampering with the drawers in Mr. Lowe's room for money or valuables and was discovered by Mrs. Lowe.

Maddox is 24 years of age and about 5 feet 6 inches tall and weighs about 150 pounds. He is an Englishman and has a wife living. He was born in Newcastle. He has been in this country twice and arrived here about two months ago. Mrs. Lowe was much better last evening and the doctor who is attending her says she is recovering rapidly.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

Judging by the generous patronage the Adam Good company is receiving this week at Lakeview theatre, "The Captain's Mate" is the style of the play that is being presented. The best advertising that any enterprise in the amusement line can have is that which is passed around by word of mouth, and as the fact becomes more and more generally known that "there is a good show out at Lakeview," the company is receiving a large and increasing patronage.

Overton has a part in the Captain's Mate that gives her a good opportunity to cut up capers and romp around, the other members of the company are congenially cast, the specialties between the acts are first class and the scenic effects excellent. There is no question but what the people who go to Lakeview theatre seeking entertainment, get the worth of their money many times over.

For the coming week, a rattling good southerly leading play, "Foggy Ferry" is announced with Jessie Gordon, Edie Poulter and the other favorites in the cast.

STAR THEATRE

The amateurs last night were certainly the best ever. Eva Taylor of Providence sang "Hang Out the Front Door Key," and made a great hit. Her dancing also was very well received. Annette Alex and Anna Held were also among the favorites. There were many other good ones and many of them were very well received. There is no question but what the people who go to Lakeview theatre seeking entertainment, get the worth of their money many times over.

STILL AT LARGE

HOLD-UP MEN NOT YET CAPTURED.

BOSTON, July 22.—The police of the city, despite a vigilance which continued through the night, apprehended none of the three perpetrators of the daring hold-up in a Jamaica Plain saloon last night in which one man was killed and two injured, one probably seriously, by the bullets with which they created the scare that allowed them to get away safely with about $50 in money. The description of the men, given by the persons who were in the saloon at the time, of whom there were about ten, including patrons and bartenders, is sufficient, it is believed, to facilitate an early arrest in case the robbers have not gone out of the city.

The extensive parkway system which includes many secluded spots likely to offer shelter to the fugitives was searched by the police last night and today and an organized search of the South End lodging house district was also maintained. Railroad stations were watched and the conductors of the all-night electric cars were given a description of the men, but failed to notice them among their passengers.

At the city hospital today it was said that Patrick R. Doran, the most seriously injured of the two persons, who survived the robbery shot, had passed the night comfortably without any change for the worse appearing.

The police of division 15, Charlestown, shortly after nine o'clock this morning, arrested a man as a suspect in the holdup. He was taken at once to police headquarters for examination.

The police have sent a description of the three men far and wide. They are described as about 23 or 25 years of age, dark complexioned, dark clothes and probably Italians.

WILLE PUT OUT

A Quick Win for Sam Langford

UNK RUSSELL WINS BOUT

Van Horne Stopped in Third Round

NEW YORK, July 22.—Sam Langford, the clever and hard-hitting Boston middleweight, knocked out John Wille, the Chicago heavyweight, in the second round of their fight at the Navarre A. C. last night. Langford floored his opponent with a hard right hook to the jaw, and the big westerner was out fully half a minute.

So sudden was the knockout that few of the spectators realized that the bout was at an end. Just before the blow was delivered Langford managed to get a vicious one and shook the Chicagoan. He was plainly groggy, and the Boston fighter, seeing his predicament, shot over the right. It was a short, snappy punch, but it served its purpose, and Wille fell to the floor as if struck by a cannon ball.

Langford had all the best of the go from the first going. He outfought his sturdy opponent, and had him practically at his mercy in the opening round and until he delivered the knockout punch.

Wille landed only two blows, during the fight. Both were wild, hard swings and shook Langford up considerably. One was a right to the ear in the first, and the other, a wicked left to the stomach. Both were landed in the opening round.

KNOCKED OUT

UNK RUSSELL STOPS VAN HORNE

COLUMBUS, O., July 22.—In three rounds of the fastest kind of milling Russell Van Horne, the local welterweight, was knocked out in the third round of his bout with Unk Russell here last night.

After receiving one of Unk's hard punches in the pit of the stomach Van Horne reeled over on the floor and was unable to rise at the count of 10. He took several minutes to revive him after he was counted out.

The bout was fast and furious from the start. Van Horne played largely for Russell, but thereby leaving good openings. Russell worked on Van Horne's stomach almost entirely and took plenty of punishment while awaiting the opportunity to plant the deciding blow after his antagonist was somewhat winded.

Van Horne landed the most blows, but they seemed to lack sting. The only knockdown of the fight was the final one.

WALCOTT FINED

COLORED PUGILIST HAS UNLICENSED DOG.

MALDEN, July 22.—Joe Walcott, the colored pugilist, was before the district court yesterday on a complaint charging him with keeping an unlicensed dog at his home on Belmont street. He pleaded not guilty and said he kept one dog, which he had licensed, but the other, a brindle dog, which stayed at his home part of the time, did not belong to him.

He said it belonged to a man in Malden and that he had taken it as far as he could on an electric car and left it for the purpose of trying to lose it, but the brindle was back at his home before he got there himself. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $5, and he settled.

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

A prominent member of the Long Island Automobile club declares that the Brooklyn organization did not follow the example of the Automobile club of America when it stationed men to warn automobilists of the locations of speed traps on Long Island a few Sundays ago. He says that the Brooklyn club was the first one in this country to send out men to warn drivers of the presence of speed traps.

The Chicago Automobile club, having decided by a vote of its directors to remain loyal to the American Automobile association, has come forward as a candidate for the De Mont Thompson cup stock car road race.

Sidney S. Gorham, secretary of the club, has wired J. D. Thompson, chairman of the A. A. A. racing board and donor of the De Mont Thompson cup, that the Chicago Automobile club would like to run the contest, as it desires to become actively identified with the promotion of motoring events and naturally wishes to secure one of the three big events the A. A. A. has at its disposal. Before the application for the race was made J. F.

NOTABLE CASE OF CONTEMPT

THE FACT THAT MESSRS. GOMPERS, JOHN MITCHELL AND FRANK MORRISON, THE MOST PROMINENT LABOR LEADERS IN THIS COUNTRY ARE SUMMONED TO COURT ON THE CHARGE OF CONTEMPT WILL RIVET PUBLIC INTEREST ON THE INJUNCTION PLANKS OF BOTH POLITICAL PARTY PLATFORMS.

IT WILL ESPECIALLY APPEAL TO ALL LABORING MEN TO SUPPORT THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY WHICH ADVOCATES A REAL REFORM IN THE USE OF THE INJUNCTION ESPECIALLY IN INDUSTRIAL DISPUTES WHERE IT APPEARS THE CHIEF ABUSE OF THIS POWER OF THE COURTS PREVAILS. THE TRIAL WILL SERVE TO EMPHASIZE THE INADEQUACY OF THE PLANK IN THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

IN THE PARTICULAR CASE IN QUESTION THE INJUNCTION WAS HELD TO BE SUCH AN INFRINGEMENT UPON INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS THAT IT WAS OPENLY DENOUNCED BY MR. GOMPERS WHO SAID IN REFERENCE TO IT:

"SO FAR AS I AM CONCERNED I WISH TO STATE THIS: WHEN IT COMES TO A CHOICE BETWEEN SURRENDERING MY RIGHTS AS A FREE AMERICAN CITIZEN OR VIOLATING THE INJUNCTION OF THE COURT I DO NOT HESITATE TO SAY THAT I SHALL EXERCISE MY RIGHTS AS BETWEEN THE TWO."

IT IS CHARGED THAT JOHN MITCHELL PUT TO A VOTE AT A MEETING OF THE MINERS OF WHICH HE IS HEAD, A RESOLUTION IMPOSING A FINE OF $3 ON ANY MEMBER WHO WOULD PATRONIZE THE STOVE COMPANY IN QUESTION. AS THE INJUNCTION WAS AGAINST THE MAINTENANCE OF A BOYCOTT AGAINST THE COMPANY MR. MITCHELL'S ACTION WILL PROBABLY BE REGARDED IN A MORE SERIOUS LIGHT THAN THE UTTERANCE OF MR. GOMPERS.

WHILE THE CONSTITUTION AS INTERPRETED BY VARIOUS EMINENT AUTHORITIES, MAKES ILLEGAL THE BOYCOTT, YET THE FACT REMAINS AND CAN BE EASILY SHOWN THAT INJUNCTIONS OF THE MOST SWEEPING KIND HAVE BEEN ISSUED FOR TRIVIAL CAUSES AND WITHOUT FAIR CONSIDERATION OF THE RIGHTS OF BOTH SIDES IN THE CONTROVERSY.

THE PRESENT CHARGES OF CONTEMPT SHOULD BE TRIED BEFORE A JURY AND NOT LEFT TO THE EMPIRICISM OF ANY JUDGE IN TRYING TO UPHOLD WHAT MAY EVENTUALLY APPEAR TO BE AN ABUSE OF JUDICIAL POWER.

THE INJUNCTION PLANK OF THE DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM ALTHOUGH SUGGESTING BUT A SLIGHT CHANGE IN THE PRESENT LAW WOULD BE SUFFICIENT IF ENACTED INTO LAW TO OVERCOME ALL THE EVILS COMPLAINED OF.

TO PAVE MIDDLESEX STREET

THE PROPOSITION TO PAVE MIDDLESEX STREET WITH GRANITE BLOCKS SAME AS CENTRAL STREET IS A GOOD ONE. THAT STREET NEEDS TO BE PAVED AS FAR AS THE DEPOT BUT IT DOES NOT NEED IT ANY MORE THAN DOES MERRIMACK STREET FROM CITY HALL TO MERRIMACK SQUARE.

THE CHIEF CAUSE OF THE DELAY ON MERRIMACK STREET IS THAT THE SEWER ON THAT STREET HAS TO BE LOWERED AND IT WILL REQUIRE A CONSIDERABLE TIME AFTERWARDS TO LET THE FILLING SETTLE SUFFICIENTLY TO WARRANT MAKING IT THE FOUNDATION FOR HEAVY PAVING.

THERE SHOULD BE NO NEEDLESS DELAY IN PAVING MERRIMACK STREET, HOWEVER, INASMUCH AS THAT STREET IS THE LEADING BUSINESS THOROUGHFARE, AND ONE UPON WHICH THERE IS GREAT TRAFFIC NOT ONLY BY ORDINARY CARRIAGES BUT BY AUTOMOBILES TO WHICH THE PRESENT ROUGH CONDITION OF THE STREET MUST BE VERY INJURIOUS. THE OWNERS OF AUTOS HAVE A HORROR OF THE UNEVEN BLOCK PAVEMENTS OVER WHICH RIDING IS BUT A CONTINUITY OF VIOLENT VIBRATIONS.

THE TROLLEY EXPRESS

IN SPITE OF DULL BUSINESS, EXPRESS RATES ARE STILL VERY HIGH. THE PEOPLE WOULD LIKE TO SEE THE TROLLEY EXPRESS STARTED, BUT SOMEHOW THAT ENTERPRISE SEEMS TO BE HELD UP. A TROLLEY EXPRESS WOULD DO A GREAT DEAL TO DEVELOP THE AGRICULTURAL INDUSTRIES IN THE DISTRICTS THROUGH WHICH THE TROLLEY LINES PASS. IT WOULD BE A SOURCE OF SAVING AND CONVENIENCE FOR THE FARMERS. THERE IS NO DENYING THE FACT THAT THE ELECTRIC CAR HAS BEEN A GREAT BLESSING TO THE TOILERS IN EVERY LINE OF BUSINESS. IT HAS AFFORDED THEM RAPID TRANSIT AT A SMALL EXPENSE. THE TROLLEY EXPRESS WOULD BE OF EQUAL ADVANTAGE TO THE FARMERS FOR THE TRANSPORTATION OF THEIR PRODUCE.

SEEN AND HEARD

There, little man, don't cry. You have broken your ear, I know. Your 'Varsity eight. Was a trifle late. And your tears in a torrent flow. But in eight or nine years your cheeks will dry.

There, little man, don't cry.

There, little man, don't cry. You battered your head, I know. You sit on the bench. With your hands a-clench. And wall your ineffable woe. But in eight or nine years you will cease to sigh.

There, little man, don't cry.

There, little man, don't cry. You missed your tackle, I know. You lost the game. And your sons of shame. Betoken the bitter blow. But in eight or nine years you will wonder why.

There, little man, don't cry.

There, little man, don't cry. 'Life's lesson' is hard, I know. But the odds and tears. Of your college years. Will be lost in the long ago. In eight or nine years it will all pass by.

There, little man, don't cry.

—Puck.

The following is from the fountain pen of "Sully," the bulletin artist: Four young men, members of one of the popular social clubs in the vicinity of Lincoln square, were coming in on a Lakeview car Sunday evening, when one of the number asked if that was a "princess" a certain woman was wearing. One of the fellows then asked, "What is a 'princess'?" Then the joker spoke up and replied, "A princess is a woman who marries a prince." He is expected to recover.

Ach, himmell! Dat is it a goot joke.

Billows of laughter went rolling up and down the bowery yesterday when professional beer drinkers read the opinion of City Physician Gerbert, of Orange, N. J., to the effect that six glasses of beer a day are too much for any man. Dr. Gerbert's declaration was made in connection with his physical examination of a candidate for the fire department.

"Six mugs ain't too much for a fireman, eh?" echoed Chuck Connors with fine sarcasm. "Say, de booh dat gave birth to dat bawl ought to be in de nut orchard. And for a blaze heater, too. If dey ever pull dat gag on Croker's crowd de horses will be goin' to fires alone."

"Do you suppose you could drink more than six?" asked the reporter. "Ring down de curtain, pal!" roared Chuck. "Me drink six? I've only bin off de blankets an' hour or so and I've planted fifteen puts already."

The reporter found the bowery's chief exponent of the drama at Barney Flynn's liquid lot, corner of Doyers street. A pony glass at this parlor looks like a fairy chimney, while the limit is a cross between a flower pot and an umbrella holder.

"We haven't used those pony glasses more than twice since we bought them," volunteered Mike Connors, the gentlemanly and glib bartender. "Chuck is a consistent performer, but he's in the kindergarten class compared with 'Galway Pandy' and 'Hoxie' Clarke. The former one night lapped up seventy-five scuttles of beer in about six hours and walked out the door."

EDITORIAL COMMENT

GAS METERS TOO FAST. Worcester Post: National and even international interest has centered on the gas meter work of Governor Hughes' public service commission in New York. It is one of those things that are of universal interest and there's a reason for it.

The commission's first fiscal year closed June 30 and its report of its work shows 633 meters tested, on complaints of which 700 or 124 per cent. were correct, 34 per cent. slow and 52 per cent. fast. Of the latter 41 per cent. were more than 2 per cent. fast. With gas costing 32 cents per 1000 to make as developed by Mr. Hughes in the legislative investigation, sold at 35 cents, and this much wind also going in at the same price, these ought to be a fair profit in the business.

WHEN THE BIRDS GET UP. Lewiston Sun: What time do the birds get up in the morning? That first drowsy fluting outside your window is at a very early hour, anyway—you are probably too sleepy to look at the clock.

It sounds as if the little songsters were saying a prayer of thanks for the new day, though the old proverb cynically supposes he is only getting up to look for the early worm.

Early worm, indeed! We suspect that worm must have set up all night to be out and about before the birds.

FOR COURT REVIEW.

Johnstown Democrat: There is one plank in the prohibition platform that we heartily endorse. It demands a "court review of postoffice department rulings." In no other department of the public service has arbitrary rule been further extended than in that of the postoffice. A great body of rules and regulations has been promulgated without regard to law and rules and reason and justice. A practical censorship is exercised by the postmaster general and in more than one instance private property has been destroyed and personal rights invaded on some pretext or another which could not possibly have stood the test of a court review. The prohibitionists ought to make this the paramount issue of their campaign.

LESSON TO RECKLESS DRIVERS.

Lawrence Eagle:—In police court yesterday a man was fined for reckless driving. Briefly stated, he carelessly drove upon the sidewalk and one wheel struck a little girl, knocking her down. It so happened that this man was arrested, brought into court and fined. The probability is, however, that 20 or 30 other drivers were just as reckless Saturday as was this one. Very likely they did not run over anyone and so were not summoned to court. The action was the same however, and they were simply fortunate.

As Justice Anthony intimated, there is altogether too much reckless driving about town. The drivers of heavy wagons take too many chances in their haste. There should be a stop to this recklessness in rounding corners and driving near sidewalks where children are at play or older people passing.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

While the blue waters of the Sound were slipping by Monday afternoon and New York was disappearing in the distance, Baron Schlippenbach, the newly arrived Russian Consul-General to New York, on the afternoon of the flagship Helena of the Seawanhaka Corinthian Yacht Club, presented to Frank Seymour Hastings, executor of the will of Grover Cleveland and vice-president of the Seawanhaka Corinthian club, on behalf of the Russian Emperor the order of St. Stanislaus in recognition of his services as president of the Russian Symphony society.

Fifty or more guests, representatives of the various New York yacht clubs, prominent Russians and officers of the Seawanhaka Yacht Club as guests of Frank J. Gould, assembled on the deck of the Helena about 3 o'clock to welcome Baron Schlippenbach. When anchor was weighed and the Helena's nose was pointed up the Sound, all hands adjourned to the afterdeck, where beneath the entwined flags of the club and Russia the Consul General made a presentation speech. The Baron referred to the great historical friendship between Russia and the United States and the necessity for its preservation.

November. An accident to one of his legs several years ago while he was in Africa and a further weakening of his system when he was in Cuba early last year had their effects on the progress of the disease.

Senior Menocal was born in Cuba of a family prominent there. He came to this country in his early twenties to study at the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute at Troy. He was graduated from that school in 1882 and returned to Cuba. From 1883 until 1889 he was second in command in the engineering department of the Havana water-works. He left that place to be engineer of the Department of the Public Works in New York city. He remained in the service of this city until 1872, when he was appointed to his place in the navy.

He was chief engineer of all the government of a ship canal from the practicability of a ship canal from the Atlantic to the Pacific both in Nicaragua and Panama. He was engineer of the Maritime Canal company of Nicaragua. He made all the plans and estimates for a ship canal through Nicaragua. In 1879 he was in Paris as a delegate to the canal congress there, appointed to the place by President Hayes. He was decorated there as a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor by President Grevy.

At the meeting of the Atlanta Baptist Ministers association Monday, there was a chorus of cheers when Dr. John E. White, pastor of the Second Baptist church, in defending John D. Rockefeller declared:

"John D. Rockefeller has always been a good Baptist and a good philanthropist. I think it is abominable the way he is traduced. We all know that Mr. Rockefeller is not the demon he is painted."

"While we are not in sympathy with the Standard Oil, we are aware that Mr. Rockefeller has always been a good Baptist and a good philanthropist and he deserves our appreciation for what he has done for the Baptist church and for education."

After the cheering subsided the association gave its approval of Dr. White's words and voted thanks to Mr. Rockefeller for the work he has done for education. The action of the ministers will be reported to Mr. Rockefeller by Dr. White, who leaves tomorrow for Cleveland to serve in Mr. Rockefeller's Euclid avenue church during the absence of the pastor.

RODE 29 MILES

Motor Cycle Ran Away

GREAT BARRINGTON, July 22.—

Although Charles McCarthy has not qualified as driver of a motor cycle, he has passed a thrilling motor cycle test in 30 miles of continuous riding at high speed. McCarthy wanted to ride a machine, so yesterday he got astride one, and a friend started it for him. Then the scenery began to change.

The machine took McCarthy through the main street at a rapid clip and started toward Sheffield. He dodged the teams and managed to keep out of the way of the trolley.

Soon he began to realize that he could not stop the machine, as he did not know how, and on he continued to Sheffield, a distance of six miles. He cried out for somebody to stop him, but no one was fast enough to catch him nor would they take a chance of being run down if they could reach him.

On to Ashley Falls he went, over the railroad crossing, fortunately without meeting a train, and passed through Ashley Falls and to Canaan, a distance of 12 miles.

At Canaan he could not stop, but the roads were such that he could get turned around in the direction for home. He then went back over the 12 miles without an accident, but when he reached Great Barrington he could not stop and on he went to Housatonic, five more miles, making 29 in all.

Then the machine broke down and he was released.

Because He Had Sold

Watered Milk

BOSTON, July 22.—In the municipal court yesterday before Judge Burke, Charles H. Stone of 43 Lenox street, Roxbury, charged with selling watered milk, was found guilty on 10 counts and fined $50 on each count, a total of $500, said to be the largest fine for this offence in the history of the state. He was charged with 12 counts by the inspectors, who claimed they had found from 10 to 25 percent water in his milk. The other two counts, that of selling and keeping watered milk in his possession were placed on file.

WANTS DIVORCE

Virginia Harned Sues

E. H. Sothorn

BOSTON, July 22.—In the municipal court here a suit asking divorce from her husband, Edward H. Sothorn. The document is sealed and only the principle is available, but details are being furnished by theatrical friends of both parties to the suit.

There is considerable surprise and much talk about Reno over the fact that Virginia Harned is supposed to have been residing in this state for six months, a portion of that time in Reno. She has managed to hold residence here six months without her story breaking. Her whereabouts at the present time is the baffling question. Her attorneys fail to discuss the matter in any manner whatever. The details will therefore remain a mystery for some months, until the case is called in court.

Mr. Sothorn is in town with Mr.

Ward. Yesterday they held a consultation with attorneys. Mr. Sothorn refuses to discuss the matter saying it will all come out in due time.

From what can be learned about the corridors, a contest is not expected as is thought the matter has been satisfactorily settled between the contesting parties. It has been a bit of scandals in theatrical circles for some time.

In fact, a short time after the dramatic marriage of Sothorn and his wife, some six years ago, it was said the

LOWELL THE WINNER

Defeating Haverhill in a Close Game

"Billy" Hamilton and his Haverhill aggregation made their first appearance at Washington park for a long time. The fans were rather disappointed at not finding Frank Shannon, the former Lowell shortstop, in the lineup of the visiting team, but it was announced that he was laid up with a sore hand.

The Lowell team presented a rather mixed up team. Howard was out of the game with a sprained ankle. He was injured Monday while playing at Haverhill and was attended by Uniac, of the Lowell team, who is a doctor. Greenwell was scheduled to do the slud work, but had to go to Wilmington, Del., having received a telegram that a relative of his was very ill.

Umpire Lannigan was on hand and after making a neat speech announcing that Fall River would be the attraction here today and tomorrow, called the game at 3:15 o'clock.

FIRST INNING.
The home team scored three runs in the first inning, while the visitors were unable to send a man across the plate. Poland, the first man up for Haverhill, drew a base on balls and went to second on a sacrifice by West. Courtney hit to Uniac and was out at first while Boardman struck out.

In the latter half of the inning Vandergriff was given a free pass. Connors hit to right field and Vandergriff went to third, while Connors went to second. Vandergriff tried to work the squeeze play but the ball delivered to the batter was wide and Zinsar was unable to hit it. Vandergriff was away off third and the ball was sent to third, but Vandergriff managed to score, while a little later Connors went to third. Zinsar singled to left field, scoring Connors. Magee sacrificed and Beard followed with a single to centre field for a two bagger, sending Beard to third. Doran fled to Poland and Beard tried to score but was nailed at the plate.

Score—Lowell 3, Haverhill 0.

SECOND INNING.
In the second inning Templein singled and Andrews did likewise. Reilly sacrificed advancing both men. Daily struck out and Reilly hit to Warner and was out at first.

In the latter half of the inning the bases were filled with two out, but Lowell was unable to score. Lemieux struck out and Warner fled to Templein. Vandergriff singled and when Connors singled Vandergriff went to third and later Connors scored second. Zinsar got hit by a pitched ball filling the bases, but Magee struck out.

Score—Lowell 3, Haverhill 0.

THIRD INNING.
Haverhill scored a run in the third inning. Poland opened with a single and West fled out to Uniac. Courtney singled to centre field and Poland fled to third. Boardman hit to Uniac forcing Courtney at second. Templein singled and was out at first.

Score—Lowell 3, Haverhill 0.

FOURTH INNING.

The visitors went out in quick order in the first half of the fourth inning. Reilly fled out to Vandergriff. Daily fled out to Uniac and Keady struck out.

Warner fled out to Reilly and Vandergriff followed with a single. Connors fled out to Boardman and Zinsar sent a grounder to Reilly and was out at first.

Score—Lowell 4, Haverhill 1.

FIFTH INNING.

Poland drew a base on balls. West fled out to Magee. Courtney hit to Uniac and the latter threw Poland out at second. Boardman fled out to Magee. Magee struck out. Beard hit to Keady and was out at first while Uniac fled to Andrews.

Score—Lowell 4, Haverhill 1.

SIXTH INNING.

Haverhill scored another run in the sixth inning. Templein drew a base on balls and went to second on Andrews single. Reilly singled scoring Templein. Daily struck out. Keady hit to Vandergriff and was caught on the third base line and nailed. Reilly tried to make third and was caught between the bases.

Doran hit to Reilly and was out at first. Lemieux followed with a single. Warner fled out to Poland and Vandergriff fled to Reilly and was out at first.

Score—Lowell 4, Haverhill 2.

SEVENTH INNING.

Poland fled out to Courtney. West fled to Uniac. Courtney hit to centre field and stole second. Boardman struck out.

Connors bunted to the pitcher and was out at first. Zinsar and Magee hit grounders to Daily and were out at first.

Score—Lowell 4, Haverhill 2.

EIGHTH INNING.

Templein hit to centre field for two bases. Andrews hit to right field for a single. Reilly fled to Beard and Templein scored. Daily fled out to Uniac. Keady struck out.

Beard struck out. Uniac fled out to Courtney. Doran fled out to Daily.

NINTH INNING.

Poland hit to Connors and was out at first. Hamilton then went into bat for West and fled out to Connors. Courtney got a single. Boardman hit to Uniac forcing Courtney at second.

DIAMOND NOTES

Fall River today and tomorrow with the usual proviso relative to rain. Owing to the skillful construction of the grounds, etc. if the rain ceases by 2:30 there will be a game.

Kenniston is having a lay-off without.

Little Larry Lannigan, the ump that am. officiated yesterday and there wasn't a kick from start to finish. He made just one little, excusable error. In making him, his customary announcement of the batter's name and a blind stab at Lemieux's name and referred to him as "Lemmo." There's nothing funny about Baptiste. He's playing the game.

Fred Lake blew into town last evening after a tour of northern New York. Fred has a few phenoms in mind whom he will flash upon the Boston American management later in the season.

Connors is playing a swell fielding game, second and is batting all right. Yet he prefers first base.

Leaving the batteries out, Lowell at present has the strongest team of many seasons.

Martin, the Beverly pitcher, recommended by the man who brought Howard, joins Lowell today. In the Beverly-Rockport game Saturday he struck out 10 men and in the previous game he fanned 14.

It's quite hard to have a doctor on the team. When Howard wrenched his ankle a few days ago Dr. Uniac attended him without loss of time and made him comfortable. The injury is rather serious and will incapacitate Howard for several days.

All well intentioned boys and in fact boys generally will have to settle in today, the free list being suspended on account of the charity fete.

Lowell played an errorless game. Hoaroy, three times.

Billy Hamilton voiced his disappointment last evening, with the statement that Washington park is Haverhill's Jonah grounds.

Who ever says or thinks that Lowell is an easy team to beat has another guess coming to him. Sharott's team only needs a little bit of luck and it will make the very best teams in the league hustle.—New Bedford Times.

Many thanks for these encouraging remarks.

ASSAULT CASE

Trial in Police Court Today—Witnesses for Defence Testified That Officer Palmer Clubbed the Prisoner While the Latter Was Handcuffed

The case of John F. Sullivan, charged with drunkenness and assaulting Patrolman George B. Palmer, was heard in police court this morning before Judge Pickman and it proved to be one of the most interesting cases heard in the local court room for a long time.

The case grew out of trouble which occurred in Tilden street on the morning of the Fourth of July when Palmer placed Sullivan under arrest alleging that he was drunk. According to the officer Sullivan resisted arrest and it was necessary to club him. The result being that Sullivan's head was opened in two different places.

Several police officers testified to Sullivan's condition, all claiming that he was intoxicated at the time he reached the police station.

John McMahon, who is over six feet in his stocking feet, and who aspires to become a member of the police force, testified for the government but counsel for defense gave his testimony an awful racking.

THE TESTIMONY. Patrolman George B. Palmer, was the first witness called and he testified in part as follows: "On the morning of July 4th, about 7:40 o'clock while passing through Tilden street I saw Sullivan and two companions walking in a group. I awoke his friends, but was unable to arouse him. I asked

COURT OF APPEALS

Says Case Against the Standard Oil Co. Must Be Retried

CHICAGO, July 22.—By unanimous opinion of the United States court of appeals for the seventh district the famous case of the government against the Standard Oil Co. in which the latter was fined $2,326,000 by Judge Landis in the district court must be retried.

This opinion, concurred in by Judges Baker and Stearns, was delivered here today by Judge Grosscup who wrote the opinion. The concluding sentence of the opinion reads:

"The judgment of the district court is reversed and the case remanded with instructions to grant a new trial and proceed further in accordance with this opinion."

The opinion begins with a brief statement of the manner in which the case was brought from the district court to the court of appeals. Section six of the interstate commerce act relating to the publishing and filing of rates is quoted and the opinion continues:

"There are 102 assignments of error taking up 57 pages of printed record. In view of the conclusion, however, to which we have come it is unnecessary to review many of these assignments—the ones reviewed covering all the proposition of law that we deem essential to the guidance of the district court in the event of a second trial. Comprehensively stated the assignment of error which we shall review is:

"First—[To the view adopted by the trial court carried out in its rulings on the admission and exclusion of evidence and embodied in its charge to the jury that a shipper can be convicted of accepting a concession from the lawful published rate, whether or not Sullivan was shouting for a doctor.

CAPT. KEW. Capt. William R. Kew testified that he saw Sullivan about 6:30 o'clock on the morning of the 4th. He saw the injury on Sullivan's head but the latter made no request for a physician. Witness then called Dr. Smith. The captain saw two wounds on the head that were open and bled and assisted in washing the blood off and told him he ought to have a stitch take in the wounds, but he said he would not have it done.

KEEPER McQUADE. Keeper McQuade testified that he went on duty at 5:45 o'clock on the 4th of July. About eight o'clock Dr. Smith called and as a result of what the doctor said I took him to Sullivan's cell and said he ought to have his head attended to. Sullivan said: "This is good enough for me. I will not have anything done to my head." Sullivan allowed Dr. Smith to examine his head, but refused to submit to treatment.

MR. FOWLER TESTIFIED. Mr. Fowler testified to seeing Patrolman Palmer holding Sullivan down. He heard the officer ask some of the bystanders to go to the box and telephone for the wagon, but no one would go. He then saw me and asked me to telephone to the station and I did so.

JOHN McMAHON. John W. McMahon saw Sullivan at two o'clock and again at 5:45 o'clock and said that the latter was drunk. I heard Sullivan say to a fellow from Providence who was with him, "When are we going to have a drink?" They then went around the corner and had a drink.

"Didn't you come into my office the next day?" asked Lawyer Hogan. "Three days after."

"Didn't I have a talk with you?" "A long, long time."

"Didn't you say this man wasn't drunk?"

"I told you he was not drunk—I said he was not drunk at 6 o'clock."

"Didn't you tell me that this man was as sober as you were?" "No sir."

"Sullivan went home with your sister that morning did he not?"

"Yes sir."

"And you allowed your sister to go home with a drunken man?"

"Well, I'm not her boss."

"Since you were in my office you had a talk with Patrolman Palmer?"

"Yes, sir."

"You are a candidate for the police force, are you not?"

"Yes, sir."

"You are on the civil service list?"

"Yes, sir."

"That's all."

The government rested its case at this point.

THE DEFENSE.

Michael A. McDonough, who keeps a tobacco store at 164 Tilden street, was the first witness for the defense and he testified in part as follows: "I saw Sullivan before his arrest. He was in front of my store and I was speaking with him for three or four minutes. He was sober and there was no trouble at all."

"I then went into my store and a few moments later I heard cries of 'Don't choke him. Don't choke him.' I went out of the store and saw Sullivan on the broad of his back on the sidewalk and the officer was on top of him with one knee on his stomach and was trying to get him up."

"I stepped out on to the sidewalk and asked Officer Palmer as a favor not to choke the boy. The officer said to me, 'Hold his hand until I put the handcuffs on him.' I held Sullivan's left hand and assisted the officer in securing both hands."

"Then Officer Palmer turned to the crowd and said: 'Any man present, who will interfere one way or another, I will put a gun on him,' and with that the crowd scattered."

"Then the officer pulled his club and hit Sullivan over the head. He hit him three times and missed the fourth. Both of Sullivan's hands were so badly handcuffed.

"I shouted, 'Don't murder the boy in front of my place.'"

On cross-examination Deputy Welch asked: "Did he, Palmer, pull a gun after he had threatened to shoot the first person who interfered?"

"No, he pulled a club," said witness.

PATRICK J. JEWETT.

Patrick J. Jewett, residing at 725 Suffolk street, said he was sitting on a doorstep in Tilden street in the morning when Sullivan came along and sat down beside him. Sullivan was sober, but was tired and soon dropped off to sleep. His head was resting on my lap when the officer came along and told me to arouse him.

"I could not arouse Sullivan fast enough for the officer and the latter then pulled Sullivan off the steps and one of Sullivan's hands struck the officer in the chest."

The remainder of the testimony offered by witnesses was in corroboration of that offered by Mr. McDonough, the former witness.

Witness said Sullivan did not resist arrest at any time. He said the officer was so excited he had difficulty in getting the cuffs on. One of the cuffs was hooked and the officer was shaking so that he could not get the cuff open.

Edward Thomas McAllister, of 92 Tilden street said he met Sullivan about three o'clock that morning on the South common. He was alone at the time but there was a stranger with witness. The two kept together till about half past five when they sat down on the doorsteps in Tilden street. Sullivan was sober according to the witness.

McAllister then went on to tell what happened from the time Patrolman Palmer arrived until Sullivan was placed in the patrol wagon. His testimony was corroborative and told of hearing Patrolman Palmer threaten to pull his gun on anyone who tried to interfere.

Mr. McAllister said he did not interfere for he knew if he did he would be arrested.

DID NOT KNOW SULLIVAN.

George R. Pendleton, of 130 Tilden street, said he never knew Sullivan to speak to. He left the South common about 5:30 o'clock and walked on his way home. After being in the house for a few minutes he heard a commotion and went out to see what it was.

He said there was a scuffle going on and rushing out of the house he saw Sullivan on the ground with Palmer on top of him and the officer was choking Sullivan. After Sullivan was cuffed Palmer drew his club and struck Sullivan three times on the head. Witness said he thought the first blow rendered Sullivan senseless.

Noon recess.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The case was resumed at two o'clock and the cross-examination of Mr. Pendleton was resumed. He said he did not go to the officer's assistance because he is not a citizen of Lowell, as he will not be 21 years of age till next Saturday.

Jaymes M. Curran, said he was at the corner of Tilden and Arkwright streets and saw the officer pull Sullivan off the steps, put him on the ground and placing one knee on the young man's chest, commenced to choke him.

JAMES F. McMAHON.

Jas. F. McMahon, a brother of John McMahon, who testified for the government this morning, said that he saw Sullivan at two o'clock in the morning and he was sober.

DARING HOLD-UP

Has Stirred up the Town of Tewksbury

A holdup and attempted assault that took place in Tewksbury near the state hospital between 8 and 9 o'clock last night, has stirred that town to its very depths and the police are being assisted by citizens in their endeavor to apprehend the offender.

The police have a clue as to the identity of the highwayman and they are running it down. They believe that the man lives in Tewksbury and his house, to which the police failed to effect an entrance today, is being closely watched.

The victims of the holdup and attempted assault were two girls from Boston who were visiting at the state hospital. They had left the hospital and were on their way to the car line when they were confronted by the man who attempted to rob and abuse them. They fought for their lives and their cries scared the villain away.

THE BOULEVARD

Charlie Morse has a gag of men working on the boulevard getting it in shape to the motor races planned for Labor day. The Lowell Automobile club has asked for a 20 foot course for Labor day. He is making it 21 feet and will be ready to go by the time the race is held. The boulevard will be much improved by the time he gets through with it.

He is going down about four inches below the surface and the street will be subject to a most unexcusable scraping on will go the ground with which the oil for oiling the track of which more or less has been said, will be utilized. This whole job will be thoroughly pulled out. Mr. Morse allows that if the automobile clubs have any sense they can show it on the surface that he will prepare for them. The gravel for the job is being taken from the Carney bank near the boulevard.

OLD VARNUM ROAD. Mr. Morse says that the old Varnum road from the Tynesburg line to the boulevard is as good a piece of gravelled road as can be found anywhere and that it is one of the reasons for the boulevard was chosen by the motor societies. Since it has been superintended of streets Mr. Morse has gravelled and rolled the old Varnum road between the points above mentioned.

THE CENTRAL STREET JOB. With the exception of a little piece at the junction of Gorton street, the Central street paving job is a thing of the past and the blocks taken from that street have been used in paving Rock and Arch streets. Rock street has been completed and Arch street will be finished this week. No less than 7,500 blocks were used in the job.

MIDDLESEX AND WESTFORD STS. The Middlesex street and Westford street jobs will be begun within a few days. Mr. Morse has notified the railroad people, the water board and the gas company to get in and do what they have to do before the street department begins its operations.

MACADAM JOBS FINISHED. Macadam jobs that have been completed or that are about to be completed include Royal street and Merthens street from Beacon to Seventh street; Seventh street from the top of the hill to Bridge street and West Sixth street from Bridge street to the pumping station and the Hampshire street job is well under way.

LATEST BLACK HAND CHIEF

Was Shot to Death in His Wine Shop

NEW YORK, July 22.—A wealthy Italian wine merchant, known under several names, and as to whose business has arisen a question, as to whether he was a leader of the Black Hand, or a peaceful importer of Italian wines at No. 28 Monroe street, was shot to death by a young man at that address late yesterday afternoon, under circumstances which point either to a foiled suitor, or to a disgruntled Black Hand follower, as the author of the deed.

Francisco Crimi Renaldi is given as the correct name of the dead man by an intimate friend who declared that Renaldi has been a leader of various secret societies both in America and in Sicily.

No one has yet been found by the police who will admit having seen the shooting, which took place in the wine shop conducted by the victim, but three suspects have been taken into custody, and are held at the Madison street station as material witnesses.

Two stories have been told to the police about the killing. Both are being investigated.

One is to the effect that Renaldi's daughter, Jennie, a pretty sixteen year old girl, was courted by Alfredo Ventingino, who was driven out of the house a few days ago by the father, who promptly sent his daughter to visit an uncle in Boston, to break up the affair.

The other story relates that the dead man, being a leader of the Black Hand, was continually embroiled in altercations with jealous younger leaders, one of whom had an open fight with him on Monday last.

The dead man's widow told of the dismissed suitor, and furnished the police with a description of him.

Because of the fear in which the Black Hand is held, no one could be found to substantiate the other story to the police, but among themselves the neighbors of the dead man told of his past activities both in this country and in his native land, where he had been variously known as Francis Crimi, Francis Cramo, Crimi Renaldi, and Francis Crimi Renaldi, and where he had served thirteen years in prison on account of his secret society activities.

HAD AMASSED $50,000.

All agree, however, that Renaldi had amassed a comfortable fortune of $50,000.

The police have learned that on Monday "Chick" Cavallero, who is 33 years old, had a quarrel with the wine merchant in which, it is said, Renaldi struck the younger man in the face. "Chick" did not offer to return the blow, but the police say they have heard that, returning yesterday to the Renaldi shop, he renewed the quarrel and dared the older man to strike him again.

According to this version, Renaldi accepted the dare, and hit "Chick" a stinging blow in the face, at which the younger man is said to have drawn a revolver and shot Renaldi three times, the first bullet entering his head, the second his right wrist and the third the left side of his body. He died as he was about to be placed on the operating table at St. Gregory's hospital a few minutes later.

ASKED TO ARREST SUITOR.

The wife of the dead man, who makes no substantiation of her story, simply told the police of the possible motive for murder by the repulsed suitor, and said the daughter was now visiting her uncle, Frank Girsera, at No. 65 Commercial street, Boston. Advice to the police of that city, sent out from the police headquarters here last night, will result in the arrest of Ventingino should he appear there.

The slayer made his escape within a moment after the shots had been fired, and even before the vanguard of the crowd of neighbors of the victim rushed into his wine shop.

STOLE BUILDING Thieves Were Bold and Successful

Police Are Looking for Men Who Removed Building and Screen Bins Belonging to Street De- partment—Charlie Morse Joins in the Hunt

Once upon a time ex-policeman Commissioner Frank Dow was quoted as saying that a policeman could not see a load of hay and his alleged statement was given some support last night when thieves, or alleged thieves, stole a building and bolted screen bins from the corner of Moody and Riverside streets. It was a two-horse job but the ones engaged got away with it all right.

It was the building that covered the stone crusher, engine and other paraphernalia belonging to the street department and part of which had been removed to the city barn, yesterday, under direction of Supt. Morse.

Mr. Morse was careful to strip the engine of brass and other connections because he knew there were thieves who made a specialty of brass and other fittings. It did not occur to him that the building or the screening bins were in danger and when he went there this morning and found that they were gone his surprise and chagrin can better be imagined than described.

The building he did not care so much about as it was a cheap rough structure of ordinary spruce boards, but the screening bins were made in order and were valued by Mr. Morse at $40. The bins were securely bolted together and the men who did the trick had of necessity to use strong tools in tearing them apart.

That the building and bins could have been removed without police detection or interference seemed almost too ridiculous to believe and Charlie is wondering what kind of a story the "movers" told the cops. He says that the lumber in the building and the bins would make at least five two-horse loads and "surely," he says, "the police must have seen the men at work."

Immediately upon discovering what had taken place, Mr. Morse notified the police and uniformed and ununiformed sleuths on wheel, on foot and by team are looking for the men who walked away in the night with the building and bins. Mr. Morse said today that he would join in the hunt himself.

GIRL BEHEADED For the Murder of Her Fiance

FRIEBURG, Saxony, July 22.—Grete Bier, the 15 year old daughter of the mayor of this town, was beheaded some time during last night for the murder of her fiance.

The executioner, as usual, was an anonymous person who was sent down from Dresden on the announcement that the King of Saxony had refused to pardon Grete Bier for her crime.

This young girl's carefully planned murder of her lover attracted international attention. At the trial it was brought out and she admitted with the utmost simplicity that she visited her fiance's house one evening, gave him cyanide of potassium in a drink she mixed for him and then to make sure of his death she shot him in the mouth with his own revolver. She then dropped the weapon at the dead man's side, placed a forged will in her own favor on his desk together with a note of good-bye, also forged, saying that he feared to lose her love through the revelation of a dishonorable liaison.

THE LIE PASSED PERMIT GRANTED

Excitement at City Hall Last Night

The lie was passed at city hall last night after the meeting of the board of aldermen, and but for the presence of a policeman who was summoned by Acting City Messenger Delmage there is a bare possibility that blows would have been exchanged.

The parties to the affair were Alderman Gray, Councilman McKiddier and Inspector Smith of the lands and buildings department, and the cause of the trouble was the hold-up of the $700 for repairs on school houses and public buildings.

The first words were between Messrs. Smith and Gray and the latter told Smith that he was not responsible for holding the order up and some reference was made to McKiddier.

It was at this juncture that the lie was passed and Mr. Delmage fearing a passage at arms called for the new city hall "cop," Mr. Page, whose presence on the scene had the intended subsiding effect. No casualties.

MORE VICTIMS

Secured by Swindling School Teacher

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Frances A. Caspari, the former high school teacher of German at Baltimore, where her family occupies a prominent position, and where, seven years ago, her frauds, amounting to over $71,000, secured her five years in Maryland penitentiary, was arraigned here yesterday for playing the same game in this city.

In yesterday's complaint she is only charged with obtaining $3450 by fraud, but there are many other cases.

The woman came here about a year ago and headed with Miss Elizabeth Gummell, at No. 1409 Concord street, N. W. According to Miss Gummell she represented herself as the agent of a book concern issuing children's books. Later she stated that she had obtained orders from many wealthy persons whom she named, but could not deliver the books because the firm would not ship the costly volumes until she sent a deposit. By promising half her profits she managed to borrow $360 from Miss Gummell.

With the same story, the police say, she got $2300 from Thomas A. Robbins of No. 1347 Massachusetts avenue, S. E., $260 from Mrs. M. E. James of No. 1747 Fourteenth street, N. W., and an amount not yet stated from Miss Edith E. Claggett of Brownsville, Washington county, Md.

Prof. Charles Caspari, Jr., of Baltimore, a brother of the accused woman, has intimated, according to a message from that city, that his sister's sanity ought to be inquired into.

"What she does with all the money is a mystery," he said. "I have never been able to fathom her. When she was tried here in 1901 she confessed to having obtained over $50,000. Yet at that moment she was penniless. I suppose she is without a cent in the world now."

ROCKEFELLER ABSENT.

CLEVELAND, O., July 22.—At Forest Hill it was stated today that Mr. Rockefeller was absent when the telegram arrived announcing that the Standard Oil decision handed down by Judge Landis had been reversed. Mr. Rockefeller's secretary said it was very doubtful if he would make any comment on the action of the court of appeals. It was said that Mr. Rockefeller would return to Forest Hill today.

THE "LEMON" GAME Worked on Lawrence Man by New York Operators

LAWRENCE, July 22.—John Neel, not the Broadway tailor, fell an easy victim to three slick workers of the lemon game from New York a few days ago. The lemon game operators secured $300 from Neel and the police are making a diligent search for the strangers.

The lemon game has sprung into popularity with crooks as they pick up easy money by it, although they seldom make as good a haul as they did from Neel.

Neel was in a pool room one day last week and became engaged in a game of pool with a stranger. A third party was admitted to the game and it was not long before a proposition was made to stake small bets on the games. This was agreeable to Neel and both strangers consented. It was not long before the limit was raised and Neel had surprisingly good luck. In fact he won so easily that he made an agreement to meet the strangers on the following Saturday at a different pool room when play for big stakes was to be resumed.

Neel, by agreement, had $500 with him when he entered the pool room on Saturday. A game was played for that amount and it was at this point that the game was worked. The stakes were deposited in the hands of a man who was supposed to be the proprietor of the place. This man was in his shirt sleeves and did not have any hat on, thereby giving the impression to a glibly stranger that he was the person conducting the place. The strangers placed their money in this man's keeping and Neel followed suit.

A game was started after the money was deposited and Neel was allowed to win, but when he looked around for the supposed proprietor, that gentleman was not to be found. He had donned his coat and hat and disappeared. He has not been seen since. Neither have his two friends and nothing has been seen of Neel's $300, although Inspector Cadogan is doing his best to locate both men and money.

The lemon is frequently worked with success in the larger cities, but it is seldom that operators in this line come to Lawrence.

TO ISSUE POLICIES "HELD UP" A SALOON

Lloyds to Give Insurance Against the "Black Hand"

NEW YORK, July 22.—Insurance policies against "Black Hand" outrages are the latest offering of Lloyds of London. It was stated yesterday that leaseholders of Astor tenement house properties had availed themselves of this opportunity of protecting themselves from the Italian bandits so much in evidence on the East Side. The average rate of "Black Hand" insurance is announced as 5 per cent.

Coming close on the announcement that the London concern had written policies protecting American firms from loss in the event of Bryan's election, the "Black Hand" policy has attracted more than passing interest to the diversified risks taken by Lloyds. There have been policies just as curious as the "Black Hand" one, which may be obtained from the historic association which shipowners and merchants organized more than 200 years ago.

There is not infrequently the insurance against rain or the lack of rain. A fortnight ago the managers of a horse race insured themselves against rain and consequent loss of gate receipts. Still more recently a real estate auctioneer, who had spent $15,000 in advertising the sale of a big estate in Westchester county, secured a rain policy for that amount from Lloyds.

When the Shah of Persia was in England a few years ago he purchased $100,000 worth of goods from a London jeweler, and offered his note, payable in a year, for the whole amount. The jeweler didn't feel like rejecting the note, though he didn't feel very secure about it, and as an added precaution he took out a Lloyds policy of $100,000 for one year against the death of the Shah. Every body, of course, is familiar with the insurance on the life of the King taken by the public as a speculation.

"Why can't the racetrack laws be evaded," one broker was asked, "by getting insurance against this or that horse falling to win?"

"Lloyds would draw the line at that," he replied. "Most all valuable show and race horses, and many of the valuable polo ponies are insured, but only against damage in transit or in the stable. The last famous case of horse insurance in this country was that of Highball, the odds-on favorite, who broke his leg when coming down the home stretch, many lengths ahead of every other horse in the race."

So far as integrity and responsibility is concerned, Lloyds may be considered as ranking with the Bank of England, and yet it is little more than a club. It is, in fact, a society of many subscribers, each one of whom contributes $500 upon his election, and from this aggregate sum the losses on marine insurance (the real business of Lloyds) are paid. All other insurance in the name of Lloyds is done by the individual members on their own responsibility.

An underwriter who is a member of the society has his own circle of intimate friends and business associates in the organization, and such groups and individuals subscribe for this, that or the other risk and divide the losses or the profits among themselves.

POLICIES AGAINST RAINSTORMS.

A man wants to be insured say for $500 against a rainstorm on a certain day. His underwriter in Lloyds undertakes the matter, and pledges himself and four of his friends for $1000 apiece. That, in the simplest form, is the way of the so-called "wager insurance." In two centuries or more there has never been a conspicuous failure on the part of Lloyds to pay.

It all began in a coffee house, Edward Lloyd's coffee house in London, where the merchants and ship-owners gathered every day to discuss their argosies over the cakes and ale. Marine insurance was then more than a century old. In fact, there was a Florentine ordinance covering the matter in 1323, but the coffee-house group decided to do their own insuring thereafter, among themselves, and decided at the same time to honor their host of the tavern by taking his name for their society.

That was in 1602. At least one of the first, and probably the very first Lloyds policy written was dated on June 25, of that year, when Peter Joy and his friends agreed to insure the ship Maria and her cargo of $240 on her voyage from Stockholm to London. They put in a clause to the effect that their insurance was just as good and reliable as any ever written "in Lombard street or elsewhere in the world."

Eighty years before the cruise of the Maria, the "good ship Tiger" was insured in such a way that she might touch not only at Christian ports, but the places along the Barbary coast. There were 22 signers of that policy of 1582, and their subscriptions ranged from 10 to 100 pounds.

CATHOLIC NOTES

Preparation for Centennial of Archdiocese

The observance of the centennial of the archdiocese of Boston in the fall promises to be an elaborate event. At the festival to be held in Mechanics building all the local Catholic charitable institutions will be represented by tables. The outdoor feature of the observance promises to eclipse any similar demonstration ever held in Boston. It is the plan of Archbishop O'Connell that all the Catholic organizations participate in the demonstration, and he is especially desirous that the Holy Name societies attend in large numbers.

The parishioners of the Star of the Sea church, in East Boston, of which the Rev. William H. McDonough, formerly of Lowell, is pastor, are to hold a reunion tomorrow evening. The proceeds of the event are to go towards raising a fund for the building of a new church. The present church is too small to accommodate the rapidly growing congregation and Fr. McDonough hopes to start the erection of the new edifice very soon.

The Holy Name society of St. Peter's church is in hand a plan for raising a fund for the development of the society along various lines. An important meeting of the society takes place one week from Thursday evening.

Lowell men prominent in Catholic total abstinence circles are planning to attend the annual convention of the C. T. A. U. of America in New Haven, Conn., in August.

THREE DESPERADOES SHOOT UP A SALOON IN REAL FRONTIER STYLE.

Robbers Killed One Man and Wounded Others in Boston

BOSTON, July 22.—Three desperadoes, armed with heavy calibre revolvers, dashed into a crowded Jamaica Plain barroom ten minutes before closing time last night, and yelling "Hands Up!" began "shooting up" the place. When they had grabbed the money, they emptied it, finished shooting and made their escape, one man was dead on the floor, another lay dying and a third was seriously wounded.

Dashing out the door, the three men were met by Officer S. C. Butler, who drew his revolver and began firing at the men, one of whom was injured, but all eventually escaped.

The dead man is Frank J. Drake, aged 22 years, of 25 Byron street, Park street, is dying at the City hospital, with a bullet wound in the abdomen, and Thomas Winterston, one of the proprietors of the saloon, is suffering from bullet wounds in the back of the head and arm.

The saloon, which was the scene of the shooting, is run by Winterston and McManus, and is situated at the corner of Washington and Boylston streets in Jamaica Plain, in a thickly settled part of the city.

The saloon was crowded with patrons just previous to the closing hour of 11 o'clock, thirty or forty men being in the place.

Suddenly three men made their appearance in the doorway. Simultaneously they yelled: "Hands Up!" and began shooting rapidly, aiming apparently at the bartenders. Some ten or fifteen shots were fired.

With a leap one of the men jumped over the bar and grabbed the cash register, pulling it to the floor. It was opened quickly and the contents seized, the man being covered meantime by the fire from the guns of his companions and the three backed to the door.

Patrolman Butler had heard the shots, and, pulling in a hurry call on his alarm box, ran to the saloon. He arrived in time to see the three men backing out and shooting at those in the saloon.

The patrolman opened fire at once on the men and hit the first one to come out. Then some one cried, "Don't shoot those who are not to blame," and the patrolman stopped firing. The men then leaped out and made their escape down Weld avenue. One of the men concerned in the robbery, it is believed, gave the cry to stop the firing by the officer and thus effect the escape.

A good description of the three men has been gained and special officers are now searching every part of the city in an effort to round them up.

Hyde Park Man Was Hazel's Friend

WATERVILLE, Me., July 22.—Somewhat indefinite information regarding another gentleman friend of Hazel Drew, the victim of the Teal pond murder mystery, of Troy, N. Y., was given by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jones of this city last night. Mrs. Jones stated to the Associated Press reporter last night that she remembered that while Miss Drew was visiting her in Providence, R. I., last April, she gave her several postals to mail. Miss Drew was about to go to Boston and told Mrs. Jones that she wished the postals to be mailed from Providence. One of the postals, declares Mrs. Jones, was addressed to a young man in Hyde Park, Mass., whose name she cannot remember. The postal was signed simply with Miss Drew's initials.

Mrs. Jones, upon being questioned on the subject, said last night that she remembered about the young man and that he worked at the time for the B. F. Sturtevant company of Hyde Park. She had never seen him and could not remember his name. Mrs. Jones stated for the first time last night that the Wednesday after the news of Miss Drew's death became known she received a letter from Miss Minnie Taylor, aunt of the girl, in Troy, asking her, Mrs. Jones says, to "destroy any letters she might have of Hazel Drew's." Mrs. Jones says she did not follow the advice.

POST CARDS FROM HOGART.

TROY, N. Y., July 22.—It has been learned that post cards from Dedham, Mass., found in the girl's belongings, signed "W. C. H." came from William C. Hogart, who had passed his vacations for the last six years at the home of a relative in East Poestenkill. This is where Hazel Drew was born and she was accustomed for several years to spend a part of the summer either there or at Taborton, not far away, and the two are supposed to have met during these periods and formed an acquaintance which resulted in a romance.

Those who use poslam for these minor skin troubles can now avail themselves of the special 50-cent package, recently adopted to meet such needs. Both the 50-cent package and the regular $2 jar may now be obtained in Lowell at Falls & Burkinshaw's, Carter & Sherburne's, and other leading drug stores.

CARS COLLIDED

Two Men Injured and Many Bruised

NORTH ATTLEBORO, July 22.—Two men were injured and a number of others bruised and nearly a hundred men, women and children badly frightened by a head-on collision between two cars of the Interstate Consolidated street railway last night.

William Hogan of North Attleboro had the flesh torn from both shins, and John H. Pilling, also of this place, injured his right foot and was probably internally injured by being thrown across the back of a seat.

The collision was caused by the misunderstanding of the switch signals. Many of the passengers on both cars, which were crowded, saved themselves by jumping.

CHILD RESCUED

Taken in Mail Bag From Burning House

BOSTON, July 22.—That "necessity is the mother of invention" cannot be doubted, but Michael Cleary's presence of mind was certainly working overtime when he rescued his youngest child from a burning house at 729 East Broadway, South Boston, in a mail bag yesterday.

There are three little ones in the Cleary family and the number of Michael's arms is limited. Therefore, when he had taken the two older and larger children in them the only place for the baby was in the feather pouch that Uncle Sam provides for all his good letter carriers, of whom Cleary is one.

It was the same old story—the combination of three American citizens of tender age and a box of matches did not prove a happy one, and soon a lively fire was started. Cleary happened to be near by at the time and rushed up the stairs where the children had been playing. He was quick to the emergency and in an instant had seized the baby of the

Chairman Stearns Not in Favor of Increasing the Number of Junk Collectors—Charges Against a Pool Room—Coffee House Wants An Orchestra

The recent conflagration in Chelsea, which had its inception in a junk shop, and came near destroying the entire city, has caused the Lowell police board to take every precaution in granting junk dealers' licenses in this city, lest the city of Lowell might have a like experience.

At the meeting of the police board, held last night, Chairman Stearns, speaking for the board, spoke of the appalling scenes and bare walls of destroyed buildings in Chelsea after the fire and after mentioning the fact that the fire started in a junk shop, intimated that the board intended to be very rigid in the enforcement of the law relative to junk dealers and that licenses or renewal of licenses would be granted only in locations where there was little or no risk of fire breaking out which would endanger property, especially tenement property.

Reference to the danger of places occupied by junk dealers came out at what might be called a hearing on the granting of a license to Samuel Blank at 45 Broadway.

About three years ago Israel Lightman and Samuel Blank entered into co-partnership and secured a license for carrying on a junk business at 45 Broadway. A month or so ago Israel and Samuel agreed to dissolve partnership. Blank was to get the stock in trade, the good will of the firm and occupy the premises in Broadway, also to settle all the outstanding bills and collect the accounts due the firm, while on the other hand Lightman was to hike to Howard street and have the license transferred to his name. This left Blank without a license, but he felt that it would be but a matter of form to secure the license.

Both assumed too much, however, when they thought they could transact all the business without consulting with the board of police and of late they have learned the folly of their course.

At a recent meeting of the board Lightman applied for a transfer and Blank for a new license and during the hearing before the police board it looked at one time as though the former partners would get to blows, but the sight of "Bible" Grady and his brass buttons blocking the doorway, to say nothing of the stately appearance of Supt. Moffatt behind the counter, caused the squall to blow over.

The matter was postponed, but at the next meeting the partners appeared and seemed to be the best of friends, believing that discretion was the better part of valor. Everything went along smoothly and it was understood that the board would grant the transfer to Lightman and issue a license to Blank.

At the next act on the program was a remonstrance against the granting of a license to Blank at 45 Broadway, and this meant another obstacle. Lightman, who had previously applied for a transfer to 52 Howard street, changed his mind and now wants a transfer to 63 Howard street.

Last night at the meeting, Lawyer Silverblatt, who appeared for Lightman, stated that the new location, while in the tenement district, had been sanctioned by an insurance agent. Jacob Goldberg, former newspaperman, appeared in behalf of Blank and he had progressed but a very short way in his speech when he aroused the ire of Chairman Stearns of the police board, and the latter did not make any bones about informing Mr. Blank's champion that he was going about the matter in the wrong way.

Mr. Stearns stated that the board could not grant a license to Mr. Blank at the Broadway location as it was too hazardous.

CHAIRMAN STEARNS AROUSED. Mr. Goldberg said that the firm had conducted a business at the Broadway stand for three years and he thought it looked particularly strange that he got no farther for Mr. Stearns interrupted him and said: "Stearns, don't start on that tack, for you will immediately arouse the ire of the chairman of this board at least. We haven't got the slightest personal feeling against Mr. Blank. But after the board had looked into the situation the appalling scenes and bare walls of poor Chelsea loomed up before us, and you must remember that that fire started in a junk shop."

After some more talk it was voted to table the matter pending the appearance of the remonstrance, but at the conclusion of the meeting Mr. Goldberg informed the clerk that Mr. Blank would not make any further fight for a license to do business in Broadway, but would find a new location and make application.

POOL ROOM LICENSE. A hearing was then given on petition of Supt. Moffatt, that the pool room license of James Petros in Adams street be revoked. Supt. Moffatt said he would like to have Mr. Petros show cause why his license should not be revoked. He went on to tell that on the third of July a liquor business was being transacted in the pool room and he and two others had been brought before the board and convicted, also that many complaints had been made about crap shooting in the pool room.

Lawyer Dennis J. Murphy appeared for Mr. Petros and stated to the board that while the superintendent had cited in substance the facts in the case that the police officer who was on the stand that he never saw any more orderly place during the six months he was on that beat. Continuing, Mr. Murphy said: "It is true that Mr. Petros has been convicted by the lower court, but that does not mean that he is guilty for we have appealed to the superior court. There was no direct evidence against Mr. Petros and we offered no defense in the lower court, but we will fight it in the upper court. I do not think it would be right to pass on this matter until he has been convicted or found not guilty by the upper court. If we come here and show why the licenses should not be revoked we only lay bare our case.

Patrolman O'Sullivan informed the board of purchasing liquor at Mr. Petros' store on three different occasions.

THE MATTER HELD UP.

The board decided to take the matter under advisement.

The Petros matter was not considered at the executive session of the board because of the absence of Commissioner Hanson who went to his home earlier in the evening because of a slight attack of indigestion.

NO COFFEE CONCERTS.

Harris Elcepolous petitioned for a license to conduct entertainments at Stephen Rangos & Co.'s coffee house in Market street. Asked as to the nature of the entertainments the petitioner, through an interpreter, said it was his intention to have an orchestra consisting of five pieces, all stringed instruments, to play in order to attract trade. Supt. Moffatt said he had no objection to the granting of the license but that another coffee house proprietor had secured permission to give concerts and that the sidewalk in front of the place was so blocked with people that it was necessary for pedestrians to take to the middle of the road in passing through the street. He said that the police officer on the beat had plenty to do without devoting his entire time to clearing the sidewalk.

The matter was laid on the table.

Then the proprietor of the coffee house who has had a permit to hold concerts on Saturday nights was called before the board, and given a talking to for having the street blocked with people but he said he was willing to engage a police officer in order to keep the people off the sidewalk.

Supt. Moffatt said if the concerts were conducted in a proper manner he would sanction the granting of licenses as he thought it would be better for the residents of that locality to spend their evenings in the coffee houses than to frequent barrooms, get intoxicated and then get into fights.

BIG FIREMEN'S MUSTER.

James H. Walker, president of the Gen. Butler Veteran Firemen's association, appeared and notified the board that the annual muster and banquet of the New England Veteran Firemen's association is to be held in this city on the 26th of August and he asked for police protection. He said that there would be about 100,000 out of town people present. He also desired to suggest to the board that when it came to the issuance of licenses to fakirs and others who would frequent the muster that preference be given to Lowell people.

Supt. Moffatt said it would take the entire police force to take care of 100,000 people and thought that at the least the expense for policing would be about $150.

The board informed Mr. Walker that the matter would be taken under consideration and a report submitted to him.

MINOR LICENSES.

Minor licenses were acted on as follows: Hawkey and peddler—Abraham Goldberg, 127 Howard street, Samuel President, 415 Broadway, Joseph Trapp, 52 Hall street.

Common victualer—George W. Tappan, 24 Lawrence street, Chas. Schmitt, 473 Marshall street, George Salvi, 155 Appleton street.

Employment office—James L. Evans, 450 Market street.

HARRY MADDOX

Charged With Assaulting Mrs. Josiah Lowe

HE WAS ARRESTED IN LYNN

Was Employed as a Farm Hand

LYNN, July 22.—Harry Maddox was arrested at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon on the Lynn Marshes, on the charge of Assaulting Mrs. Josiah Lowe, aged 70, of Essex, Monday morning, at her home.

Officer Thomas M. Murphy of the Lynn force made the arrest and late last night Maddox was removed from the Lynn Jail to Gloucester.

Lynn officers say that Maddox admitted the assault.

He disclosed his whereabouts for the past 19 days and told of the hardships he had endured while trying to find work. He denied that he had ever committed any crime in his native country, England.

The Lynn police were notified by the Essex officers late yesterday that Maddox was wanted, and within a few hours they arrested him.

Maddox was formerly employed as a farm hand by Mr. Lowe. On July 10 he was paid off and discharged. He returned on Sunday night to the farm and slept in the barn during the night.

"The police claim that the man who brutally beat Mrs. Lowe had been ransacking the drawers in Mr. Lowe's room for money or valuables and was discovered by Mrs. Lowe.

Maddox is 24 years of age and about 5 feet 6 inches tall and weighs about 150 pounds. He is an Englishman and has a wife living. He was born in New-Castle. He has been in this country twice and arrived here about two months ago. Mrs. Lowe was much better last evening and the doctor who is attending her says she is recovering rapidly.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

Judging by the generous patronage the Adam Good company is receiving this week at Lakeview theatre, "The Captain's Mate" is the style of a play that their patrons like the best. The house is a part in the Captain's Mate that gives her a good opportunity to cut up capers and romp around, the other members of the company are congenially cast, the specialties between the acts are first class, and the scenic effects excellent. There is no question but what the people who go to Lakeview theatre seeking entertainment, get the worth of their money many times over. For the coming week, a rattling good southeasterly leading play, "Foggy Ferry" is announced with Bessie Ovelton, Eddie Poulter and the other favorites in the cast.

STAR THEATRE

The amateurs last night were certainly the best ever. Eva Taylor of Providence sang "Hang Out the Front Door Key," and made a great hit. Her dancing also was very well received. Also Alice and Anna Held were also among the favorites. There were many other good ones and many who furnished comedy by not being in that class. Claremont, the slack-wire performer, is giving an excellent exhibition this week. Babe Curry is having great success singing "Comrade Mine," and J. C. Bell sings "Just to Remind you in a very creditable manner. Commencing tomorrow the songs will be "The Good Old U. S. A." and "The Same Old Slavery Flag." The picture program changed today and is both interesting and amusing.

STILL AT LARGE

HOLD-UP MEN NOT YET CAPTURED.

BOSTON, July 22.—The police of the city, despite a vigilance which continued through the night, apprehended none of the three perpetrators of the daring hold-up in a Jamaica Plain saloon last night in which one man was killed and two injured, one probably seriously, by the bullets with which they created the scare that allowed them to get away safely with about $100 in money. The description of the men, given by the persons who were in the saloon at the time of whom there were about ten, including patrons and bartenders, is sufficient, it is believed, to facilitate an early arrest in case the robbers have not gone out of the city.

The extensive patrol system which includes many secluded spots likely to offer shelter to the fugitives was searched by the police last night and an organized search of the South End lodging house district was also maintained. Railroad stations were watched and the conductors of the all-night electric cars were given a description of the men, but failed to notice them among their passengers.

At the city hospital today it was said that Patrick R. Doran, the most seriously injured of the two persons, who survived the robbery's shock, had passed the night comfortably without any change for the worse appearing.

The police of division 13, Charlestown, shortly after nine o'clock this morning, arrested a man as a suspect in the holdup. He was taken at once to police headquarters for examination.

The police have sent a description of the three men for and wide. They are described as about 33 or 35 years of age, dark complexioned, dark clothes and probably Italians.

Van Horne Stopped in Third Round

NEW YORK, July 22.—Sam Langford, the clever and hard-hitting Boston middleweight, knocked out John Wille, the Chicago heavyweight, in the second round of their fight at the Navarre A. C. last night. Langford floored his opponent with a hard right hook to the jaw, and the big westerner was out for a minute.

So sudden was the knockout that few of the spectators realized that the fight was at an end. Just before the blow was delivered Langford managed to get over a left hook. The blow was a vicious one and shook the Chicagoan. He was plainly groggy, and the Boston fighter, seeing his opportunity, shot over the right. It was a short, snappy punch, but it served its purpose, and Wille fell to the floor as if struck by a cannon ball.

Langford had all the best of the fight from the first going. He outboxed the sturdy opponent, and had him practically at his mercy in the opening round and until he delivered the knockout punch.

Wille landed only two blows during the fight. Both were with hard swings and shook Langford, but considerably. One was a right to the ear in the first, and the other a wicked left to the stomach. Both were landed in the opening round.

After receiving one of Unk's hard blows in the pit of the stomach Van Horne reeled over on the floor and was unable to rise at the count of 10. It took several minutes to revive him after he was counted out.

The bout was fast and furious from the start. Van Horne played largely on Russell's face, thereby leaving good openings. Russell countered and Van Horne's stomach almost entirely broke down. Van Horne's stomach almost entirely broke down. Van Horne's stomach almost entirely broke down.

Van Horne landed the most blows, but he seemed to lack steam. The knockdown of the fight was the final one.

WALCOTT FINED

COLORED PUGILIST HAS UNLICENSED DOG.

MAIDEN, July 22.—Joe Walcott, the colored pugilist, was before the district court yesterday on a complaint charging him with keeping an unlicensed dog at his home on Belmont street. He pleaded not guilty and said he kept one, which he licensed, but the other, a brindle dog, which stayed at his home part of the time, did not belong to him.

He said it belonged to a man in Maine, and that he had taken it as far as he could on an electric car and left it for the purpose of trying to lose it, but the brindle was back at his home before he got a fine of $5. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $5. and he was fined.

Van Horne Stopped in Third Round

NEW YORK, July 22.—Sam Langford, the clever and hard-hitting Boston middleweight, knocked out John Wille, the Chicago heavyweight, in the second round of their fight at the Navarre A. C. last night. Langford floored his opponent with a hard right hook to the jaw, and the big westerner was out for a minute.

So sudden was the knockout that few of the spectators realized that the fight was at an end. Just before the blow was delivered Langford managed to get over a left hook. The blow was a vicious one and shook the Chicagoan. He was plainly groggy, and the Boston fighter, seeing his opportunity, shot over the right. It was a short, snappy punch, but it served its purpose, and Wille fell to the floor as if struck by a cannon ball.

Langford had all the best of the fight from the first going. He outboxed the sturdy opponent, and had him practically at his mercy in the opening round and until he delivered the knockout punch.

Wille landed only two blows during the fight. Both were with hard swings and shook Langford, but considerably. One was a right to the ear in the first, and the other a wicked left to the stomach. Both were landed in the opening round.

KNOCKED OUT

UNK RUSSELL STOPS VAN HORNE OF COLUMBUS.

COLUMBUS, O., July 22.—In three rounds of the fastest kind of milling Russell Van Horne, the local welterweight, was knocked out in the third round of his bout with Unk Russell here last night.

After receiving one of Unk's hard blows in the pit of the stomach Van Horne reeled over on the floor and was unable to rise at the count of 10. It took several minutes to revive him after he was counted out.

The bout was fast and furious from the start. Van Horne played largely on Russell's face, thereby leaving good openings. Russell countered and Van Horne's stomach almost entirely broke down. Van Horne's stomach almost entirely broke down. Van Horne's stomach almost entirely broke down.

Van Horne landed the most blows, but he seemed to lack steam. The knockdown of the fight was the final one.

Billy Griffith of Cincinnati was at the ringside and challenged the winner. Plans are now on foot to match Jack Moran and Unk Russell here for grand circuit week in September.

WALCOTT FINED

COLORED PUGILIST HAS UNLICENSED DOG.

MAIDEN, July 22.—Joe Walcott, the colored pugilist, was before the district court yesterday on a complaint charging him with keeping an unlicensed dog at his home on Belmont street. He pleaded not guilty and said he kept one, which he licensed, but the other, a brindle dog, which stayed at his home part of the time, did not belong to him.

He said it belonged to a man in Maine, and that he had taken it as far as he could on an electric car and left it for the purpose of trying to lose it, but the brindle was back at his home before he got a fine of $5. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $5. and he was fined.

NOTABLE CASE OF CONTEMPT

THE FACT THAT MESSRS. GOMPERS, JOHN MITCHELL AND FRANK MORRISON, THE MOST PROMINENT LABOR LEADERS IN THIS COUNTRY ARE SUMMONED TO COURT ON THE CHARGE OF CONTEMPT WILL RIVET PUBLIC INTEREST ON THE INJUNCTION PLANKS OF BOTH POLITICAL PARTY PLATFORMS.

IT WILL ESPECIALLY APPEAL TO ALL LABORING MEN TO SUPPORT THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY WHICH ADVOCATES A REAL REFORM IN THE USE OF THE INJUNCTION ESPECIALLY IN INDUSTRIAL DISPUTES WHERE IT APPEARS THE CHIEF ABUSE OF THIS POWER OF THE COURTS PREVAILS. THE TRIAL WILL SERVE TO EMPHASIZE THE INADEQUACY OF THE PLANK IN THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

IN THE PARTICULAR CASE IN QUESTION THE INJUNCTION WAS HELD TO BE SUCH AN INFRINGEMENT UPON INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS THAT IT WAS OPENLY DENOUNCED BY MR. GOMPERS WHO SAID IN REFERENCE TO IT:

"SO FAR AS I AM CONCERNED I WISH TO STATE THIS: WHEN IT COMES TO A CHOICE BETWEEN SURRENDERING MY RIGHTS AS A FREE AMERICAN CITIZEN OR VIOLATING THE INJUNCTION OF THE COURT I DO NOT HESITATE TO SAY THAT I SHALL EXERCISE MY RIGHTS AS BETWEEN THE TWO."

IT IS CHARGED THAT JOHN MITCHELL PUT TO A VOTE AT A MEETING OF THE MINERS OF WHICH HE IS HEAD, A RESOLUTION IMPOSING A FINE OF $5 ON ANY MEMBER WHO WOULD PATRONIZE THE STOVE COMPANY IN QUESTION. AS THE INJUNCTION WAS AGAINST THE MAINTENANCE OF A BOYCOTT AGAINST THE COMPANY MR. MITCHELL'S ACTION WILL PROBABLY BE REGARDED IN A MORE SERIOUS LIGHT THAN THE UTTERANCE OF MR. GOMPERS.

WHILE THE CONSTITUTION AS INTERPRETED BY VARIOUS EMINENT AUTHORITIES, MAKES ILLEGAL THE BOYCOTT, YET THE FACT REMAINS AND CAN BE EASILY SHOWN THAT INJUNCTIONS OF THE MOST SWEEPING KIND HAVE BEEN ISSUED FOR TRIVIAL CAUSES AND WITHOUT FAIR CONSIDERATION OF THE RIGHTS OF BOTH SIDES IN THE CONTROVERSY.

THE PRESENT CHARGES OF CONTEMPT SHOULD BE TRIED BEFORE A JURY AND NOT LEFT TO THE EMPHATICISM OF ANY JUDGE IN TRYING TO UPHOLD WHAT MAY EVENTUALLY APPEAR TO BE AN ABUSE OF JUDICIAL POWER.

THE INJUNCTION PLANK OF THE DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM ALTHOUGH SUGGESTING BUT A SLIGHT CHANGE IN THE PRESENT LAW WOULD BE SUFFICIENT IF ENACTED INTO LAW TO OVERCOME ALL THE EVILS COMPLAINED OF.

TO PAVE MIDDLESEX STREET

THE PROPOSITION TO PAVE MIDDLESEX STREET WITH GRANITE BLOCKS SAME AS CENTRAL STREET IS A GOOD ONE. THAT STREET NEEDS TO BE PAVED AS FAR AS THE DEPOT BUT IT DOES NOT NEED IT ANY MORE THAN DOES MERRIMACK STREET FROM CITY HALL TO MERRIMACK SQUARE.

THE CHIEF CAUSE OF THE DELAY ON MERRIMACK STREET IS, THAT THE SEWER ON THAT STREET HAS TO BE LOWERED AND IT WILL REQUIRE A CONSIDERABLE TIME AFTERWARDS TO LET THE FILLING SETTLE SUFFICIENTLY TO WARRANT MAKING IT THE FOUNDATION FOR HEAVY PAVING.

THERE SHOULD BE NO NEEDLESS DELAY IN PAVING MERRIMACK STREET, HOWEVER, INASMUCH AS THAT STREET IS THE LEADING BUSINESS THOROUGHFARE, AND ONE UPON WHICH THERE IS GREAT TRAFFIC NOT ONLY BY ORDINARY CARRIAGES BUT BY AUTOMOBILES TO WHICH THE PRESENT ROUGH CONDITION OF THE STREET MUST BE VERY INJURIOUS. THE OWNERS OF AUTOS HAVE A HORROR OF THE UNEVEN BLOCK PAVEMENTS OVER WHICH RIDING IS BUT A CONTINUITY OF VIOLENT VIBRATIONS.

THE TROLLEY EXPRESS

IN SPITE OF DULL BUSINESS, EXPRESS RATES ARE STILL VERY HIGH. THE PEOPLE WOULD LIKE TO SEE THE TROLLEY EXPRESS STARTED, BUT SOMEHOW THAT ENTERPRISE SEEMS TO BE HELD UP. A TROLLEY EXPRESS WOULD DO A GREAT DEAL TO DEVELOP THE AGRICULTURAL INDUSTRIES IN THE DISTRICTS THROUGH WHICH THE TROLLEY LINES PASS. IT WOULD BE A SOURCE OF SAVING AND CONVENIENCE FOR THE FARMERS. THERE IS NO DENYING THE FACT THAT THE ELECTRIC CAR HAS BEEN A GREAT BLESSING TO THE TOLERS IN EVERY LINE OF BUSINESS. IT HAS AFFORDED THEM RAPID TRANSIT AT A SMALL EXPENSE. THE TROLLEY EXPRESS WOULD BE OF EQUAL ADVANTAGE TO THE FARMERS FOR THE TRANSPORTATION OF THEIR PRODUCE.

There, little man, don't cry! —Puck.

The following is from the fountain pen of "Bully," the bulletin artist: Four young men, members of one of the popular social clubs in the vicinity of Lincoln square, were coming in on a Lakeview car Sunday evening, when one of the number asked if there was a "princess" a certain woman was wearing. One of the fellows then asked, "What is a 'princess'?" Then the joker spoke up and replied, "A princess is a woman who marries a prince." He is expected to recover.

Ach, himmel! Dat iss it a good joke.

Billows of laughter went rolling up and down the bower yesterday when professional beer drinkers read the opinion of City Physician Gerbert, of Orange, N. J., to the effect that six glasses of beer a day are too much for any man. Dr. Gerbert's declaration was made in connection with his physical examination of a candidate for the fire department.

"Six mugs ain't too much for a fireman, eh?" echoed Chuck Connors with fine sarcasm. "Say, de booh dat gave birth to dat hawl ought to be in de nut orchard. And for a blaze heater, too. If dey ever pull dat gag on Croker's crowd de horses will be goin' to fires alone."

"Do you suppose you could drink more than six?" asked the reporter. "Think down de cotton, pal!" roared Chuck. "De drink de? I've only bin off de blankets an hour or so and I've planted fifteen pots already."

The reporter found the bower's chief exponent of the drama at Barney Flynn's liquid left, corner of Doyer street. A pony glass at this parlor looks like a lamp chimney, while the limit is a cross between a flower pot and an umbrella holder.

"We haven't used those pony glasses more than twice since we bought them," volunteered Mike Connors, the gentlemanly and garrulous bartender. "Chuck is a consistent performer, but he's in the kindergarten class compared with 'Galway Paddy' and 'Hoxie' Clarke. The former one night lapped up seventy-five scuttles of beer in about six hours and walked out the door as straight as the Singer building."

While the blue waters of the Sound were sipped by Monday afternoon and New York was disappearing in the distance, Baron Schlippenbach, the newly arrived Russian Consul-General to New York, on the afternoon of the flagship Helenita of the Seawanhaka Corinthian Yacht Club, presented to Frank Seymour Hastings, executor of the will of Grover Cleveland and vice-commander of the Seawanhaka Corinthian club, on behalf of the Russian Emperor the order of St. Stanislaus in recognition of his services as president of the Russian Symphony society.

Fifty or more guests, representatives of the various New York yacht clubs, prominent Russians and officers of the Seawanhaka Yacht Club as guests of Frank J. Gould, assembled on the deck of the Helenita about 3 o'clock to welcome Baron Schlippenbach.

When anchor was weighed and the Helenita's nose was pointed up the Sound, all hands adjourned to the afterdeck, where beneath the enlivened flags of the club and Russia the Consul General made a presentation speech. The Baron referred to the great historic friendship between Russia and the United States and the necessity for its preservation.

GAS METERS TOO FAST.

Worcester Post: National and even international interest has centered on the gas meter work of Governor Hughes' public service commission in New York. It is one of those things that are of universal interest and there's a reason for it.

The commission's first fiscal year closed June 30 and its report of its work shows 612 meters tested, on complaints, of which 76, or 12.4 per cent, were correct, 34.1 per cent, slow and 53.5 per cent, fast. Of the latter 11 per cent, were more than 2 per cent, fast.

It was costing 37 cents per 1000 to make as developed by Mr. Hughes in the extensive investigation, sold at 15 cents, and this much wind also going in at the same price, there ought to be a fair profit in the business.

WHEN THE BIRDS GET UP.

Lewiston Sun: What time do the birds get up in the morning? That first drowsy fluting outside your window is at a very early hour, anyway—you are probably too sleepy to look at the clock.

It sounds as if the little songsters were saying a prayer of thanks for the new day, though the old proverb cynically supposes he is only getting up to look for the early worm.

Early worm indeed! We suspect that worm must have sat up all night to be out and about before the birds.

FOR COURT REVIEW.

Johnstown Democrat: There is one plank in the prohibition platform that we heartily endorse. It demands a "court review" of postoffice department rulings. In no other department of the public service has arbitrary rule been further extended than in that of the postoffice. A great body of rules and regulations has been promulgated without warrant of law and rules and regulations are enforced regardless of reason and justice. A practical censorship is exercised by the postmaster general and in more than one instance private property has been destroyed and personal rights invaded on some pretext or another which could not possibly have stood the test of a court review. The prohibitionists ought to make this the paramount issue of their campaign.

LESSON TO RECKLESS DRIVERS.

Lawrence Eagle: In police court yesterday a man was fined for reckless driving. Briefly stated he carelessly drove upon the sidewalk and one wheel struck a little girl, knocking her down. It so happened that this man was arrested, brought into court and fined. The probability is, however, that 20 or 30 other drivers were just as reckless Saturday as was this one. Very likely they did not run over anyone and so were not summoned to court. The action was the same however, and they were simply fortunate.

As Judge McHoney intimated, there is altogether too much reckless driving about town. The drivers of heavy wagons take too many chances in their haste. There should be a stop to this recklessness in rounding corners and driving near sidewalks where children are at play or older people passing.

November. An accident to one of his legs several years ago while he was in Africa and a further weakening of his system when he was in Cuba early last year had their effects on the progress of the disease.

Senior Menocal was born in Cuba of a family prominent there. He came to this country in his early twenties to study at the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute at Troy. He was graduated from that school in 1882 and returned to Cuba. From 1883 until 1889 he was second in command in the engineering department of the Havana water-works. He left that place to be engineer of the Department of the Public Works in New York city. He remained in the service of this city until 1892, when he was appointed to his place in Cuba.

He was chief engineer of all the government of a ship canal from the practicability of a ship canal from the Atlantic to the Pacific both in Nicaragua and Panama. He was engineer for the Maritime Canal company of Nicaragua. He made all the plans and estimates for a ship canal through Nicaragua. In 1879 he was in Paris as a delegate to the canal congress there, appointed to the place by President Hayes. He was decorated there as a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor by President Grevy.

At the meeting of the Atlanta Baptist Ministers' association Monday, there was a chorus of cheers when Dr. John E. White, pastor of the Second Baptist church, in defending John D. Rockefeller declared:

"John D. Rockefeller has always been a good Baptist and a good philanthropist. I think it is abominable the way he is traduced. We all know that Mr. Rockefeller is not the demon he is painted."

While we are not in sympathy with the Standard Oil, we are aware that Mr. Rockefeller has always been a good Baptist and a good philanthropist and he deserves our appreciation for what he has done for the Baptist church and for education."

After the cheering subsided the association gave its approval of Dr. White's words and voted thanks to Mr. Rockefeller for the work he has done for education. The action of the ministers will be reported to Mr. Rockefeller by Dr. White, who leaves tomorrow for Cleveland to serve in Mr. Rockefeller's Euclid avenue church during the absence of the pastor.

RODE 29 MILES

Motor Cycle Ran Away
With Youth

GREAT BARRINGTON, July 22.—Although Charles McCarthy, who is not qualified as driver of a motor cycle, he has passed a thrilling unofficial obstacle test in 30 miles of continuous riding at high speed. McCarthy wanted to ride a machine, so yesterday he got astride one, and a friend started it for him. Then the scenery began to change.

The machine took McCarthy through the main street at a rapid clip and started toward Sheffield. He dodged the teams and managed to keep out of the way of the trolley.

Soon he began to realize that he could not stop the machine, as he did not know how, and on he continued to Sheffield, a distance of six miles.

He cried out for somebody to stop him, but no one was fast enough to catch him nor would they take a chance of being run down if they could reach him.

On to Ashley Falls he went, over the railroad crossing, fortunately without meeting a train, and passed through Ashley Falls and to Canaan, a distance of 13 miles.

At Canaan he could not stop, but the roads were such that he could get turned around in the direction for home. He then went back over the 12 miles without an accident, but when he reached Great Barrington he could not stop and on he went to Housatonic, five more miles, making 29 in all.

Then the machine broke down and he was released.

BOSTON, July 22.—In the municipal court yesterday before Judge Burke, Charles H. Stone of 43 Lenox street, Roxbury, charged with selling watered milk, was found guilty on 10 counts and fined $50 on each count, a total of $500, said to be the largest fine for this offence in the history of the state. He was charged with 12 counts by the inspectors, who claimed they had found from 10 to 25 percent water in his milk. The other two counts, that of selling and keeping watered milk in his possession were placed on file.

WANTS DIVORCE

Virginia Harned Sues
E. H. Sothorn

RENO, Nev., July 22.—Virginia Harned Sothorn has filed in the district court here a suit asking divorce from her husband, Edward H. Sothorn. The document is sealed and only the praecipe is available, but details are being furnished by theatrical friends of both parties to the suit.

There is considerable surprise and much talk about Reno over the fact that Virginia Harned is supposed to have been residing in this state for six months, a portion of that time in Reno. She has managed to hold residence here six months without her story breaking. Her whereabouts at the present time is the baffling question. Her attorneys fail to discuss the matter in any manner whatever. The details will therefore remain a mystery for some months, until the case is called in court.

Mr. Sothorn is in town with Mr. Ward. Yesterday they held a consultation with attorneys. Mr. Sothorn refuses to discuss the matter, saying it will all come out in due time.

From what can be learned about the corridors, a contest is not expected, as it is thought the matter has been satisfactorily settled between the contestants. It has been a bit of scandal in theatrical circles for some time. In fact, a short time after the dramatic marriage of Sothorn and his wife, some six years ago, it was said the union would be broken and Nevada courts would be the setting of the scene.

LOWELL THE WINNER

Defeating Haverhill in a Close Game

"Billy" Hamilton and his Haverhill aggregation made their first appearance at Washington park for a long time. The fans were rather disappointed at not finding Frank Shannon, the former Lowell shortstop, in the lineup of the visiting team, but it was announced that he was laid up with a sore hand.

The Lowells presented a rather mixed up team. Howard was out of the game with a sprained ankle. He was injured Monday while playing at Haverhill and was attended by Uncle, of the Lowell team, who is a doctor. Greenwell was scheduled to do the slob work, but had to go to Wilmington, N. H., having received a telegram that a relative of his was very ill.

Uncle Linn was on hand and after making a neat speech announcing that Fall River would be the attraction here today and tomorrow, called the game at 3:15 o'clock.

FIRST INNING.
The home team scored three runs in the first inning, while the visitors were unable to send a man across the plate. Poland, the first man up for Haverhill, drew a base on balls and went to second on a sacrifice by West. Courtney hit to Uncle and was out at first while Boardman struck out.

In the latter half of the inning Vandergrift was given a free pass. Connors hit to right field and Vandergrift went to third, while Connors went to second. Vandergrift tried to work the squeeze play, but the ball delivered to the batter was wide and Zinsar was unable to hit it. Vandergrift was away off third and the ball was sent to third, but Vandergrift managed to score, while a little later Connors went to third. Zinsar singled to left field, scoring Connors. Magee sacrificed and scored. Zinsar followed with a single to center field, scoring Vandergrift. Uncle hit to right field for a two-bagger, sending Boardman to third. Doran fled to Poland and Boardman tried to score but was nailed at the plate.

SECOND INNING.

ment that Washington park is Haverhill's Jonah grounds.

Who ever says or thinks that Lowell is an easy team to beat has another guess coming to him. Shannon's team only needs a little bit of luck and it will make the very best teams in the league hustle. New Bedford Times.

Many thanks for these encouraging remarks.

DIAMOND NOTES.

Fall River today and tomorrow with the usual proviso relative to rain. Owing to the skillful construction of the grounds, etc. if the rain ceases by 2:30 there will be a game.

Kennison is having a lay-off without.

Little Larry Lanigan, the ump who officiated yesterday and today, wasn't a kick from start to finish. He made just one little excusable error. In making his customary announcement of the batter he made a blind stab at Lemieux's name and referred to him as "Lemon." There's nothing lemony about Baptiste. He's playing the game.

Fred Lake blew into town last evening after a tour of northern New York. Fred has a few phenoms in mind whom he will flash upon the Boston American management later in the season.

Connors is playing a double fielding game at second and is batting all right. Yet he prefers first base.

Leaving the batteries out, Lowell at present has the strongest team of many seasons.

Martin, the Beverly pitcher, recommended by the man who, when he was in the Beverly-Rockport game, Saturday he struck out 10 men and in the previous game he fanned 14.

It's quite handy to have a doctor on the team. When Howard wrenched his ankle a few days ago Dr. Uncle attended him without loss of time and made him comfortable. The injury is rather serious and will incapacitate Howard for several days.

All well intentioned boys and in fact boys generally, will have to settle to get in today, the free list being suspended on account of the charity fete.

Lowell played an errorless game. Hooley, three times.

Billy Hamilton voiced his disappointment last evening, with the state-

IN POLICE COURT

Man Charged With Cruelly Driving Horse

SEVERAL DRUNKS DISPOSED OF

Judge Pickman Shows Deserved Leniency

James A. Riley was charged with enticing and remaining without right in the dwelling house of Ella M. Riley, also with cruelly driving a horse on the 15th of July. He pleaded guilty to both complaints and asked for a continuance till Friday morning owing to the fact that his attorney is out of town. He wanted to be released on his own recognizance but the court could not see his way clear to comply with the request and held him under $500 bonds for his appearance Friday.

Daniel M. Donohoe, a third offender pleaded guilty. His case was continued till Saturday morning.

Cornelius O'Hearn, a fourth offender, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to three months in jail.

Michael J. Burns and John H. Brady, second offenders, were fined $5 each.

Two first offenders were taxed $2 each.

SENT TO JAIL

Henry Westerstrand, who up to about six months ago was a hard working, industrious and sober man, was before the court this morning charged with being drunk. He pleaded guilty, but the court was inclined to be lenient, though decided that the man's condition would warrant a few days' rest in jail. Judge Pickman continued the case till Saturday and in the meantime Westerstrand will stay in jail. Judge Pickman said: "I am going to put you away for two or three days where you won't have a chance to get run. You have an appetite for rum and it would not do to have you go out now in your present condition."

Philip M. McCaffrey, charged with failing to provide proper support for his wife and minor children, was sentenced to two months in jail, sentence being suspended and he was placed in the hands of the probation officer.

Isabella Hyder and Mary E. Roper were taken from a house in an alleyway in the rear of lower Market street yesterday morning by Patrolman Wil-

Ham G. Bumps, and were booked at the police station for drunkenness. The arresting officer said that the house was filthy, that it was frequented by men and women and used as a resort for drunken carousals. The Roper woman was sentenced to ten days in jail while the Roper woman was placed on probation.

WATER FAMINE CALL TO LABOR

Threatens the City of Quebec

QUEBEC, July 22.—Never in the days of sieges, even in earliest days, when Indians surrounded the infant settlement, did Quebec experience the famine of the last 24 hours, for the water mains burst and the city, with its thousands of visitors, was without water.

Champagne, beer, whiskey, unlimited, but scarcely a drop of plain water was to be had. Corks popping everywhere, but not a plectrum faucet running. Fifty cents for a bottle of some kind of fancy water to wash one's face and hands, and baths beyond price.

It was an all too realistic reversion to the pioneer days of no bathtubs. Things were rapidly approaching the crisis for the celebration when last evening water began trickling through the pipes. It was given a heartier welcome than the Prince of Wales will get today. Pageants and parades were almost abandoned for soap and towels, and the whole town fell to washing.

THE PRESIDENT

To Look Over Judge Taft's Speech

CANDIDATE REFUSES AN ELEPHANT

Offered to Him as a Mascot

HOT SPRINGS, Va., July 22.—President Roosevelt is to review in advance the speech Judge Taft will deliver in Cincinnati next Tuesday.

"I have decided to make this speech what may be my most important utterance of the campaign. I have the highest regard for the president's judgment regarding the subjects to be dealt with, and a keen appreciation of his wonderful ability for forceful expressions. I want his judgment and his criticism, and this cannot be satisfactorily obtained at long range, so I have decided to go to Oyster Bay."

This statement made yesterday by Mr. Taft indicates his view regarding the announcement of his intended trip which, he says, is to be taken on his own and not on the president's initiative. He will leave here with Mr. Carpenter, his secretary, tonight. On reaching Jersey City, Thursday afternoon, he will enter an automobile which will take him through New York city to Sagamore Hill without delay. Mr. Taft has been invited to spend the night as the guest of the president, but if he finds it possible to get his speech in the hands of the printer in New York before Friday, he will return to that city and occupy quarters reserved for him at the Manhattan hotel. In any event, he will leave New York for Cincinnati Friday afternoon. This he says will give him two days there before the notification ceremonies are upon him. Should Mr. Taft decide to be with her husband Tuesday, she will go to Cincinnati direct from here, thus avoiding the fatigue of the journey to New York. The plan for President Roosevelt's participation in the review of the speech, which is regarded as having a number of significant features from a political point of view, was finally decided upon at four o'clock yesterday morning, that being the time of the exchange of the last telegrams between the candidate and the president. It was made clear that throughout the preparation of the speech, which is undergoing final revision at the hands of Mr. Taft, frequent and extended consultation has been had with the president. The mails, the telegraph and the telephone have been used for this purpose.

In emphasizing the political importance of the speech, Mr. Taft said yesterday that the first intention to have the utterance only a simple and formal acknowledgment of the notification had been finally abandoned, in view of the growing importance and number of subjects which seemed to crowd themselves forward for consideration. The speech will doubtless contain approximately twelve thousand words. No forecast of the subjects discussed and the method of their treatment will be made in advance with the consent of Mr. Taft.

Representative Joseph J. Gaines, of West

Virginia, dropped in to pay a neighborly call on Mr. Taft.

While here, Mr. Gaines spoke his mind against a national campaign publicity law, which would tend, he believed, to discredit the personal integrity of campaign managers, and lower the moral standard of the standard of morality in that quarter. He is chairman of the house committee on the election of the president, vice president and members of congress, which has to do with such legislation.

Judge Taft made his best golf score of the season yesterday, and played through several heavy showers, his partner being Sen. Jonathan Bourne, of Oregon, and each made the score of 51, while Frank D. Kellogg and J. H. Hoyt, of Cleveland, went down to defeat, 59 to 109.

Mr. Taft received the following telegram yesterday from Chairman Hitchcock of the national committee, and declined an elephant, offered by W. W. Powers, of Rhode Island:

"Pikes Peak Summit, Colorado, July 21. 'Hon. William H. Taft, Hot Springs, Va.: 'Republican leaders from every state west of the Missouri river join with me in sending you greetings from top of Pikes Peak. We are now on top and except to be on top when the returns come in next November. (Signed) 'Frank H. Hitchcock.'"

"Riverside, R. I., July 21. 'Would you accept (free of one of the Powers hippodrome elephants as republican party emblem and mascot in fall campaign? You may remember seeing them at Cumberland, Md. Please write reply at my expense. Providence, R. I., care Crescent Park. (Signed) 'W. W. Powers.'"

The answer to this was: "I am very much obliged to you for your generous offer, but I am afraid your elephant, indeed, would be very much better able to take care of him than I, and I hope that wherever he is he will constitute a mascot both for you and for me. (Signed) 'W. H. Taft.'"

SHOT INTRUDER

Woman Says Be Tried to Assault Her

WATERTOWN, July 22.—An 18-year-old woman, known in East Watertown as one of the prettiest belles of the Armenian colony, was taken into custody yesterday afternoon on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon upon a man who, she asserted, had entered her home against her wishes, and who was arrested on a charge of alleged attempt at criminal assault after she had shot him through the cheek.

The young woman is Mrs. Kaganosh Boghalian, who was married five years ago, when only 13 years old, to Daniel Boghalian, a Cambridge barber, and who resides with her husband and their 4-year-old child at 52 Crawford street, East Watertown.

The man whom she shot and seriously injured is Kerop Jallilian, 27 years old, who boards at the home of Charles Ohanian at 22 Crawford street, two houses from the Boghalian home. Up to last week he had been employed in the factory of the Boghalian family, but because of the infatuation for the pretty wife of his neighbor.

According to the story told by Mrs. Boghalian, as well as by a number of neighbors, Jallilian had sought entrance to her home several times in the last few days when her husband had left for Cambridge to attend to his employment. Each time, she says, she implored him to leave the dwelling.

LARGE DECREASE

IN NUMBER OF IMMIGRANTS ARRIVING IN JUNE

WASHINGTON, July 22.—There has been a decrease of 79 per cent in the number of immigrants who arrived in this country in June as against June of 1907. In that month last year 154,734 immigrants landed here from all countries, while in June, 1908, only 31,947 arrived, according to the monthly report issued today. For nearly nine months, the number of immigrants arriving here has been decreasing. The decrease began in October last and immigration officials attribute it to the financial and commercial depression, knowledge of which was communicated by letters here to friends and relatives in their former homes. The largest decrease shown is from Italy. In June, 1907, 41,614 persons arrived from that country, but only 2,015 Italians came last month.

The Russian empire and Finland contributed for June last 4,992 aliens as against 52,112 a year ago. France shows the smallest number of immigrants from populous European countries, sending 171 as against 518 a year ago.

Chinese immigration, according to the report, is decidedly small. From that country 120 persons were admitted as against 91 for June, 1907. From Japan came 566 persons as against 2,224 in June a year ago.

There were 543 persons deported, and of these 132 were kept out because they were suffering from trachoma, a disease of the eyes, and 222 because they were likely to become public charges.

JOHN MITCHELL

Gompers Urges All Workers to Support Bryan

WASHINGTON, July 22.—"We now call upon the workers of our common country to stand faithfully by our friends, oppose and defeat our enemies, whether they be candidates for president, for congress, or other offices, whether executive, legislative or judicial."

In these words Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, sums up an editorial in the Federationist, the official organ of union labor, attacking the republican candidates and platform and declaring in favor of Mr. Bryan.

A history of the fight over labor planks at Chicago and Denver is given. Mr. Gompers declares in the editorial that the injunction plank in the republican platform is a pronouncement, and not an anti-injunction declaration.

"Labor asked the republican convention for bread, and it gave a stone," says Mr. Gompers. Later on the editorial says:

"We desire to repeat here that we believe that the whole mass of the workers of the country will respond in hearty sympathy with the democratic party in the coming campaign as a result of its action in the labor planks of the platform. They will be of practical benefit to the workers."

"We have no hesitation in urging the workers and our friends throughout the country to support the party in this campaign which has shown its sympathy with our wrongs and its desire to remedy them and to see that the rights of the people are restored."

"We say this not necessarily because it is the democratic party which has done this. We would urge the workers to support any party which had incorporated our demands into its platform and promised to work for their fulfillment."

Mr. Gompers denied that he has promised to deliver the labor vote to Mr. Bryan. But he says, editorially:

"The republican party definitely lines up with the corporate interests of the country and defies the people to help themselves. On the other hand, the democratic party indorses labor's demands and pledges itself to carry them into effect if it is put in power."

"We earnestly ask the workers and their friends to make the choice which is in accordance with their best interests. We ask them to remember their moral obligations to cast their votes for those who will protect and defend their rights. If they fail to do so they will have to reckon with even a worse condition of affairs than now obtains."

"While we do not wish in any way to interfere with each man's right to choose his own political affiliations, yet we say frankly that the worker who, in this campaign, supports the party of the capitalists who have contemptuously and boastfully announced hostility to labor's interests—well, he will have to reckon with his own conscience and with his fellow-workers."

"We now urge upon the workers to take up the campaign with the utmost enthusiasm and energy. Scan every card, read every record, study his party platform. Be not deceived by vague, unofficial, plausible promises and friendship. Let partisan affiliations be cast aside in the great struggle to preserve our rights and our freedom."

JOHN MITCHELL

SAYS DEMOCRATIC PLANK IS IN LABOR'S OWN TERMS.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 22.—John Mitchell, ex-president of the United Mine Workers, was in the city yesterday. He came down from his home at Spring Valley, Ill., on private business and returned to Chicago last night. He and W. D. Ryan, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers, were at the hotel English for dinner and were in conference yesterday afternoon.

"What do you think, Mr. Mitchell, of the republican and the democratic platforms adopted at Chicago and Denver?" he was asked.

"From the standpoint of labor, the democratic platform is decidedly the better. Those declarations on the injunction and the anti-trust laws in the democratic platform were written by the American Federation of Labor executive board and were incorporated into the platform word for word. In addition to that, the Denver platform is clear on the eight-hour day and other demands of organized labor."

"Do you think the Denver platform, together with Mr. Taft's status with the American Federation of Labor because of his judicial rulings, will have

BIG LOAN ORDER

ALDERMEN VOTED IT LAST NIGHT

Dr. Jones' Name Still on the Table

Orator Sykes' Order for Hearing Defeated

Mayor Farnham did not send the name of his secretary to the board of aldermen last night, but the rumor that Mr. Cheney will receive the mayor's appointment to the position of milk inspector will not down. Edwards Cheney heads the mayor's short list, a rather dangerous position as many can tell.

The aldermen got together in due time, or thereabouts, last evening and, in concurrence with the common council, voted to borrow $25,000 for the paving of Middlesex street from Towne's corner to Garnet street.

WIGGINVILLE CONTROVERSY.

There was an order from Richard Sykes for a hearing on the question of changing the name of Wiggville. Mr. Sykes is very anxious to have the name remain unmolested, and a hearing would give Wiggville's orator a chance to show his prowess as a speaker and parliamentarian.

City Messenger Puttee says that if Mr. Sykes is even given the opportunity to warm up on an important question at city hall he will have his janitors around with baskets picking up the dropped 'S's. As to the Wiggville matter, however, the mountain-lion voice of the man from Wiggville may not be heard. It was the sense of the meeting last night that the city council hasn't anything to do with changing Wiggville's name.

When the matter was approached, Aldermen Brennan and Gray said 'to cut it out and get down to something that the board had to do with and the joint order for a hearing before both branches of the city council went to the city clerk's graveyard without a single vote to mourn its loss.

REPAIR LOAN TABLED.

A joint loan order for $7300 for the repair of schools and other public buildings was laid on the table on motion of Alderman Comerford and, contrary to the suggestion of Alderman O'Hearn, who favored favorable action in order that the repairs might be made during the vacation season.

Petitions of the Lowell Electric Light Corporation for pole locations in Lawrence and Varney streets, and of the New England Telephone company for pole locations in Ludlum and Windsor streets, were read and hearings on them ordered for next Tuesday.

The appointment of Joseph U. Wells by the mayor, as a weigher of coal, was confirmed, as were the mayor's appointments of William F. Stevens as a weigher of hay and a surveyor of lumber, and John R. Viera, Joa Ramos and Joseph Avila as weighers of coal and other articles.

The hearing relative to the petition of the New England Telephone company for pole locations in Lawrence street brought forth neither petitioners nor remonstrants.

A joint resolution to lay a sidewalk on a portion of the northerly side of Eighth avenue was adopted.

A joint order to transfer $25 from the fund for the Fourth of July observance to the fund for municipal band concerts was adopted.

A joint order transferring the care of the Fayette street school grounds from the buildings department to the park department was adopted.

On motion of Alderman Gray it was voted that when adjournment takes place it be to next Tuesday night.

The joint order to borrow $25,000 to pave Middlesex street was adopted in concurrence.

On motion of Alderman Gray the order for $3500 for improvements on Monument square was taken from the table and adopted in concurrence.

A resolution calling upon the county commissioners that changes be made in the Billerica street bridge in Wiggville was adopted.

The joint resolution to change the name of Wiggville to Concord Heights was read and Mr. Gray moved that the resolution lay on the table. Voted.

Mr. Gray moved that the mayor's nomination of Dr. W. M. Jones for the board of health be taken from the table. The motion was defeated. Adjourned.

The mayor's appointment of Charles E. Alway as assistant fire engineer was confirmed.

CHASING ROBBER

Armed Men Have Him Surrounded

LIMA, O., July 22.—Word reached here at midnight from Lafayette, seven miles west of Ada, where an attempt was made to rob the First National bank, to the effect that a posse of 40 armed men is chasing one of the supposed robbers and have him surrounded in a field of growing corn. Owing to the darkness, it was decided to maintain a cordon of guards around the field until morning. So far no trace of the other two men implicated in the attempted robbery has been reported.

PRIVATE SESSION

Of Monetary Commission to Continue

NARRAGANSETT PIER, R. I., July 22.—Although no definite announcement has been made to that effect, it is believed that the national monetary commission has completed the preliminary stages of preparation for their consideration of plans for currency legislation and that at today's sessions the active discussion of the subject will be begun. Informal talks among the members have served to give each a general idea of the work to be accomplished and with the first progress toward a discussion of the needs of existing legislation and desirable remedies it is believed that the entire financial system of the country can be overhauled and suggestions made for the drafting of legislation calculated to solve all possible financial crises in the future. That the active work of the commission is really at hand is evidenced by the announcement of the coming of the secretary of the treasury, George B. Cortelyou and Assistant Secretary L. A. Coolidge, the latter in charge of the finance branch of the treasury department to confer with the members of the commission on questions pertaining to current matters in the treasury administration and also to give suggestions on the work in hand.

The private sessions of the commission will be continued while it is in session but it is probable that during the latter part of the meeting a statement may be prepared for publication in the press indicating what progress has been made.

ALUMNI MEETING

St. Patrick's Boys Arranging for Banquet

The alumni held its adjourned meeting last evening and transacted considerable important business. A large gathering of members was present when Pres. Jas. A. O'Brien called to order and in the absence of Secretary Gookin, John Crowley was elected pro tem. The charter list was closed and the membership roll now includes graduates from practically every class since the foundation of the academy in 1882. Much enthusiasm was shown when it was announced that the secretary had received the enrollment and membership fee from a student non-resident in Denver, Colo. The older students are thoroughly interested and are doing good work in interesting their classmates.

It was voted to hold the banquet to be tendered to the graduating class of 1908, in the Waverly house on Thursday evening, August 6. Applications from the members for banquet tickets should be made to the financial secretary before August 5. The banquet committee was given full power and promise a good evening's pleasure for every one who attends. Considerable minor business was disposed of and then the members talked informally of their plans for fall and winter and adjourned till the next regular meeting in October.

WHY?

Why is it that no merchant can build up a large and successful business nowadays without advertising in the newspapers? Because people look to the newspapers for the announcements of the merchants. The dealer who does not make announcements to the people through the daily papers is soon forgotten by the buying public and quickly left behind in the race for business.

Talk to the people through the columns of The Sun and they will bear you in mind when they need anything in your line.

The Sun having the largest circulation in Lowell is therefore the cheapest and most effective advertising medium in the city. It is unquestionably

KILLED BROTHER BISHOP POTTER

Frank Baldasara Was Crazed by Jealousy

STONINGTON, Me., July 22.—Crazed with jealousy over the attentions of his brother to his sweetheart, who lived in this town, Frank Baldasara, aged 30 years, last night shot and instantly killed Antonio Baldasara, aged 25 years, in an Italian quarrel in camp in Cortich Island. Baldasara then turned the weapon on his uncle, Edoardo Serretti, aged 40 years, who interfered to prevent his escape and shot him through the neck. The latter is seriously wounded, but expected to live.

He was about to leave the camp where he had been employed for four years past and it is claimed had made threats against his brother. His anger was aroused last night, by some remarks made by Antonio, whereupon he drew out a revolver and fired point blank at his brother. The first bullet went straight through the heart, another was sent into the man's breast as he lay on the floor and still another into his arm.

Serretti, who was one of a party of four present, grabbed his nephew Frank in an endeavor to stop the shooting, and was wounded.

Baldasara made his escape to the island and has not been apprehended. The island has been surrounded by the police and it is believed that the man will be taken today.

THE LATE BISHOP POTTER.

Died at His Summer Home Last Night

COOPERSTOWN, N. Y., July 22.—Henry Codrington Potter, seventh Protestant Episcopal bishop of the diocese of New York, died last night at his summer home here after an illness of several weeks. The bishop was unconscious all day, and the end, which came at 8:33 last night, was peaceful. He was 74 years of age.

Gathered at the bedside of the dying churchman were Mrs. Potter, his wife; Mrs. Mason C. Davidge, who came from California, and Miss Sarah Potter, his two daughters; Alonzo Potter, his son; Edward S. Clark, Stephen Clark and Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Clark, Mrs. Charles Russell and William Hyde, who are abroad, have been notified.

Death was due primarily to embolism in the right leg following a long attack of liver and stomach trouble and the end had been foreseen for several days by the physicians. Bishop Potter suffered a severe relapse Monday morning and though oxygen was given, his decline was gradual and he sank into unconsciousness early yesterday and it lasted until the end.

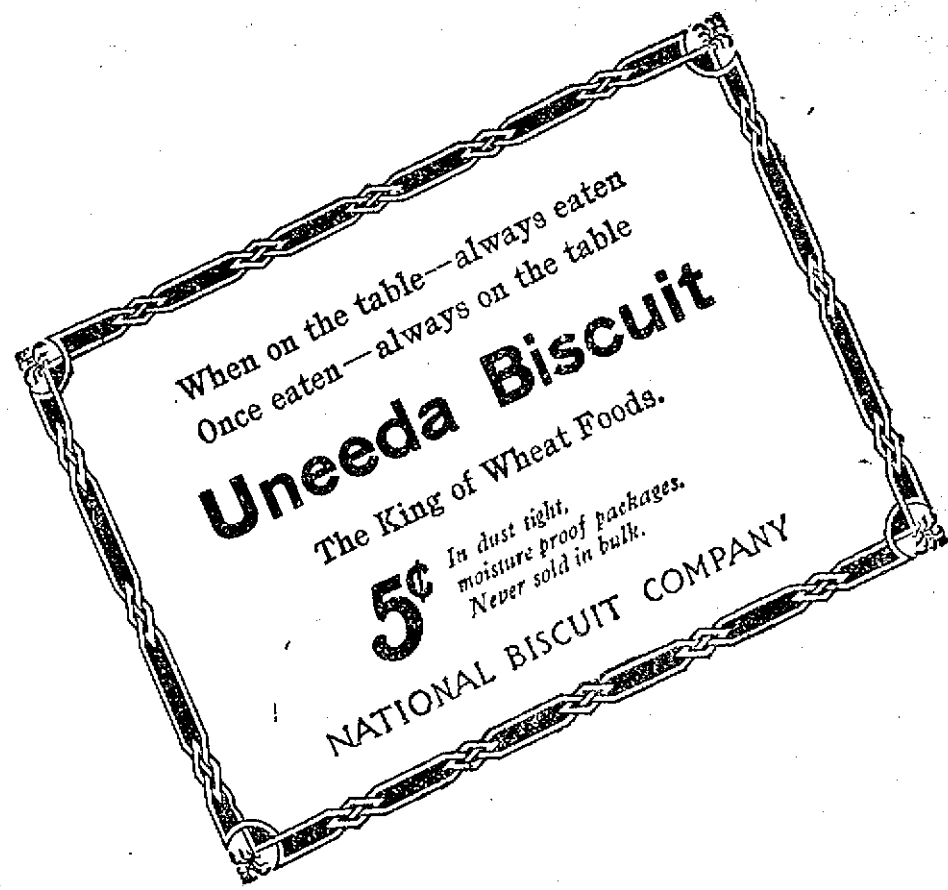

The physicians issued the following announcement of death last night: "Bishop Potter passed peacefully away at 8:35 tonight. His strength gradually failed during the past 24 hours and there was no physical suffering or pain."

"J. E. Janvlin, M. D., M. J. Bassett, M. D., No arrangements have as yet been made, but it is probable that services will be held here and that the body will be removed to New York where a public funeral will be held at Grace church."

Brother Lester of Golden Rule lodge of Manchester, N. H., was present and made an address. Mr. C. C. Fullerton made interesting remarks and outlined his program for the next six months. He asked the co-operation of the members in the work. Remarks were also made by P. C. H. V. Kittredge, Gordon, Joy, Clark and others.

The Betsy Ross Circle, Ladies of the G. A. R., met last night at Post 157 hall and transacted considerable business. The circle voted to hold a supper and social July 27 at Sister Sawtelle's home.

Columbia council, O. U. A. M. met in regular session Monday night at its hall in Middle street and considerable business was transacted during the evening. At the conclusion of the regular business meeting the new board of officers

MISS MCCAUSLAN

Tells About Affidavit Against Gould

NEW YORK, July 22.—Mrs. Ben Teal, wife of a prominent theatrical manager, and one of the three persons arrested in connection with the alleged plot to manufacture divorce evidence against Frank Gay Gould, the millionaire, was compelled to spend nearly four hours in a cell in the Tombs last evening before bail could be secured.

Great consideration was shown Mrs. Teal in the Centre street police court, where she was arraigned with Mrs. Julia Fleming, a seamstress, and Henry S. Mousley, a private detective, the other two who figured in the alleged conspiracy. When Magistrate Corrigan held the trio in $5000 bail each, Mousley quickly found a bondsman; but the two women were not so fortunate.

Mrs. Teal had to be supported on her way to the Tombs by Mrs. Fleming. She was weeping hysterically.

It was not until 8 o'clock that Mr. Teal succeeded in getting bail for his wife. As soon as Mrs. Teal was free, she jumped into a carriage and was driven away. Mr. Teal did not get a bondsman for Mrs. Fleming.

Miss McCauslan, who says she is 19 years old, and describes herself as a milliner, in her affidavit says she went to the Teal apartment on July 16. Mrs. Fleming was present. While there Mrs. Teal asked her if she wanted to earn some money, and upon her replying that she did, Mrs. Teal, she affirms, said:

"You know that I sub-let my apartment in the Glenmore to Miss Devoe. Now, Mrs. Gould is suing her husband for a divorce and he has been calling on Miss Devoe at the Glenmore. The stronger the evidence is against Mr. Gould, the more alimony Mrs. Gould will get. You have been to my apartment in the Glenmore while I occupied that apartment, and you know the arrangement of the rooms."

"Then," the affidavit continues, "Mrs. Teal told me that she would be required of her would be to testify in the said divorce suit that while deponent was in the Glenmore, she saw Mr. Gould, the defendant in the action, come out of the bedroom of Miss Devoe; that if deponent would make an affidavit to that effect, and would give testimony before the referee in said suit, to the same effect, the deponent would be given about $600 in money and would be sent to the country and paid an allowance; that they would give deponent at least $100 down upon her signing the affidavit."

"Deponent refused to make affidavit in question or to give any testimony, because deponent knew it was a lie, and that she did not swear to a lie."

The affidavit goes on to declare that both Mrs. Teal and Mrs. Fleming urged her to change her mind.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

Garfield colony, Pilgrim Fathers, met last night in Pilgrim hall. There was a big attendance of members and considerable routine business was transacted during the meeting. A communication was received announcing the observance of Pilgrim day, July 29, at Wonderland, Revere beach. Deputy Supreme Governor Bernard J. Keaveney of Lawrence paid his first official visit to the colony. He was accompanied by several members of his own colony, among them being Secretary Eugene P. White and Frank McAnelly and several ladies. They gave interesting addresses. Following the business session a social hour was enjoyed. Refreshments were served.

A largely attended meeting of Empire colony, U. O. P. E., was held Monday night and considerable business was brought before the body for consideration. Two applications for membership were received. There will be a class initiation Monday evening, August 3. Visitors were present from Bay State and Garfield colonies.

The local and Lawrence committee in charge of the trolley party and dance of the Lowell Evening High School Alumni association, held at the home of Elliott F. Wood, in Fourth street, this city. It was reported that the amount realized after expenses had been paid was far greater than expected.

At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served, after which a program consisting of the following was carried out: Song, John H. Shea; recitation, Miss Maguire; whistling solo, Henry V. O'Brien; piano selection, Elliott F. Wood; song, Miss Madeline Flanders; piano selection, Miss Judge; selections by the alumni quartet, J. Daley, Ed. Glennon, A. Stuart and E. Parsons.

The regular meeting of Samuel H. Hines, Knights of Pythias, was held last night and was well attended. The committee in charge of the Hines-Warwick club outing at Mountain Rock grave next Saturday submitted a favorable report.

BRUTAL MURDER

Woman's Throat Cut and Body Crushed Into Small Closet

BOSTON, July 22.—A brutal murder was disclosed last night by the discovery of the body of Mrs. Emma Payrow, aged 38 years, gagged and with her throat cut, crushed into a small closet in one of the apartments at 200 Columbus avenue, in the Back Bay.

The woman's body was found by her husband, Charles Payrow, when he returned to his room late last evening. Not finding his wife in their rooms, he departed of George Fred Williams, who conferred last night with Mr. Bryan after coming direct from Massachusetts. It was not generally known here that Mr. Williams had returned from the Denver convention. It is presumed that he conferred with Governor Douglas about the matter at the request of Mr. Bryan while in the east. The appointment of Gov. Douglas as national chairman, it was said, would meet the requirements which it is desired that the national chairman shall possess. He is a man of large means and political experience, he is popular with the laboring class and his attitude on the tariff question completely meets the democratic ideal. When asked last night for a confirmation of the report, Mr. Bryan said he could not discuss the matter until after the meeting of the subcommittee in Chicago Saturday next.

MANCHESTER VETS. GETTING READY FOR LOWELL MUSTER.

The members of the Manchester Veteran Firemen's association are making great plans for attending the annual muster of the New England league, which will be held in this city Thursday, Aug. 29. The company will have a special train for the transportation of its members and the many friends who are expected to accompany them on this occasion, and one or more cars will be reserved for ladies and their escorts. It is expected that a full band will be taken along to furnish music.

The prizes offered for the Lowell muster aggregate a large sum, and are particularly attractive. All are in cash. The first four companies in the play will receive respectively $200, $150, $100 and $50, this being the limit allowed by the association rules, but there will also be given to these first four prize winners, $100, $75, $50 and $25 in their order. Still more money will reward the winners. The first six companies in the order at the finish of the play will receive $50 each, and the next twelve will receive $25 each. For the parade, a prize of $50 will go to the company coming the farthest distance, and $100 to the company having the most men in line.

The Uncle Sam Veteran Firemen's association, at a meeting held the night before last, voted to attend the muster with the band, and compete with the hope of raising some of the numerous prizes which are offered.

EX-GOV. DOUGLAS

May Be Bryan's Campaign Manager

BOSTON, July 22.—There was a report current in political circles last night that the chairmanship of the democratic national committee had been offered to former Governor William L. Douglas. Despite the persistency of the rumor, those closest to Mr. Douglas professed ignorance of the matter. Those who gave credence to the story generally expressed doubt that the suggested chairman would accept such a proffer. Their opinion was based upon Mr. Douglas' well-understood disinclination to again enter actively into politics.

Mr. Douglas, who is spending the summer at his summer home at Montserrat, was cruising on his yacht yesterday and was not expected here until today. In his absence none would vouch for the statement that he had been asked to undertake the management of Mr. Bryan's campaign.

FIREMEN'S MUSTER

First Meeting of Committee on Arrangements

Gives Idea of the Magnitude of the Affair—Grounds and Route Accepted—No Solicitors For Funds, and Merchants Will Not be Asked to Advertise in Souvenir Book—Mr. Humphrey O'Sullivan Getting Out a Mammoth Souvenir Book

The committee appointed by the New England Firemen's Association and the Butler veterans of this city to arrange for the annual muster to be held in Lowell, August 20, met here today and looked over the route, course and other matters pertaining to the big event.

Although the great event is a month away there are already 25 entries for the event and the secretary expects 75 in all.

The committee consisted of: Chairman John Hargison, Newton; secretary, W. H. Hathaway, of Gloucester; F. P. Hunt, Cranston, R. I.; Alonzo Glines, Manchester, N. H.; and James H. Hurley, John J. Horan, Thomas J. Johnson and Peter A. Mackenzie. They met at the Northern depot at 10:30 this morning and proceeded in carriages over the following route: South common to Locke, to E. to Back Central, to Central, to Merrimack, to Cabot, to Salem, to Pawtucket, to School, counterchange to Salem, to Common street to North common. On arrival at the North common the odd numbers will take the Fletcher street side of the common and the even numbers the Common street side.

The committee was favorably impressed with the route of parade and with the location of the grounds and voted to accept both. After they inspected the course on the North common the party repaired to the Washington club where a business meeting was held and the party were the guests of Humphrey O'Sullivan.

FIREMEN'S TREASURE BOOK.

A unique feature of the event will be a Firemen's treasure book designed by Mr. O'Sullivan. The merchants of Lowell will not be asked to advertise in the book and already it has been filled with the ads of national advertisers. Among those who have taken full page advertisements are the following: Merrimack Clothing Co., O'Sullivan Rubber Co., Human Life, Everybody's Magazine, Southern Oil Co., Associated Sunday Magazine, The Hibernal, The Fitcher, Fishel, Union Bank, C. A HOT CONTEST CHARITY FETE

Opened at Washington Park This Afternoon

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 22.—President Cummings appointed the resolutions committee today when the convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians went into executive session. The president's report was expected to be read late this afternoon.

The contest for the officers is being conducted vigorously. The candidates for president are Matthew Cummings of Boston, who desires re-election, and J. E. Dolan of New York, former president.

The charity fete in aid of St. John's hospital was opened this afternoon at two o'clock. About 500 children attended. The events for the children were immediately opened and two races were run off before the ball game was called. On account of the large number of entries for the hundred yard dash for boys it was necessary to run it off in two heats. The first heat was won by Harold Shaw, and the second heat by Raymond Quinn. The dash for girls was won by Kittie Donohoe.

The hurdy gurdy that was in attendance furnished music for the children and also kept the ball players and fans in good humor.

Prof. Hugh J. Molloy of the State Normal school officiated as starter and he was ably assisted by Daniel F. Carroll, Representative Martin Conley and John J. Harrington of North Chelmsford.

The fete was suspended at three o'clock to give way to the ball game. Umpire Joseph O'Connor of the New England league tendered his services as announcer of the events for this evening.

MILITARY MASS

For the Deceased Member of O. M. I. Cadets

There will be a military mass at the Immaculate Conception at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning for the repose of the soul of Cadet Haggerty of the O. M. I. Cadets. Rev. Fr. Sullivan, O. M. I., wants all the Cadets to be at the Immaculate Conception school hall at 7:15 tonight. The Cadets will also assemble at the school hall at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning and will escort the body of their dead comrade to the Immaculate Conception church. The Cadets will wear khaki and blue uniforms.

There were about 700 people at Washington park this afternoon to witness the combined charity fete and baseball game between Lowell and Fall River.

The fete caused one bad feature of the ball game, the erection of a platform for dancing in left field, and it was necessary to make ground rules in order to protect the players. A ball that went over the platform called for two bases.

Umpire Joseph O'Brien was the decision maker and he also offered his services as announcer at tonight's entertainment. The game was called at 3:30 o'clock, the batting order being as follows:

The police have a clue as to the identity of the highwayman and they are running it down. They believe that the man lives in Tewksbury and his house, to which the police failed to effect an entrance today, is being closely watched.

The victims of the holdup and attempted assault were two girls from Boston who were visiting at the state hospital. They had left the hospital and were on their way to the car line when they were confronted by the man who attempted to rob and abuse them. The Lowell Automobile club has asked for a 20 foot centre but Charles is going them two feet better. He is making it 22 feet and while he admits that he is not doing the job just as he would do it were he to follow his own best judgment, yet he allows that the boulevard will be much improved by the time he gets through with it.

He is going down about four inches below the surface and the stretch will be subject to a good unvarnished scraping. On will go the gravel with which the color of the track of which more or less has been said, will be mixed. The whole will be thoroughly rolled and Mr. Morse allows that if their automobilists have any speed they can show it on the stretch that he will prepare for them. The gravel if the job is being taken from the Carney bank near the boulevard.

COURT OF APPEALS

CHICAGO, July 22.—By unanimous opinion of the United States court of appeals for the seventh district the famous case of the government against the Standard Oil Co. in which the latter was fined $100,000 by Judge Lantis in the district court must be retried. This opinion, rendered by Judges Baker and Shannon, was delivered here today by Judge Grosscup who wrote the opinion.

The concluding sentence of the opinion reads:

"The judgment of the district court is reversed and the case remanded with instructions to grant a new trial and proceed further in accordance with this opinion."

The opinion begins with a brief statement of the manner in which the case was brought from the district court to the court of appeals. Section six of the interstate commerce act relating to the publishing and fixing of rates is quoted and the opinion continues:

"There are 30 assignments of error. Taking up 16 pages of printed record, in view to the conclusion, however, to which we have come it is unnecessary to review many of these assignments—the case reviewed covering all the provisions of law that we deem material to the guidance of the district court. Compensatively stated the assignment of error which we shall review relate.

First—To the view adopted by the trial court, carried out in its ruling on the admission and exclusion of evidence and embodied in its charge to the jury that a shipper can be convicted of accepting a concession from the lawful published rate, even though it is not shown as bearing on the matter of intent, that the shipper at the time of accepting such concession knew what the lawful published rate was."

Second—In the view adopted by the trial court that the number of property is the number of parcels of property transported irrespective of whether by rail, canal, the water or the air, and of a single transaction or a series of shipments, and Third—Whether in the imposition of the fine named the trial court abused the discretion vested in the court.

"We shall take up these subjects in the order stated, the first being whether the shipper can without error be convicted of accepting a concession from the lawful published rate even though it is not shown as bearing on the matter of intent, that the shipper at the time of accepting such concession knew what the

LATEST BLACK HAND CHIEF

Was Shot to Death in His Wine Shop

NEW YORK, July 22.—A wealthy Italian wine merchant, known under several names, and as to whose business has arisen a question, as to whether he was a leader of the Black Hand, or a peaceful importer of Italian wines at No. 28 Montec street, was shot to death by a young man at that address late yesterday afternoon, under circumstances which point either to a foiled suitor, or to a disgruntled Black Hand follower, as the author of the deed.

Francisco Crimi Renaldi is given as the correct name of the dead man by an intimate friend who declared that Renaldi has been a leader of various secret societies both in America and in Sicily.

No one has yet been found by the police who will admit having seen the shooting, which took place in the wine shop, conducted by the victim, but three suspects have been taken into custody, and are held at the Madison street station as material witnesses.

Two stories have been told to the police about the killing. Both are being investigated.

One is to the effect that Renaldi's daughter, Jennie, a pretty sixteen-year-old girl, was courted by Alfredo Ventinglino, who was driven out of the house a few days ago by the father, who promptly sent his daughter to visit an uncle in Boston, to break up the affair.

The other story relates that the dead man, being a leader of the Black Hand, was continually embroiled in altercations with jealous younger leaders, one of whom had an open fight with him on Monday last.

The dead man's widow told of the disgruntled suitor, and furnished the police with a description of him.

Because of the fear in which the Black Hand is held, no one could be found to substantiate the other story to the police, but among themselves the neighbors of the dead man told of his past activities both in this country and in his native land, where he had been variously known as Francis Crimi, Francis Cramo, Crimi Renaldi

HAD AMASSED $50,000.

All agree, however, that Renaldi had amassed a comfortable fortune of $50,000.

The police have learned that on Monday "Chick" Cavalieri, who is 30 years old, had a quarrel with the wine merchant in which, it is said, Renaldi struck the younger man in the face. "Chick" did not offer to return the blow, but the police say they have heard that, returning yesterday to the Renaldi shop, he renewed the quarrel and dared the older man to strike him again.

According to this version, Renaldi accepted the dare, and hit "Chick" a stinging blow in the face, at which the younger man is said to have drawn a revolver and shot Renaldi three times, the first bullet entering his head, the second his right wrist and the third the left side of his body. He died as he was about to be placed on the operating table at St. Gregory's hospital a few minutes later.

ASKED TO ARREST SUITOR.

The wife of the dead man, who makes no substantiation of her story, simply told the police of the possible motive for murder by the reputed suitor, and said the daughter was now visiting her uncle, Frank Girsera, at No. 63 Commercial street, Boston. Advice to the police of that city, sent out from the police headquarters here last night, will result in the arrest of Ventinglino should he appear there.

The slayer made his escape within a moment after the shots had been fired, and even before the vanguard of the crowd of neighbors of the victim rushed into his wine shop.

STOLE BUILDING Thieves Were Bold and Successful

Police Are Looking for Men Who Removed Building and Screen Bins Belonging to Street Department—Charlie Morse Joins in the Hunt

Once upon a time ex-police Commissioner Frank Dow was quoted as saying that a policeman couldn't see a load of hay and his alleged statement was given some support last night when thieves, or alleged thieves, stole a building and bolted screen bins from the corner of Moody and Riverside streets. It was a two-horse job but the ones engaged got away with it all right.

It was the building that covered the stone crusher, engine and other paraphernalia belonging to the street department and part of which had been removed to the city barn, yesterday, under direction of Supt. Morse.

Mr. Morse was careful to strip the engine of brass and other connections because he knew there were thieves who made a specialty of brass and other fixings. It did not occur to him that the building or the screening bins were in danger and when he went there this morning and found that they were gone his surprise and chagrin can better be imagined than described.

The building he did not care so much about as it was a cheap rough structure of ordinary spruce boards, but the screening bins were made to order and were valued by Mr. Morse at $100. The bins were securely bolted together and the men who did the trick had of necessity to use strong tools in tearing them apart.

That the building and bins could have been removed without police detection or interference seemed almost too ridiculous to believe and Charlie is wondering what kind of a story the "movers" told the cops. He says that the lumber in the building and the bins would "make at least five two-horse loads and "surely," he says, "the police must have seen the men at work."

Immediately upon discovering what had taken place, Mr. Morse notified the police and, on foot and by team are looking for the men who walked away in the night with the building and bins. Mr. Morse said today that he would join in the hunt himself.

GIRL BEHEADED For the Murder of Her Fiance

FRIEBURG, Saxony, July 22.—Grete Bier, the 18 year old daughter of the mayor of this town, was beheaded some time during last night for the murder of her fiance.

The executioner, as usual, was an anonymous person who was sent down from Dresden on the announcement that the king of Saxony had refused to pardon Grete Bier for her crime.

This young girl's carefully planned murder of her lover attracted international attention. At the trial it was brought out and she admitted with the utmost simplicity that she visited her fiance's house one evening, gave him cyanide of potassium in a drink she mixed for him and then to make sure of his death she shot him in the mouth with his own revolver. She then dropped the weapon at the dead man's side, placed a forged will in her own favor on his desk together with a note of good-bye, also forged, saying that he feared to lose her love through the revelation of a dishonorable liaison.

THE LIE PASSED PERMIT GRANTED

Excitement at City Hall Last Night

The lie was passed at city hall last night after the meeting of the board of aldermen, and but for the presence of a policeman who was summoned by Acting City Messenger Delmage there is a bare possibility that blows would have been exchanged.

The parties to the affair were Alderman Gray, Councilman McKidder and Inspector Smith of the lands and buildings department, and the cause of the trouble was the hold-up of the $7500 for repairs on school houses and public buildings.

The first words were between Messrs. Smith and Gray and the latter told Smith that he was not responsible for holding the order up and some reference was made to McKidder.

It was at this juncture that the lie was passed and Mr. Delmage fearing a passage at arms called for the new city hall "cop," Mr. Page, whose presence on the scene had the intended subsidizing effect. No casualties.

MORE VICTIMS
Secured by Swindling School Teacher

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Frances A. Caspari, the former high school teacher of German at Baltimore, where her family occupies a prominent position, and where, seven years ago, her frauds, amounting to over $71,000, secured her five years in Maryland penitentiary, was arraigned here yesterday for playing the same game in this city.

In yesterday's complaint she is only charged with obtaining $4849 by fraud, but there are many other cases.

The woman came here about a year ago and boarded with Miss Elizabeth Gummell, at No. 1409 Corcoran street, N. W. According to Miss Gummell she represented herself as the agent of a book concern issuing editions de luxe. Later she stated that she had obtained orders from many wealthy persons whom she named, but could not deliver the books because the firm would not ship the costly volumes until she sent a deposit. By promising half her profits she managed to borrow $350 from Miss Gummell.

With the same story, the police say, she got $2300 from Thomas A. Robbins of No. 1387 Massachusetts avenue, S. E., $200 from Mrs. M. E. James of No. 1737 Fourteenth street, N. W., and an amount not yet stated from Miss Edith E. Claggett of Brownsville, Washington county, Md.

Prof. Charles Caspari, Jr., of Baltimore, a brother of the accused woman, has intimated, according to a message from that city, that his sister's sanity ought to be inquired into.

"What she does with all the money is a mystery," he said. "I have never been able to catch on her. When she was tried here in 1904 she confessed to having obtained over $70,000. Yet at that moment she was penniless. I suppose she is without a cent in the world now."

ROCKEFELLER ASSENT
CLEVELAND, O., July 22.—At Forest Hill it was stated today that Mr. Rockefeller was absent when the telegram arrived announcing that the Standard Oil decision handed down by Judge Landis had been reversed. Mr. Rockefeller's secretary said it was very doubtful if he would make any comment on the action of the court of appeals. It was said that Mr. Rockefeller would return to Forest Hill during the day.

THE "LEMON" GAME

New York Operators

LAWRENCE, July 22.—John Neel, not the Broadway tailor, fell an easy victim to three slick workers of the lemon game from New York a few days ago. The lemon game operators secured $200 from Neel and the police are making a diligent search for the strangers.

The lemon game has sprung into popularity with crooks as they pick up easy money by it, although they seldom make as good a haul as they did from Neel.

Neel was in a pool room one day last week and became engaged in a game of pool with a stranger. A third party was admitted to the game and it was not long before a proposition was made to stake small bets on the games. This was agreeable to Neel and both strangers consented. It was not long before the limit was raised and Neel had surprisingly good luck. In fact he won so easily that he made an agreement to meet the strangers on the following Saturday at a different pool room when play for big stakes was to be resumed.

Neel, by agreement, had $350 with him when he entered the pool room on Saturday. A game was played for that amount and it was at this point that the game was worked. The stakes were deposited in the hands of a man who was supposed to be the proprietor of the place. This man was in his shirt sleeves and did not have any hat on, thereby giving the impression to a glibble stranger that he was the person conducting the place. The strangers placed their money in this man's keeping and Neel followed suit.

A game was started after the money was deposited and Neel was allowed to win, but when he looked around for the supposed proprietor, that gentleman was not to be found. He had donned his coat and hat and disappeared. He has not been seen since. Neither has his two friends and nothing has been seen of Neel's $300, although Inspector Catogan is doing his best to locate both men and money.

The lemon is frequently worked with success in the larger cities, but it is seldom that operators in this line come to Lawrence.

TO ISSUE POLICIES

Lloyds to Give Insurance Against the "Black Hand"

NEW YORK, July 22.—Insurance policies against "Black Hand" outrages are the latest offering of Lloyds of London. It was stated yesterday that leaseholders of Astor tenement house properties had availed themselves of this opportunity of protecting themselves from the Italian bandits so much in evidence on the East Side. The average rate of "Black Hand" insurance is announced as 5 per cent.

Coming close on the announcement that the London concern had written policies protecting American firms from loss in the event of Bryan's election, the "Black Hand" policy has attracted more than passing interest to the diversified risks taken by Lloyds. There have been policies just as curious as the "Black Hand" one, which may be obtained from the historic association which shipowners and merchants organized more than 30 years ago.

There is not infrequently the insurance against rain or the lack of rain. A fortnight ago the managers of a horse race insured themselves against rain and consequent loss of gate receipts. Still more recently a real estate auctioneer, who had spent $15,000 in advertising the sale of a big estate in Westchester county, secured a rain policy for that amount from Lloyds.

When the Shah of Persia was in England a few years ago he purchased $100,000 worth of goods from a London jeweler, and offered his note, payable in a year, for the whole amount. The jeweler didn't feel like rejecting the note, though he didn't feel very secure about it, and as an added precaution he took out a Lloyds policy of $100,000 for one year against the death of the Shah. Everybody, of course, is familiar with the insurance on the life of the King taken by the public as a speculation.

"Why can't the race track laws be evaded," one broker was asked, "by getting insurance against this or that horse failing to win?"

"Lloyds would draw the line at that," he replied. "Most all valuable show and race horses, and many of the valuable polo ponies are insured, but only against damage in transit or in the stable. The last famous case of horse insurance in this country was that of Highball, the odds-on favorite, that broke his leg when coming down the home stretch many lengths ahead of every other horse in the race."

So far as integrity and responsibility is concerned, Lloyds may be considered as ranking with the Bank of England, and yet it is little more than a club. It is, in fact, a society of many subscribers, each one of whom contributes $5000 upon his election, and from this aggregate sum the losses on marine insurance (the main business of Lloyds) are paid. All other insurance in the name of Lloyds is done by the individual members on their own responsibility.

An underwriter who is a member of the society has his own circle of intimate friends and business associates in the organization, and such groups and individuals subscribe for this, that or the other risk and divide the losses or the profits among themselves.

POLICIES AGAINST RAINSTORMS.

A man wants to be insured for $5000 against a rainstorm on a certain day. His underwriter in Lloyds undertakes the matter, and pledges himself and four of his friends for $1000 each. That, in its simplest form, is the way of the so-called wager insurance. In two centuries or more there has never been a conspicuous failure on the part of Lloyds to pay.

It all began in a coffee house, Edward Lloyd's coffee house in London, where the merchants and ship-owners gathered every day to discuss their argosies over the pipes and ale. Marine insurance was then more than a century old. In fact, there was a Florentine ordinance covering the matter in 1223, but the coffee-house group decided to do their own insuring thereafter, among themselves, and decided at the same time to honor their host of the tavern by taking his name for their society.

That was in 1602. At least one of the first, and probably the very first Lloyds policy written was dated on June 23, of that year, when Peter Jay and his friends agreed to insure the ship Maria and her cargo of £700 on her voyage from Stockholm to London. They put in a clause to the effect that their insurance was just as good and reliable as any ever written "in Lombard street or elsewhere in the world."

Twenty years before the cruise of the Maria, the "good ship Tiger" was insured in such a way that she might touch not only at Christian ports, but the places along the Barbary coast. There were 22 clauses of that policy of 1585, and their subscriptions ranged from 10 to 100 pounds.

CATHOLIC NOTES

Preparation for Centennial of Archdiocese

The observance of the centennial of the archdiocese of Boston in the fall promises to be an elaborate event. At the festival to be held in Mechanics building all the local Catholic charitable institutions will be represented by tables. The outdoor feature of the observance promises to eclipse any similar demonstration ever held in Boston. It is the plan of Archbishop O'Connell that all the Catholic organizations participate in the demonstration, and he is especially desirous that the Holy Name societies attend in large numbers.

The parishioners of the Star of the Sea church, in East Boston, of which the Rev. William H. McDonough, formerly of Lowell, is pastor, are to hold a reunion tomorrow evening. The proceeds of the event are to go towards raising a fund for the building of a new church. The present church is too small to accommodate the rapidly growing congregation and Fr. McDonough hopes to start the erection of the new edifice very soon.

The Holy Name society of St. Peter's church has in hand a plan for raising a fund for the development of the society along various lines. An important meeting of the society takes place one week from Thursday evening.

Lowell men prominent in Catholic total abstinence circles are planning to attend the annual convention of the C. T. A. U. of America in New Haven, Conn., in August.

"HELD UP" A SALOON

THREE DESPERADOES SHOOT UP A SALOON IN REAL FRONTIER STYLE.

Robbers Killed One Man and Wounded Others in Boston

BOSTON, July 22.—Three desperadoes, armed with heavy calibre revolvers, dashed into a crowded Jamaica Plain barroom ten minutes before closing time last night, and yelling "Hands Up," began "shooting up" the place. When they had grabbed the money till, emptied it, finished shooting and made their escape, one man was dead on the floor, another lay dying and a third was seriously wounded.

Dashing out the door, the three men were met by Officer S. C. Butler, who drew his revolver and began firing at the men, one of whom was injured, but all eventually escaped.

The dead man is Frank J. Drake, aged 32 years, of 23 Byron street. Patrick R. Doran, aged 40 years, of 5 Atherton street, is lying at the City hospital, with a bullet wound in the abdomen, and Thomas Winterston, one of the proprietors of the saloon, is suffering from bullet wounds in the back of the head and arm.

The saloon, which was the scene of the shooting, is run by Winterston and McManus, and is situated at the corner of Washington and Boylston streets in Jamaica Plain, in a thickly settled part of the city.

The saloon was crowded with patrons just previous to the closing hour of 11 o'clock, thirty or forty men being in the place.

Suddenly three men made their appearance in the doorway. Simultaneously they yelled: "Hands Up," and began shooting rapidly, aiming apparently at the bartenders. Some ten or fifteen shots were fired.

With a leap one of the men jumped over the bar and grabbed the cash register, pulling it to the floor. It was opened quickly and the contents seized, the man being covered meantime by the fire from the guns of his companions and the three backed to the door.

Patrolman Butler had heard the shots, and, pulling in a hurry call on his alarm box, ran to the saloon. He arrived in time to see the three men backing out and shooting at those in the saloon.

The patrolman opened fire at once on the men and hit the first one to come out. Then some one cried, "Don't shoot those who are not to blame," and the patrolman stopped firing. The men then escaped out and made their escape down Weld avenue.

One of the men concerned in the robbery, it is believed, gave the cry to stop the firing by the officer and thus effect the escape.

A good description of the three men has been gained and special officers are now searching every part of the city in an effort to round them up.

Hyde Park Man Was Hazel's Friend

WATERVILLE, Me., July 22.—Somewhat indefinite information regarding another gentleman friend of Hazel Drew, the victim of the Teal pond murder mystery, of Troy, N. Y., was given by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jones of this city last night. Mrs. Jones stated to the Associated Press reporter last night that she remembered that while Miss Drew was visiting her in Providence, R. I., last April, she gave her several postals to mail. Miss Drew was about to go to Boston and told Mrs. Jones that she wished the postals to be mailed from Providence. One of the postals, declares Mrs. Jones, was addressed to a young man in Hyde Park, Mass., whose name she cannot remember. The postal was signed simply with Miss Drew's initials.

Mrs. Jones, upon being questioned on the subject, said last night that she remembered about the young man and that he worked at the time for the R. F. Sturtevant company of Hyde Park. She had never seen him and could not remember his name.

Mrs. Jones stated for the first time last night that the Wednesday afternoon news of Miss Drew's death became known she received a letter from Miss Minnie Taylor, aunt of the girl, in Troy, asking her, Mrs. Jones says, to destroy any letters she might have of Hazel Drew's. Mrs. Jones says she did not follow the advice.

POST CARDS FROM HOGART. "ROY, N. Y., July 22.—It has been learned that post cards from Dedham, Mass., found in the girl's belongings, signed "W. C. H.," came from William C. Hogart, who had passed his vacations for the last six years at the home of a relative in East Peostenkill. This is where Hazel Drew was born and she was accustomed for several years to spend a part of the summer either there or at Taunton, not far away, and the two are supposed to have met during these periods and formed an acquaintance which resulted in a correspondence.

Mr. James Prokos, the doughty Greek wrestler, and Miss Laura Boutin, a charming young daughter of ward seven were united in marriage last evening after a romantic courtship of three years, the bride being but 19 years of age, the groom being 29 years.

After the marriage ceremony the happy couple received the congratulations of their friends at their future home, 471 Merrimack street. Today they will leave for Coney Island on their honeymoon where Mr. Prokos is well known to the athletic profession and they will remain there three weeks. With the opening of the theatrical season Mr. Prokos will probably go on the road giving exhibitions and meeting all comers.

CARS COLLIDED

Two Men Injured and Many Bruised

NORTH ATTLEBORO, July 22.—Two men were injured and a number of others bruised and nearly a hundred men, women and children badly frightened by a head-on collision between two cars of the Interstate Consolidated street railway last night.

William Hogan of North Attleboro had the flesh torn from both shins, and John H. Pilling, also of this place, injured his right foot and was probably internally injured by being thrown across the back of a seat.

The collision was caused by the misunderstanding of the switch signals. Many of the passengers on both cars, which were crowded, saved themselves by jumping.

CHILD RESCUED

Taken in Mail Bag From Burning House

BOSTON, July 22.—That "necessity is the mother of invention" cannot be doubted, but Michael Cleary's presence of mind was certainly working overtime when he rescued his youngest child from a burning house at 739 East Broadway, South Boston, in a mail bag yesterday.

There are three little ones in the Cleary family and the number of Michael's arms is limited. Therefore, when he had taken the two older and larger children in their only place for the baby was in the leather pouch that Uncle Sam provides for all his good letter carriers, of whom Cleary is one.

It was the same old story—the combination of three American citizens of tender age and a box of matches did not prove a happy one, and soon a lively fire was started.

Cleary happened to be near by at the time and rushed up the stairs where the children had been playing. He was equal to the emergency and in an instant had seized the baby of the family and wrapped it safely in the big letter bag that was slung from his shoulder.

IN POLICE BOARD

Chairman Stearns Not in Favor of Increasing the Number of Junk Collectors—Charges Against a Pool Room—Coffee House Wants An Orchestra

The recent conflagration in Chelsea, which had its inception in a junk shop, and came near destroying the entire city, has caused the Lowell police board to take every precaution in granting junk dealers' licenses in this city, lest the city of Lowell might have a like experience.

At the meeting of the police board, held last night, Chairman Stearns, speaking for the board, spoke of the appalling scenes and bare walls of destroyed buildings in Chelsea after the fire and after mentioning the fact that the fire started in a junk shop, intimated that the board intended to be very rigid in the enforcement of the law relative to junk dealers and that licenses or renewal of licenses would be granted only in locations where there was little or no risk of fire breaking out which would endanger property, especially tenement property.

Reference to the danger of places occupied by junk dealers came out at what might be called a hearing on the granting of a license to Samuel Blank at 445 Broadway.

About three years ago Israel Lightman and Samuel Blank entered into a partnership and secured a license for carrying on a junk business at 445 Broadway. A month or so ago Israel and Samuel agreed to dissolve partnership. Blank was to get the stock in trade, the good will of the firm and occupy the premises in Broadway, also to settle all the outstanding bills and collect the accounts due the firm, while on the other hand Lightman was to take to Howard street and have the license transferred to his name. This left Blank without a license, but he felt that it would be but a matter of time to secure the license.

Both assumed too much, however, when they thought they could transact all the business without consulting with the board of police and of late they have learned the folly of their course.

At a recent meeting of the board Lightman applied for a transfer and Blank for a new license and during the hearing before the police board it looked at one time as though the former partners would get to blows, but the sight of "Billy" Grady and his brass buttons blocking the doorway, to say nothing of the stately appearance of Supt. Moffatt behind the counter, caused the squall to blow over.

The matter was postponed and at the next meeting the partners appeared and seemed to be the best of friends, believing that discretion was the better part of valor. Everything went along smoothly and it was understood that the board would grant a license to Lightman and issue a license to Blank.

The next act on the program was a remonstrance against the granting of a license to Blank at 445 Broadway, and this meant another obstacle. Lightman, who had previously applied for a transfer to 52 Howard street, changed his mind and now wants a transfer to 63 Howard street.

Last night at the meeting Lawyer Silverblatt, who appeared for Lightman, stated that the new location, while in the tenement district, had been sanctioned by an insurance agent. Jacob Goldberg, former newspaperman, appeared in behalf of Blank and he had progressed but a very short way in his speech when he aroused the ire of Chairman Stearns of the police board and the latter did not make any attempt at informing Mr. Blank's champion that he was going about the matter in the wrong way.

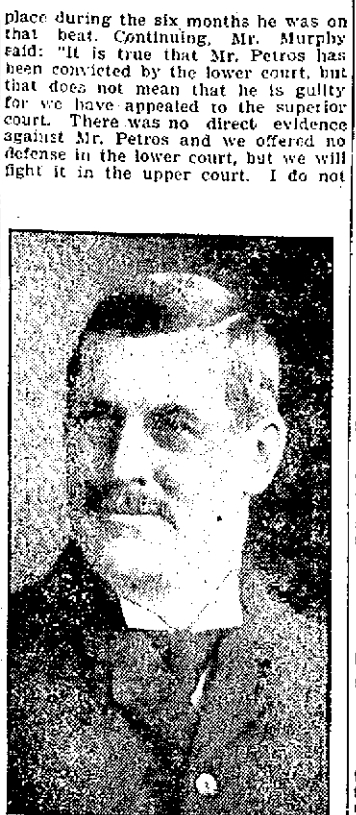

Mr. Stearns stated that the board could not grant a license to Mr. Blank at the Broadway location as it was too hazardous.

CHAIRMAN STEARNS AROUSED. Mr. Goldberg said that the firm had conducted a business at the Broadway stand for three years and he thought it looked particularly strange that he got no farther for Mr. Stearns interrupted him and said: "Now, don't start on that tack, for you will immediately arouse the ire of the chairman of this board at least. We haven't got the slightest personal feeling against Mr. Blank. But after the board had looked into the situation the appalling scenes and bare walls of poor Chelsea loomed up before us, and you must remember that that fire started in a junk shop."

After some more talk it was voted to table the matter pending the appearance of the remonstrance, but at the conclusion of the meeting Mr. Goldberg informed the clerk that Mr. Blank would make any further fight for a license to do business in Broadway, but would find a new location and make application.

POOL ROOM LICENSE. A hearing was then given on petition of Supt. Moffatt, that the pool room licenses of James Petros in Adams street be revoked. Supt. Moffatt said he would like to have Mr. Petros show cause why his license should not be revoked. He went on to tell that on the third of July a liquor business was being transacted in the pool room and he and two others had been brought before the court and convicted, also that many complaints had been made about crap shooting in the pool room.

Lawyer Dennis J. Murphy appeared for Mr. Petros and stated to the board that while the superintendent had cited in substance the facts in the case that the police officer who was on the beat at night had testified on the stand that he never saw any more orderly think it would be right to pass on this matter until he has been convicted or found not guilty by the upper court. If we come here and show why the license should not be revoked we only lay bare our case.

Patrolman O'Sullivan informed the board of purchasing liquor at Mr. Petros' store on three different occasions.

THE MATTER HELD UP. The board decided to take the matter under advisement.

The Petros matter was not considered at the executive session of the board because of the absence of Commissioner Hanson who went to his home earlier in the evening because of a slight attack of indigestion.

NO COFFEE CONCERTS. Harris Elmecopolis petitioned for a license to conduct entertainments at Stephen Rangos & Co.'s coffee house in Market street. Asked as to the nature of the entertainments the petitioner, through an interpreter, said it was his intention to have an orchestra consisting of five pieces, all stringed instruments, to play in order to attract trade.

Supt. Moffatt said he had no objection to the granting of the license, but that another coffee house proprietor had secured permission to give concerts and that the sidewalk in front of the place was so blocked with people that it was necessary for pedestrians to take to the middle of the road in passing through the street. He said that the police officer on the beat had plenty to do without detaching his entire time to clearing the sidewalk.

The matter was laid on the table. Then the proprietor of the coffee house who has had a permit to hold concerts on Saturday nights was called before the board, and given a talking to for having the street blocked with people, but he said he was willing to engage a police officer in order to keep the people off the sidewalk.

Supt. Moffatt said if the concerts were conducted in a proper manner he would sanction the granting of licenses as he thought it would be better for the residents of that locality to spend their evenings in the coffee houses than to frequent barrooms, get intoxicated and then get into fights.

BIG FIREMEN'S MUSTER. James H. Walker, president of the Gen. Butler Veteran Firemen's association, appeared and notified the board that the annual muster and quilt of the New England Veteran Firemen's association is to be held in this city on the 20th of August and asked the police board to grant a license for the residents of that locality to spend their evenings in the coffee houses than to frequent barrooms, get intoxicated and then get into fights.

MINOR LICENSES. Minor licenses were acted on as follows: Hawker and peddler—Abram Goldberg, 137 Howard street, Samuel Freedman, 415 Broadway, Joseph Tracy, 53 Hall street.

Common victualler—George W. Chapman, 344 Lawrence street, Chas. Sanford, 213 Marshall street, George Saba, 155 Appleton street.

Second hand clothing—Max Schwartz, 377 Market street.

Employment office—James L. Evans, 459 Market street.

HARRY MADDOX

Charged With Assaulting Mrs. Josiah Lowe

HE WAS ARRESTED IN LYNN

Was Employed as a Farm Hand

LYNN, July 22.—Harry Maddox was arrested at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon on the Lynn marshes on the charge of assaulting Mrs. Josiah Lowe, aged 70, of Essex, Monday morning, at her home.

Officer Thomas M. Murphy of the Lynn force made the arrest and late last night Maddox was removed from the Lynn jail to Gloucester.

Lynn officers say that Maddox admitted the assault.

He disclosed his whereabouts for the past 10 days and told of the hardships he had endured while trying to find work. He denied that he had ever committed any crime in his native country, England.

The Lynn police were notified by the Essex officers late yesterday that Maddox was wanted, and within a few hours they arrested him.

Maddox was formerly employed as a farm hand by Mr. Lowe. On July 10 he was paid off and discharged. He returned on Sunday night to the farm and slept in the barn during the night.

The police claim that the man who brutally beat Mrs. Lowe had been ransacking the drawers in Mr. Lowe's room for money or valuables and was discovered by Mrs. Lowe.

Maddox is 21 years of age and about 5 feet 6 inches tall and weighs about 150 pounds. He is an Englishman and has a wife living. He was born in New-castle. He has been in this country twice and arrived here about two months ago.

Mrs. Lowe was much better last evening and the doctor who is attending her says she is recovering rapidly.

TOMORROW WILL BE THURSDAY, AND THURSDAY YOU KNOW IS BARGAIN DAY IN THE LOWELL STORES. DO YOUR BUYING IN THE FORENOON.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

Judging by the generous patronage the Adams Good company is receiving this week at Lakeview theatre, The Captain's Mate is the style of a play that their patrons like the best. The last evening's performance was a triumph for the amusement line can have is that which is passed around by word of mouth, and as the fact becomes more and more generally known that "there is a good show out at Lakeview," the attendance keeps increasing.

Quarton has a part in The Captain's Mate that gives her a good opportunity to cut up capers and romp around, the other members of the company are congenially cast, the specialties between the acts are first class, and the scenic effects excellent.

There is no contest here, what the people who go to Lakeview theatre seeking entertainment, get the worth of their money many times over. For the coming week, a rattling good southeasterly play, "Foggy Ferry" is announced with Bessie Overton, Eddie Poutler and the other favorites in the cast.

STAR THEATRE

The amateurs last night were certainly the best ever. Eva Taylor of Providence sang "Hang Out the Front Door Key," and made a great hit. Her dancing also was very well received.

Annette Alex and Anna Held were many other good ones and many who furnished comedy by not being in that class. Clarence, the slack-wire performer, is giving an excellent exhibition this week. Baby Curry is having great success singing "Comrade Mine," and J. C. Bell sings "Just to Remind You" in a very creditable manner.

Commencing tomorrow the songs will be "The Old U. S. A." and "The Same Old Story." The picture program changed today and is both interesting and amusing.

STILL AT LARGE

HOLD-UP MEN NOT YET CAPTURED.

BOSTON, July 22.—The police of the city, despite a vigilance which continued through the night, apprehended none of the three perpetrators of the daring hold-up in a Jamaica Plain saloon last night in which one man was killed and two injured, one probably seriously, by the bullets with which they created the scare that allowed them to get away safely with about $20 in money. The description of the men, given by the persons who were in the saloon at the time of the hold-up, were about ten, including patrons and bartenders, is sufficient, it is believed, to facilitate an early arrest in case the robbers have not gone out of the city.

The extensive parkway system which includes many secluded spots likely to offer shelter to the fugitives was searched by the police last night and today and an organized search of the South End lodging house district was also maintained. Police stations were watched and the conductors of the all-night electric cars were given a description of the men, but failed to notice them among their passengers.

At the city hospital today it was said that Patrick R. Doran, the most seriously injured of the two persons, who survived the robbers' shot, had passed the night comfortably without any change for the worse appearing.

The police of division 15, Charlestown, shortly after nine o'clock this morning, arrested a man as a suspect in the hold-up. He was taken at once to police headquarters for examination.

The police have sent a description of the three men far and wide. They are described as about 25 or 25 years of age, dark complexioned, dark clothes and probably Italians.

UNK RUSSELL WINS BOUT

Van Horne Stopped in Third Round

NEW YORK, July 22.—Sam Langford, the clever and hard-hitting Boston middleweight, knocked out John Wille, the Chicago heavyweight, in the second round of their fight at the Navarre A. C. last night. Langford floored his opponent with a hard right hook to the jaw, and the big westerner was out fully half a minute.

So sudden was the knockout that few of the spectators realized that the bout was at an end. Just before the blow was delivered Langford managed to get over a left hook. The blow was a vicious one and shook the Chicagoan.

He was plainly groggy, and the Boston fighter, seeing his predicament, shot over the right. It was a short, snappy punch, but it served its purpose, and Wille fell to the floor as if struck by a cannon ball.

Langford had all the best of the bout from the first going. He outboxed and outpointed his opponent, and had him practically at his mercy in the opening round, and until he delivered the knockout punch.

Wille landed only two blows during the fight. Both were hard and strong, and shook Langford up considerably. One was a right to the ear in the first, and the other a wicked left to the stomach. Both were landed in the opening round.

KNOCKED OUT

UNK RUSSELL STOPS VAN HORNE OF COLUMBUS.

COLUMBUS, O., July 22.—In three rounds of the fastest kind of milling Russell Van Horne, the local welterweight, was knocked out in the third round of his bout with Unk Russell here last night.

After receiving one of Unk's hard blows in the pit of the stomach Van Horne reeled over on the floor and was unable to rise at the count of 10. It took several minutes to revive him after he was counted out.

The bout was fast and furious from the start. Van Horne played largely on Russell's face, thereby leaving room for Unk's punches. Russell worked on Van Horne's stomach almost entirely, and took plenty of punishment while awaiting the opportunity to plant the deciding blow after his antagonist was somewhat winded.

Van Horne landed the most blows, but they seemed to have little effect. The only knockdown of the fight was the final one.

WALCOTT FINED

COLORED PUGILIST HAS UNLICENSED DOG.

MALDEN, July 22.—Joe Walcott, the colored pugilist, was before the district court yesterday on a complaint charging him with keeping an unlicensed dog at his home on Belmont street. He pleaded not guilty and said he kept one dog, which he had licensed, but the other, a brindle dog, which stayed at his home part of the time, did not belong to him.

He said it belonged to a man in Maine, and that he had taken it as far as he could on an electric car and left it. The brindle was back at his home before he got there himself. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $5, and he settled.

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

A prominent member of the Long Island Automobile club declares that the Brooklyn organization did not follow the example of the Automobile club of America when it stationed men to warn automobilists of the locations of speed traps on Long Island a few Sundays ago. He says that the Brooklyn club was the first one in this country to send out men to warn drivers of the presence of speed traps.

The Chicago Automobile club, having decided by a vote of its directors to remain loyal to the American Automobile association, has come forward as a candidate for the De Mont Thompson cup stock car road race, Sidney S. Gorman, secretary of the club, has wired J. D. Thompson, chairman of the A. A. A. racing board and donor of the De Mont Thompson cup, that the Chicago Automobile club would like to run the contest, as it desires to become actively identified with the promotion of motoring events and naturally wishes to secure one of the three big events the A. A. A. has at its disposal. Before the application for the race was made J. F.

UNK RUSSELL WINS BOUT

Van Horne Stopped in Third Round

NEW YORK, July 22.—Sam Langford, the clever and hard-hitting Boston middleweight, knocked out John Wille, the Chicago heavyweight, in the second round of their fight at the Navarre A. C. last night. Langford floored his opponent with a hard right hook to the jaw, and the big westerner was out fully half a minute.

So sudden was the knockout that few of the spectators realized that the bout was at an end. Just before the blow was delivered Langford managed to get over a left hook. The blow was a vicious one and shook the Chicagoan.

He was plainly groggy, and the Boston fighter, seeing his predicament, shot over the right. It was a short, snappy punch, but it served its purpose, and Wille fell to the floor as if struck by a cannon ball.

Langford had all the best of the bout from the first going. He outboxed and outpointed his opponent, and had him practically at his mercy in the opening round, and until he delivered the knockout punch.

Wille landed only two blows during the fight. Both were hard and strong, and shook Langford up considerably. One was a right to the ear in the first, and the other a wicked left to the stomach. Both were landed in the opening round.

KNOCKED OUT

UNK RUSSELL STOPS VAN HORNE OF COLUMBUS.

COLUMBUS, O., July 22.—In three rounds of the fastest kind of milling Russell Van Horne, the local welterweight, was knocked out in the third round of his bout with Unk Russell here last night.

After receiving one of Unk's hard blows in the pit of the stomach Van Horne reeled over on the floor and was unable to rise at the count of 10. It took several minutes to revive him after he was counted out.

The bout was fast and furious from the start. Van Horne played largely on Russell's face, thereby leaving room for Unk's punches. Russell worked on Van Horne's stomach almost entirely, and took plenty of punishment while awaiting the opportunity to plant the deciding blow after his antagonist was somewhat winded.

Van Horne landed the most blows, but they seemed to have little effect. The only knockdown of the fight was the final one.

WALCOTT FINED

COLORED PUGILIST HAS UNLICENSED DOG.

MALDEN, July 22.—Joe Walcott, the colored pugilist, was before the district court yesterday on a complaint charging him with keeping an unlicensed dog at his home on Belmont street. He pleaded not guilty and said he kept one dog, which he had licensed, but the other, a brindle dog, which stayed at his home part of the time, did not belong to him.

He said it belonged to a man in Maine, and that he had taken it as far as he could on an electric car and left it. The brindle was back at his home before he got there himself. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $5, and he settled.

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

A prominent member of the Long Island Automobile club declares that the Brooklyn organization did not follow the example of the Automobile club of America when it stationed men to warn automobilists of the locations of speed traps on Long Island a few Sundays ago. He says that the Brooklyn club was the first one in this country to send out men to warn drivers of the presence of speed traps.

The Chicago Automobile club, having decided by a vote of its directors to remain loyal to the American Automobile association, has come forward as a candidate for the De Mont Thompson cup stock car road race, Sidney S. Gorman, secretary of the club, has wired J. D. Thompson, chairman of the A. A. A. racing board and donor of the De Mont Thompson cup, that the Chicago Automobile club would like to run the contest, as it desires to become actively identified with the promotion of motoring events and naturally wishes to secure one of the three big events the A. A. A. has at its disposal. Before the application for the race was made J. F.

NOTABLE CASE OF CONTEMPT

THE FACT THAT MESSRS. GOMPERS, JOHN MITCHELL AND FRANK MORRISON, THE MOST PROMINENT LABOR LEADERS IN THIS COUNTRY ARE SUMMONED TO COURT ON THE CHARGE OF CONTEMPT WILL RIVET PUBLIC INTEREST ON THE INJUNCTION PLANKS OF BOTH POLITICAL PARTY PLATFORMS.

IT WILL ESPECIALLY APPEAL TO ALL LABORING MEN TO SUPPORT THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY WHICH ADVOCATES A REAL REFORM IN THE USE OF THE INJUNCTION ESPECIALLY IN INDUSTRIAL DISPUTES WHERE IT APPEARS THE CHIEF ABUSE OF THIS POWER OF THE COURTS PREVAILS. THE TRIAL WILL SERVE TO EMPHASIZE THE INADEQUACY OF THE PLANK IN THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

IN THE PARTICULAR CASE IN QUESTION THE INJUNCTION WAS HELD TO BE SUCH AN INFRINGEMENT UPON INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS THAT IT WAS OPENLY DENOUNCED BY MR. GOMPERS WHO SAID IN REFERENCE TO IT:

"SO FAR AS I AM CONCERNED I WISH TO STATE THIS: WHEN IT COMES TO A CHOICE BETWEEN SURRENDERING MY RIGHTS AS A FREE AMERICAN CITIZEN OR VIOLATING THE INJUNCTION OF THE COURT—I DO NOT HESITATE TO SAY THAT I SHALL EXERCISE MY RIGHTS AS BETWEEN THE TWO."

IT IS CHARGED THAT JOHN MITCHELL PUT TO A VOTE AT A MEETING OF THE MINERS OF WHICH HE IS HEAD, A RESOLUTION IMPOSING A FINE OF $5 ON ANY MEMBER WHO WOULD PATRONIZE THE STOVE COMPANY IN QUESTION. AS THE INJUNCTION WAS AGAINST THE MAINTENANCE OF A BOYCOTT AGAINST THE COMPANY MR. MITCHELL'S ACTION WILL PROBABLY BE REGARDED IN A MORE SERIOUS LIGHT THAN THE UTTERANCE OF MR. GOMPERS.

WHILE THE CONSTITUTION AS INTERPRETED BY VARIOUS EMINENT AUTHORITIES, MAKES ILLEGAL THE BOYCOTT, YET THE FACT REMAINS AND CAN BE EASILY SHOWN THAT INJUNCTIONS OF THE MOST SWEEPING KIND HAVE BEEN ISSUED FOR TRIVIAL CAUSES AND WITHOUT FAIR CONSIDERATION OF THE RIGHTS OF BOTH SIDES IN THE CONTROVERSY.

THE PRESENT CHARGES OF CONTEMPT SHOULD BE TRIED BEFORE A JURY AND NOT LEFT TO THE EMPHATICISM OF ANY JUDGE IN TRYING TO UPHOLD WHAT MAY EVENTUALLY APPEAR TO BE AN ABUSE OF JUDICIAL POWER.

THE INJUNCTION PLANK OF THE DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM ALTHOUGH SUGGESTING BUT A SLIGHT CHANGE IN THE PRESENT LAW WOULD BE SUFFICIENT IF ENACTED INTO LAW TO OVERCOME ALL THE EVILS COMPLAINED OF.

TO PAVE MIDDLESEX STREET

THE PROPOSITION TO PAVE MIDDLESEX STREET WITH GRANITE BLOCKS SAME AS CENTRAL STREET IS A GOOD ONE. THAT STREET NEEDS TO BE PAVED AS FAR AS THE DEPOT BUT IT DOES NOT NEED IT ANY MORE THAN DOES MERRIMACK STREET FROM CITY HALL TO MERRIMACK SQUARE.

THE CHIEF CAUSE OF THE DELAY ON MERRIMACK STREET IS THAT THE SEWER ON THAT STREET HAS TO BE LOWERED AND IT WILL REQUIRE A CONSIDERABLE TIME AFTERWARDS TO LET THE FILLING SETTLE SUFFICIENTLY TO WARRANT MAKING IT THE FOUNDATION FOR HEAVY PAVING.

THERE SHOULD BE NO NEEDLESS DELAY IN PAVING MERRIMACK STREET, HOWEVER, INASMUCH AS THAT STREET IS THE LEADING BUSINESS THOROUGHFARE, AND ONE UPON WHICH THERE IS GREAT TRAFFIC NOT ONLY BY ORDINARY CARRIAGES BUT BY AUTOMOBILES TO WHICH THE PRESENT ROUGH CONDITION OF THE STREET MUST BE VERY INJURIOUS. THE OWNERS OF AUTOS HAVE A HORROR OF THE UNEVEN BLOCK PAVEMENTS OVER WHICH RIDING IS BUT A CONTINUITY OF VIOLENT VIBRATIONS.

THE TROLLEY EXPRESS

IN SPITE OF DULL BUSINESS, EXPRESS RATES ARE STILL VERY HIGH. THE PEOPLE WOULD LIKE TO SEE THE TROLLEY EXPRESS STARTED, BUT SOMEHOW THAT ENTERPRISE SEEMS TO BE HELD UP. A TROLLEY EXPRESS WOULD DO A GREAT DEAL TO DEVELOP THE AGRICULTURAL INDUSTRIES IN THE DISTRICTS THROUGH WHICH THE TROLLEY LINES PASS. IT WOULD BE A SOURCE OF SAVING AND CONVENIENCE FOR THE FARMERS. THERE IS NO DENYING THE FACT THAT THE ELECTRIC CAR HAS BEEN A GREAT BLESSING TO THE TOILERS IN EVERY LINE OF BUSINESS. IT HAS AFFORDED THEM RAPID TRANSIT AT A SMALL EXPENSE. THE TROLLEY EXPRESS WOULD BE OF EQUAL ADVANTAGE TO THE FARMERS FOR THE TRANSPORTATION OF THEIR PRODUCE.

There, little man, don't cry. "Life's lesson" is hard, I know. But the sobs and tears. Of your college years. Will be lost in the long ago. In eight or nine years it will all pass by!

There, little man, don't cry! —Puck—

The following is from the fountain pen of "Sully," the bulletin artist: Four young men, members of one of the popular social clubs in the vicinity of Lincoln square, were coming in on a Lakeview car Sunday evening, when one of the number asked if that was a "princess" a certain woman was wearing. One of the fellows then asked, "What is a 'princess'?" Then the joker spoke up and replied, "A princess is a woman who marries a prince." He is expected to recover.

Ach, hinnell! Dat iss it a goat joke!

Billows of laughter went rolling up and down the bower yesterday when professional beer drinkers read the opinion of City Physician Gerbert, of Orange, N. J., to the effect that six glasses of beer a day are too much for any man. Dr. Gerbert's declaration was made in connection with his physical examination of a candidate for the fire department.

"Six mugs amalt too much for a fireman, eh?" echoed Chuck Connors with fine sarcasm. "Say, do bosh dat gave birth to dat bawl ought to be in de nut orchard. And for blaz beater, too. If dey ever pull dat gag on Croker's crowd de horses will be goin' to fires alone."

"Do you suppose you could drink more than six?" asked the reporter. "Ring down de collarn, pal!" roared Chuck. "Me drink six? I've only bin off de blankets an hour or so and I've planted fifteen pots already!"

The reporter found the howery chief exponent of the drama at Barney Flynn's liquid loft, corner of Doyers street. A pony glass at this parlor looked like a lamp chimney, while the limit is a cross between a flower pot and an umbrella holder.

"We haven't used those pony glasses more than twice since we bought them," volunteered Mike Connors, the gentlemanly and garrulous bartender. "Chuck is a consistent performer, but he's in the kindergarten class compared with 'Galway Paddy' and 'Hoxie' Clarke. The former one night lapped up seventy-five scuttles of beer in about six hours and walked out the

EDITORIAL COMMENT

GAS METERS TOO FAST. Worcester Post: National and even international interest has centered on the gas meter work of Governor Hughes' public service commission in New York. It is one of those things that are of universal interest and there's a reason for it.

The commission's first fiscal year closed June 30 and its report of its work shows 613 meters tested, on complaints, of which 750 or 124 per cent were correct, 234 per cent, slow and 33 per cent, fast. Of the latter 41 per cent, were more than 2 per cent fast.

With gas costing 37 cents per 1000 to make as developed by Mr. Hughes in the public service investigation, sold at 15 cents, and this much wind also going in at the same price, there ought to be a fair profit in the business.

WHEN THE BIRDS GET UP.

Lowell Sun: What time do the birds get up in the morning? That first drowsy fluting outside your window is at a very early hour, anyway—you are probably too sleepy to look at the clock.

It sounds as if the little songsters were saying a prayer of thanks for the new day, though the old proverb cynically supposes he is only getting up to look for the early worm.

Early worm indeed! We suspect that worm must have sat up all night to be out and about before the birds.

FOR COURT REVIEW.

Johnston Democrat: There is one plank in the prohibition platform that we heartily endorse. It demands a "court review of postoffice department rulings." In no other department of the public service has arbitrary rule been further extended than in that of the postoffice. A great body of rules and regulations has been promulgated without warrant of law and rules and regulations are enforced regardless of reason and justice. A practical censorship is exercised by the postmaster general and in more than one instance private property has been destroyed and personal rights invaded on some pretext or another which could not possibly have stood the test of a court review. The prohibitionists ought to make this the paramount issue of their campaign.

LESSON TO RECKLESS DRIVERS.

Lawrence Eagle:—In police court yesterday a man was fined for reckless driving. Briefly stated he carelessly drove upon the sidewalk and one wheel struck a little girl, knocking her down. It so happened that this man was arrested, brought into court and fined. The probability is, however, that 20 or 30 other drivers were just as reckless Saturday as was this one. Very likely they did not run over anyone and so were not summoned to court. The action was the same however, and they were simply fortunate.

As Judge aHoney intimated, there is altogether too much reckless driving about town. The drivers of heavy wagons take too many chances in their haste. There should be a stop in this reckless running round corners and driving near sidewalks where children are at play or older people passing.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

While the blue waters of the Sound were slipping by Monday afternoon and New York was disappearing in the distance, Baron Schlippenbach, the newly arrived Russian Consul-General to New York, on the afternoon of the flag ship Helena of the Seawanhaka Corinthian Yacht Club, presented to Frank Seymour Hastings, executor of the will of Grover Cleveland and vice-commodore of the Seawanhaka Corinthian Club, on behalf of the Russian Emperor the order of St. Stanislaus in recognition of his services as president of the Russian Symphony society.

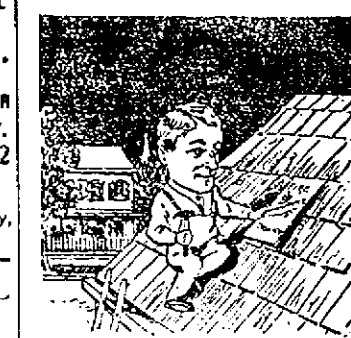

Fifty or more guests, representatives of the various New York yacht clubs, prominent Russians and officers of the Seawanhaka Yacht Club as guests of Frank J. Gould, assembled on the deck of the Helena about 3 o'clock to welcome Baron Schlippenbach. When anchor was weighed and the Helena's nose was pointed up the Sound, all hands adjourned to the afterdeck, where the Russian Consul General made a presentation speech. The Baron referred to the great historical friendship between Russia and the United States and the necessity for its preservation.

November. An accident to one of his legs several years ago while he was in Africa and a further weakening of his system when he was in Cuba early last year had their effects on the progress of the disease.

Senior Menocal was born in Cuba of a family prominent there. He came to this country in 1871, early twenties to study at the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute at Troy. He was graduated from that school in 1872 and returned to Cuba. From 1873 until 1889 he was second in command in the engineering department of the Havana water-works. He left that place to be engineer of the Department of the Public Works in New York city. He remained in the service of this city until 1872, when he was appointed to his place in the navy.

He was chief engineer of all the government of a ship canal from the practicability of a ship canal from the Atlantic to the Pacific both in Nicaragua and Panama. He was engineer for the Maritime Canal company of Nicaragua. He made all the plans and estimates for the ship canal through Nicaragua. In 1875 he was in Paris as a delegate to the canal congress there, appointed to the place by President Hayes. He was decorated there as a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor by President Grevy.

At the meeting of the Atlanta Baptist Ministers association Monday, there was a chorus of cheers when Dr. John E. White, pastor of the Second Baptist church, in defending John D. Rockefeller declared:

"John D. Rockefeller has always been a good Baptist and a good philanthropist. I think it is abominable way he is traduced. We all know that Mr. Rockefeller is not the demon he is painted.

"While we are not in sympathy with the Standard Oil, we are aware that Mr. Rockefeller has always been a good Baptist and a good philanthropist and he deserves our appreciation for what he has done for the Baptist church and for education."

After the cheering subsided the association gave its approval of Dr. White's words and voted thanks to Mr. Rockefeller for the work he has done for education. The action of the ministers will be reported to Mr. Rockefeller by Dr. White, who leaves tomorrow for Cleveland to serve in Mr. Rockefeller's Euclid avenue church during the absence of the pastor.

RODE 29 MILES

Motor Cycle Ran Away

GREAT BARRINGTON, July 22.—

Although Charles McCarthy was not qualified as driver of a motor cycle, he has passed a thrilling unofficial obstacle test in 30 miles of continuous riding at high speed. McCarthy wanted to ride a machine, so yesterday he got astride one, and a friend started it for him. Then the scenery began to change.

The machine took McCarthy through the main street at a rapid clip and started toward Sheffield. He dodged the teams and managed to keep out of the way of the trolley.

Soon he began to realize that he could not stop the machine, as he did not know how, and on he continued to Sheffield, a distance of six miles. He cried out for somebody to stop him, but no one was fast enough to catch him nor would they take a chance of being run down if they could reach him.

On to Ashley Falls he went, over the railroad crossing, fortunately without meeting a train, and passed through Ashley Falls and to Canaan, a distance of 12 miles.

At Canaan he could not stop, but the roads were such that he could get turned around in the direction for home. He then went back over the 12 miles without an accident, but when he reached Great Barrington he could not stop and on he went to Housatonic, five more miles, making 29 in all.

Then the machine broke down and he was released.

BOSTON, July 22.—In the municipal court yesterday before Judge Burke, Charles H. Stone of 43 Lenox street, Roxbury, charged with selling watered milk, was found guilty on 10 counts and fined $50 on each count, a total of $500, said to be the largest fine for this offence in the history of the state. He was charged with 12 counts by the inspectors, who claimed they had found from 10 to 25 percent water in his milk. The other two counts, that of selling and keeping watered milk in his possession were placed on file.

WANTS DIVORCE

Virginia Harned Sues

E. H. Sothorn

RENO, Nev., July 22.—Virginia Harned Sothorn has filed in the district court here a suit asking divorce from her husband, Edward H. Sothorn. The document is sealed and only the principle is available, but details are being furnished by theatrical friends of both parties to the suit.

There is considerable surprise and much talk about Reno over the fact that Virginia Harned is supposed to have been residing in this state for six months, a portion of that time in Reno. She has managed to hold residence here six months without her story breaking. Her whereabouts at the present time is the baffling question. Her attorneys fail to discuss the matter in any manner whatever. The details will therefore remain a mystery for some months, until the case is called in court.

Mr. Sothorn is in town with Mr. Ward. Yesterday they held a consultation with attorneys. Mr. Sothorn refuses to discuss the matter, saying it will all come out in due time.

From what can be learned about the corridors, a contest is not expected, as it is thought the matter has been satisfactorily settled between the contesting parties. It has been a bit of scandal in theatrical circles for some time. In fact, a short time after the dramatic marriage of Sothorn and his wife, some six years ago, it was said the union would be broken and Nevada courts would be the setting of the scene.

ASSAULT CASE

Young Man Was Accused by Officer Palmer

The case of John F. Sullivan, charged with drunkenness and assaulting Patrolman George B. Palmer, was heard in police court this morning before Judge Pickman and it proved to be one of the most interesting cases heard in the local court room for a long time.

The case grew out of trouble which occurred in Tilden street on the morning of the Fourth of July when Palmer placed Sullivan under arrest alleging that he was drunk. According to the officer Sullivan resisted arrest and it was necessary to club him, the result being that Sullivan's head was opened in two different places.

Several police officers testified to Sullivan's condition, all claiming that he was intoxicated at the time he reached the police station.

John McMahon, who is over six feet in his stocking feet, and who aspires to become a member of the police force, testified for the government but counsel for defense gave his testimony an awful racking.

THE TESTIMONY.
Patrolman George B. Palmer, was the first witness called and he testified in part as follows: "On the morning of July 4th, about 5:40 o'clock, while passing through Tilden street, I saw Sullivan and two companions asleep on a doorstep. I awoke his friends, but was unable to arouse him. I asked them if they would wake him up and they tried to do so but without success. I then pulled him up off the step and as I did he struck me on the side of the head. I don't know whether he was awake at the time he struck at me, neither do I know whether or not he knew who I was at the time he struck me. After striking me he aimed several other blows at me and said he could lick two like me."

"I then began to tussle with him and threw him to the ground and held him there. He kept struggling and I found it necessary to choke him in order that he would submit to arrest. I told him when he had enough to put up his hands and then I took out my handcuffs and tried to put them on his wrists. I succeeded in getting one of the cuffs on one of his wrists when he started to struggle again and I called on some people who gathered to assist me but they refused to do so. Later I succeeded in getting both hands cuffed."

On cross-examination Patrolman Palmer testified that when he had handcuffed Sullivan the latter fought so that he found it necessary to use his club. The first blow of the club did not seem to have much effect on Sullivan, but the second blow broke open his head and felled him to the ground. The officer said that Sullivan struck him about a dozen times, but also acknowledged that the following day there were no marks or bruises on his hit Sullivan over the head. He hit him three times and missed the fourth. Both of Sullivan's hands were securely handcuffed.

"I shouted, 'Don't murder the boy in front of my place.'"

On cross-examination Deputy Welch asked: "Did he, Palmer, pull a gun after he had threatened to shoot the first person who interfered?"

"No, he pulled a club," said witness.

PATRICK J. JEWETT.

Patrick J. Jewett, residing at 725 Suffolk street, said he was sitting on a doorstep in Tilden street in the morning when Sullivan came along and sat down beside him. Sullivan was sober, but was tired and soon dropped off to sleep. His head was resting on my lap when the officer came along and told me to arouse him.

"I could not awaken Sullivan fast enough for the officer and the latter then jerked Sullivan off the steps and one of Sullivan's hands struck the officer in the chest."

The remainder of the testimony offered by witnesses was in corroboration of that offered by Mr. McDonough, the former witness.

Witness said Sullivan did not resist arrest at any time. He said the officer was so excited he had difficulty in getting the cuffs on. One of the cuffs was so locked and the officer was shaking so that he could not get the cuff open.

Edward Thomas Mahoney, of 22 Tilden street, said he saw Sullivan about three o'clock that morning on the South common. He was alone at the time but there was a stranger with witness. The trio kept together till about half past five when they sat down on the doorsteps in Tilden street. Sullivan was sober according to the witness of his own knowledge.

McMahon then went on to tell what happened from the time Patrolman Palmer arrived until Sullivan was placed in the patrol wagon. His testimony was corroborated and that of hearing Patrolman Palmer threaten to pull his gun on anyone who tried to interfere.

Mr. McMahon said he did not interfere for he knew if he did he would be arrested.

DID NOT KNOW SULLIVAN.

George R. Pendleton, of 130 Tilden street, said he never knew Sullivan to speak of. He left the South common about 5:20 o'clock and passed the three young men in Tilden street on his way home. After being in the house for some minutes he heard a commotion and looking out saw a crowd. He said he saw a strap going on and rushing out of the house he saw Sullivan on the ground with Palmer on top of him and the officer was choking Sullivan. After Sullivan was cuffed Palmer drew his club and struck Sullivan three times on the head. Witness said he thought the first blow rendered Sullivan senseless.

Noon recess.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The case was resumed at two o'clock and the cross-examination of Mr. Pendleton was resumed. He said he did not go to the officer's assistance because he is not a citizen of Lowell, as he will not be 21 years of age till next Saturday.

James M. Curran, said he was at the corner of Tilden and Arkwright streets and saw the officer pull Sullivan off the steps, put him on the ground and placing one knee on the young man's chest, commenced to choke him.

JAMES F. McMAHON.

James F. McMahon, a brother of John McMahon, who testified for the government this morning, said that he saw Sullivan at two o'clock in the morning and he was sober.

CITY PHYSICIAN.

City Physician Smith was called and said he was called to the police station on the morning of the Fourth and examined Sullivan. He found a cut on the forehead between one and one-half and two inches long. He did not find any other cut as Sullivan did not want the wound sewed. Witness said that Sullivan did not show signs of intoxication.

Cross-examined witness said he did not know whether the captain or some one else telephoned for him.

"Do you recollect coming into my office about 8:30 o'clock that morning?"

"I don't remember."

"Have you knowledge or is your memory defective?"

"That question is impertinent."

"Answer the question."

"I won't because it is impertinent."

The doctor said Sullivan refused to allow him to take stitches in the wound.

DR. MEEHAN.

Dr. Patrick J. Meehan was the next witness called and testified that he examined Sullivan about 8:20 o'clock and the latter was suffering from two cuts about as deep as the skull, one being two inches and the other two and a half inches long. Witness sewed the wounds. He was sober at the time witness saw him.

THE DEFENDANT.

John F. Sullivan, the defendant, was then called and testified in part as follows: "I am 25 years of age and work up to 5:30 o'clock the day before the Fourth, went to Mahoney's boarding house after which I went to my room in Dutton street, saw parade in Centralville and then returned to the city. Later I met Miss Mahan and went home with her about two o'clock after which I went to the South common. I met McMahon and another fellow on the common about 2:30 o'clock."

"At daybreak we went down to Tilden street and sat on McDonough's steps. I did not have a drop of liquor the day before or that morning, and have not tasted a drop of liquor for 14 months."

"I fell asleep on McDonough's steps. The first thing I remember after I awoke I was on the ground with McMahon on top of me."

Then the officer pulled his club and cer Palmer choking me. I don't remember doing or saying a thing to him. There was a handcuff on one hand and he said to me, 'When you get enough put your hand up.' Mr. McDonough assisted the officer in handcuffing the other hand.

"When I was handcuffed I turned over and spit out as he had been choking me and he struck me over the head with his club. That's all I remember."

"When I arrived at the police station and had been there for a while Dr. Smith came in, but I refused to allow him to attend me."

SULLIVAN'S GUARDIAN.

Martin J. Courtney, superintendent of the board of charities, said he had known Sullivan since he was born, having been his guardian, and brought him up. He then testified as to his character.

THOMAS MAHONEY.

Thomas Mahoney, a boarding house keeper, also testified as to Sullivan's good character. He said he called at the police station at nine o'clock to bail him out, but had to wait till 20 minutes after nine when the bail commission arrived. Witness said Sullivan was perfectly sober.

Cross-examined I saw Officer Palmer after I heard of the trouble, but did not say to him 'I'll make trouble for you for this.'"

Thomas F. Burns, a roofer, said that Sullivan has been working for him since April and during that time he never saw the sign of liquor on him.

On rebuttal Deputy Welch called Patrolman Palmer to the stand, and asked:

"Did Mr. McDonough or anyone else assist you?"

"No, sir."

"Did Mr. McDonough offer you any assistance?"

"No, sir; none at all."

"Why did you interfere with him?"

"When we find anyone asleep we always wake them up."

"When you shook him did he stand up?"

"Not immediately; then I pulled him up."

This concluded the evidence and the arguments were then made.

SULLIVAN GUILTY.

After a brief review of the evidence which he eliminated all other manifestations of drunkenness from the case except that the defendant smelled of liquor and stamping the store of the officer's abuse of the young man while the latter was handcuffed as ridiculous, Judge Pickman found the defendant guilty on both counts. He ordered the complaint for drunkenness on file and imposed a fine of $5 for assault. Counsel for defense, after requesting the court to take the complaint of drunkenness from the file and impose the ordinary $2 fine for drunkenness, appealed from both sentences.

His object in demanding that a fine be imposed for drunkenness was to enable him to appeal from that as well as from the sentence for assault upon an officer.

Man Charged With Cruelly Driving Horse

SEVERAL DRUNKS DISPOSED OF

Judge Pickman Shows Deserved Leniency

James A. Riley was charged with entering and remaining without right in the dwelling house of Ella M. Riley, also with cruelly driving a horse on the 15th of July. He pleaded guilty to both complaints and asked for a continuance till Friday morning owing to the fact that his attorney is out of town. He wanted to be released on his own recognizance but the court could not see his way clear to comply with the request and held him under $100 bonds for his appearance Friday.

Daniel M. Donohue, a third offender pleaded guilty. His case was continued till Saturday morning.

Conradus O'Hearn, a fourth offender, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to three months in jail.

Michael J. Burns and John H. Brady, second offenders, were fined $5 each.

Two first offenders were taxed $2 each.

Mary Donohue, drunk, received a suspended sentence of one month in jail.

SENT TO JAIL.

Henry Westerstrand, who up to about six months ago was a hard working, industrious and sober man, was before the court this morning charged with being drunk. He pleaded guilty, but the court was inclined to be lenient, though decided that the man's condition would warrant a few days rest in jail. Judge Pickman continued the case till Saturday and in the meantime Westerstrand will stay in jail. Judge Pickman said: "I am going to put you away for two or three days where you won't have a chance to get run. You have no appetite for rum, and it would not do to have you go out now in your present condition."

Philip M. McCaffrey, charged with failing to provide proper support for his wife and minor children, was sentenced to two months in jail, sentence being suspended and he was placed in the hands of the probation officer.

Isabella Ryder and Mary E. Roper were taken from a house in an alleyway in the rear of lower Market street yesterday morning by Patrolman Wilson G. Bumps, and were booked at the police station for drunkenness.

The arresting officer said that the house was filthy, that it was frequented by men and women and used as a resort for drunken carousals.

The Ryder woman was sentenced to ten days in jail while the Roper woman was placed on probation.

WATER FAMINE CALL TO LABOR

Threatens the City of Quebec

QUEBEC, July 22.—Never in the days of sieges, even in earliest days, when Indians surrounded the infant settlement, did Quebec experience the famine of the last 24 hours, for the water mains burst and the city, with its thousands of visitors, was without water.

Champagne, beer, whiskey, unlimited, but scarcely a drop of plain water was to be had. Corks popping everywhere, but not a plebeian faucet running. Fifty cents for a bottle of some kind of fancy water to wash one's face and hands, and baths beyond price.

It was all too realistic reversion to the pioneer days of no bathtubs. Things were rapidly approaching the crisis for the celebration when last evening water began trickling through the pipes. It was given a heartier welcome than the Prince of Wales will get today. Pageants and parades were almost abandoned for soap and towels, and the whole town fell to washing.

THE PRESIDENT

To Look Over Judge Taft's Speech

CANDIDATE REFUSES AN ELEPHANT

Offered to Him as a Mascot

HOT SPRINGS, Va., July 22.—President Roosevelt is to review in advance the speech Judge Taft will deliver in Cincinnati next Tuesday.

"I have decided to make this speech what may be my most important utterance of the campaign. I have the highest regard for the president's judgment regarding the subjects to be dealt with, and a keen appreciation of his wonderful ability for forceful expressions. I want his judgment and his criticism, and this cannot be satisfactorily obtained at long range, so I have decided to go to Oyster Bay."

This statement made yesterday by Mr. Taft indicates his view regarding the announcement of his intended trip which, he says, is to be taken on his own and not on the president's initiative.

He will leave here with Mr. Carpenter, his secretary, tonight. On reaching Jersey City, Thursday afternoon, he will enter an automobile which will take him through New York city to Sagamore Hill without delay.

Mr. Taft has been invited to spend the night as the guest of the president, but if he finds it possible to get his speech in the hands of the printer in New York before Friday, he will return to that city and occupy quarters reserved for him at the Manhattan hotel.

In any event, he will leave New York for Cincinnati Friday afternoon. This he says will give him two days there before the notification ceremonies are upon him.

Should Mrs. Taft decide to go with her husband Tuesday, she will go to Cincinnati direct from here, thus avoiding the fatigue of the journey to New York.

The plan for President Roosevelt's participation in the final review of the speech, which is regarded as having a number of significant features from a political viewpoint, was finally decided upon at four o'clock yesterday morning, that being the time of the exchange of the last telegrams between the candidate and the president.

It was made clear that throughout the preparation of the speech, which is undergoing final revision at the hands of Mr. Taft, frequent and extended consultation has been had with the president. The mails, the telegraph and the telephone have been used for this purpose.

In emphasizing the political importance of the speech, Mr. Taft said yesterday that the first intention to have the utterance only a simple and formal acknowledgment of the notification had been finally abandoned. In view of the growing importance and number of subjects which seemed to crowd themselves forward for consideration, the speech will doubtless contain approximately twelve thousand words.

No forecast of the subjects discussed and the method of their treatment will be made in advance with the consent of Mr. Taft.

Representative Joseph J. Gaines, of West

Virginia, dropped in to pay a neighborly call on Mr. Taft.

While here, Mr. Gaines spoke his mind against a national campaign publicity law, which would tend, he believed, to discredit the personal integrity of campaign managers, and lower, rather than raise, the standard of morality in that quarter.

He is chairman of the house committee on the election of president, vice president and members of congress, which has to do with such legislation.

Judge Taft made his best golf score of the season yesterday, and played through several heavy showers, his partner being Sir Nathaniel Bourne, of Oregon, and each made the score of 31, while Frank B. Kellogg and J. H. Hoyt, of Cleveland, went down to defeat, 39 to 30.

Mr. Taft received the following telegram yesterday from Chairman Hitchcock of the national committee, and declined an elephant, offered by W. W. Powers, of Rhode Island:

"Pikes Peak, Summit, Colorado, July 21. 'Hon. William H. Taft, Hot Springs, Va.: 'Republican leaders from every state west of the Missouri river join with me in sending you greetings from top of Pikes Peak. We are now on top and except to be on top when the returns come in next November.

(Signed) 'Frank H. Hitchcock.' 'Riverside, R. I., July 21. 'Would you accept free one of the Powers' hippodrome elephants as republican party emblem and mascot in fall campaign. You may remember seeing them at Cumberland, Md. Please reply at my expense. Providence, R. I., care Crescent Park.

(Signed) 'W. W. Powers.' The answer to this was:

"I am very much obliged to you for your generous offer, but I am afraid your elephant were I to accept it would constitute a mascot for the republican party. You are very much better able to take care of him than I, and I hope that wherever he is he will find a mascot both for you and for me.

(Signed) 'W. H. Taft.'

SHOT INTRUDER Woman Says Be Tried to Assault Her

WATERTOWN, July 22.—An 18-year-old woman, known in East Watertown as one of the prettiest belles of the Arden colony, was taken into custody late yesterday afternoon on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon upon a man who, she asserted, had entered her home against her wishes, and who was arrested on a charge of alleged assault on her.

The young woman is Mrs. Kaganosh Bogholan, who was married five years ago, when only 13 years old, to Daniel Bogholan, a Cambridge barber, and who resides with her husband and their 4-year-old child at 32 Crawford street, East Watertown.

The man whom she shot and seriously injured is Kerop Jallian, 7 years old, who boards at the home of Charles Ohanlian at 22 Crawford street, two houses from the Bogholan home. Up to last week he had been employed in the factory of the Hood rubber company. He gave up his employment it is said because of the infatuation for the pretty wife of his neighbor.

According to the story told by Mrs. Bogholan, as well as a number of neighbors, Jallian had sought entrance to her home several times in the last few days when her husband had left for Cambridge to attend to his employment. Each time she says, she implored him to leave the dwelling.

LARGE DECREASE IN NUMBER OF IMMIGRANTS ARRIVING IN JUNE

WASHINGTON, July 22.—There has been a decrease of 79 per cent in the number of immigrants who arrived in this country in June as against June, 1907, in that month last year 154,724 immigrants landed here from all countries while in June, 1908, only 31,947 arrived, according to the monthly report issued today. For nearly nine months, the number of immigrants arriving here has been decreasing. The decrease began in October last and immigration officials attribute it to the financial and commercial depression, the knowledge of which was communicated by agents here to friends and relatives in their former homes. The largest decrease shown is from Italy. In June, 1907, 41,641 persons arrived from that country, but only 2015 Italians came last month.

The Russian empire and Finland contributed for June last 6292 aliens as against 22,112 a year ago. France shows the smallest number of immigrants from populous European countries, sending 471 as against 518 a year ago.

Chinese immigration, according to the report, is decidedly small. From that country 120 persons were admitted as against 51 for June, 1907. From Japan came 360 persons as against 2224 in June a year ago.

There were 543 persons debarraded, and of these 187 were kept out because they were suffering from trachoma, a disease of the eyes, and 22 because they were likely to become public charges.

KILLED BROTHER BISHOP POTTER

Frank Baldasara Was Crazy by Jealousy

STONINGTON, Me., July 22.—Crazed by jealousy over the attentions of his brother to his sweetheart, who lived in this town, Frank Baldasara, aged 30 years, last night shot and instantly killed Antonio Baldasara, aged 25 years, in an Italian quarrel in camp in Cortez Island. Baldasara then turned the weapon on his uncle, Emedeo Serretti, aged 40 years, who interfered to prevent his escape and shot him through the neck. The latter is seriously wounded, but expected to live.

He was about to leave the camp where he had been employed for four years past and it is claimed had made threats against his brother. His anger was aroused last night, by some remarks made by Antonio, whereupon he drew out a revolver and fired point blank at his brother. The first bullet went straight through the heart, another was sent into the man's breast as he lay on the floor and still another into his arm.

Serretti, who was one of a party of four present, grabbed his nephew Frank in an endeavor to stop the shooting, and was wounded.

Baldasara made his escape to the island and has not been apprehended. The island has been surrounded by the police and it is believed that the man will be taken today.

THE LATE BISHOP POTTER.

Died at His Summer Home Last Night

COOPERSTOWN, N. Y., July 22.—Henry Codman Potter, seventh Protestant Episcopal bishop of the diocese of New York, died last night at his summer home here after an illness of several weeks. The bishop was unconscious all day, and the end, which came at 8:35 last night, was peaceful. He was 74 years of age.

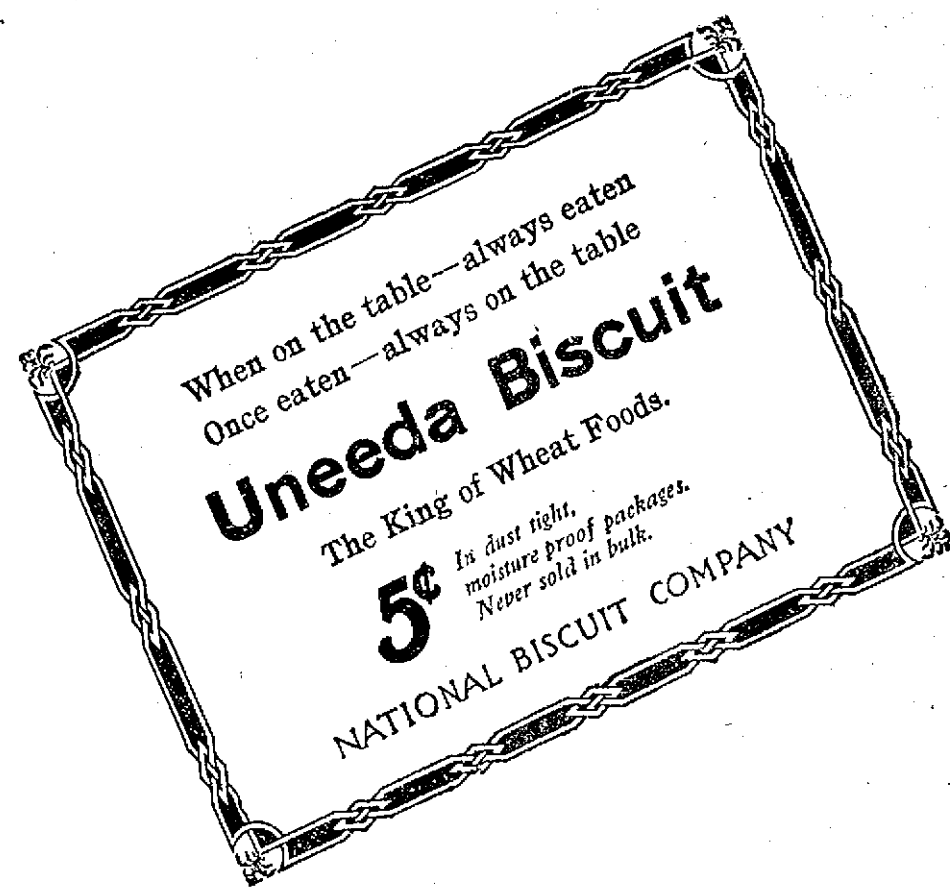

Gathered at the bedside of the dying churchman were Mrs. Potter, his wife; Mrs. Mason C. Davidge, who came from California, and Miss Sarah Potter, his two daughters; Alonzo Potter, his son; Edward S. Clark, Stephen Clark and Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Clark. Mrs. Charles Russell and William Hyde, who are abroad, have been notified.

Death was due primarily to embolism in the right leg following a long attack of liver and stomach trouble and the end had been foreseen for several days by the physicians. Bishop Potter suffered a severe relapse Monday morning, and though oxygen was given, his decline was gradual and he sank into unconsciousness early yesterday and it lasted until the end.

The physicians issued the following announcement of death last night: "Bishop Potter passed peacefully away at 8:35 tonight. His strength gradually failed during the past 24 hours and there was no physical suffering or pain."

"J. E. Januila, M. D." "M. L. Bassett, M. D."

No arrangements for the funeral have as yet been made, but it is probable that services will be held here and that the body will be removed to New York where a public funeral will be held at Grace church.

MISS McCAUSLAN

Tells About Affidavit Against Gould

NEW YORK, July 22.—Mrs. Ben Teal, wife of a prominent theatrical manager, and one of the three persons arrested in connection with the alleged plot to manufacture divorce evidence against Frank Gay Gould, the millionaire, was compelled to spend nearly four hours in a cell in the Tombs last evening before bail could be secured.

Great consideration was shown Mrs. Teal in the Centre street police court, where she was arraigned with Mrs. Julia Fleming, a seamstress, and Henry S. Mousley, a private detective, the other two who figured in the alleged conspiracy. When Magistrate Corrigan held the trio in $5000 bail each, Mousley quickly found a bondsman, but the two women were not so fortunate.

Mrs. Teal had to be supported on her way to the Tombs by Mrs. Fleming. She was weeping hysterically.

It was not until 8 o'clock that Mr. Teal succeeded in getting bail for his wife. As soon as Mrs. Teal was free, she jumped into a carriage and was driven away. Mr. Teal did not get a bondsman for Mrs. Fleming.

Miss McCauslan, who says she is 18 years old, and describes herself as a milliner, in her affidavit says she went to the Teal apartment on July 16. Mrs. Fleming was present. While there Mrs. Teal asked her if she wanted to earn some money, and upon her replying that she did, Mrs. Teal, she affirms, said:

"You know that I sub-let my apartments in the Glenmore to Miss Devoe. Now, Mrs. Gould is suing her husband for a divorce and he has been calling on Miss Devoe at the Glenmore. The stronger the evidence is against Mr. Gould, the more alimony Mrs. Gould will get. You have been to my apartment in the Glenmore while I occupied that apartment, and you know the arrangement of the rooms."

"Then," the affidavit continues, "Mrs. Teal told deponent what would be required of her would be to testify in the said divorce suit that while deponent was in the Glenmore she saw Mr. Gould, the defendant in the action, come out of the bedroom of Miss Devoe; that if deponent would make an affidavit to that effect, and would give testimony before the referee in said suit, to the same effect, the deponent would be given about $600 in money and would be sent to the country and paid an allowance; that they would give deponent at least $100 down upon her signing the affidavit."

"Deponent refused to make affidavit in question or to give any testimony because deponent knew it was a lie, and that she would not swear to a lie."

The affidavit goes on to declare that both Mrs. Teal and Mrs. Fleming urged her to change her mind.

BRUTAL MURDER

Woman's Throat Cut and Body Crushed Into Small Closet

BOSTON, July 22.—A brutal murder was disclosed last night by the discovery of the body of Mrs. Emma Payrow, aged 35 years, gagged and with her throat cut, crushed into a small closet in one of the apartments at 206 Columbus avenue, in the Back Bay.

The woman's body was found by her husband, Charles Payrow, when he returned to his room late last evening. Not finding his wife in their rooms, he began a search and was attracted by blood marks which led to a closet. Opening the door, he found the body of his wife crowded into the small space. In her mouth was a gag and her throat had been slit from ear to ear.

The police, upon being notified, placed an officer in charge of the rooms, and they will give out no information regarding the murder. Little is known of Mr. or Mrs. Payrow by those who occupy the apartments.

EX-GOV. DOUGLAS

May Be Bryan's Campaign Manager

BOSTON, July 22.—There was a report current in political circles last night that the chairmanship of the democratic national committee had been offered to former Governor William L. Douglas. Despite the persistency of the rumor, those closest to Mr. Douglas professed ignorance of the matter. Those who gave credence to the story generally expressed doubt that the suggested chairman would accept such a proffer. Their opinion was based upon Mr. Douglas' well-understood disinclination to again enter actively into politics.

Mr. Douglas, who is spending the summer at his summer home at Monmouth beach, was cruising on his yacht yesterday and was not expected here until today. In his absence none would vouch for the statement that he had been asked to undertake the management of Mr. Bryan's campaign.

LOOKS LIKE DOUGLAS.

FAIRVIEW, Lincoln, Neb., July 22.—It now seems almost certain that the new chairman of the democratic national committee will be former Governor William Douglas of Massachusetts. The fact that he is being much sought after to take the place became known here yesterday, following the departure of George Fred Williams, who conferred last night with Mr. Bryan after coming direct from Massachusetts. It was not generally known here that Mr. Williams had returned from the Denver convention. It is presumed that he conferred with Governor Douglas about the matter at the request of Mr. Bryan while in the east. The appointment of Gov. Douglas as national chairman, it was said, would meet the requirements which it is desired that the national chairman shall possess. He is a man of large means and political experience, and his attitude on the tariff question completely meets the democratic idea. When asked last night for a confirmation of the report, Mr. Bryan said he could not discuss the matter until after the meeting of the subcommittee in Chicago Saturday next.

MANCHESTER VETS.

GETTING READY FOR LOWELL MEETING.

The members of the Manchester Veterans Firemen's association are making great plans for attending the annual muster of the New England league, which will be held in this city Thursday, Aug. 20. The company will have a special train for the transportation of its members and the many friends who are expected to accompany them on this occasion, and one or more cars will be reserved for ladies and their escorts. It is expected that a full band will be taken along to furnish music.

The prizes offered for the Lowell muster aggregate a large sum, and are particularly attractive. All are in cash. The first four companies in the play will receive respectively $200, $150, $100 and $50, this being the limit allowed by the association rules, but there will also be given to these first four prize winners, $100, $75, $50 and $25 in their order. Still more money will reward the winners. The first six companies in the order at the finish of the play will receive $50 each; and the next twelve will receive $30 each. For the parade, a prize of $50 will go to the company coming the farthest distance, and $100 to the company having the most men in line.

The Uncle Sam Veteran Firemen's association, at a meeting held the night before last, voted to attend the muster with the band, and compete with the hope of gaining some of the numerous prizes which are offered.
